A GOOD FEELING

BETWEEN ADMIRALS DEWEY AND VON DIEDRICHS.

LETTERS WERE EXCHANGED

THE GERMAN CONGRATULATED DEWEY ON PROMOTION.

DEWEY GLAD AND HE SAID SO

SENSATIONAL TALES WERE MADE BY NEWSPAPERS.

Berlin, July 5.—The Neueste Nachrichten today publishes the letters exchanged between Admirals Dewey and Von Diederichs.

The latter's letter is dated March 17 and reads: "Sir:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of March 4 informing me your excellency has been promoted admiral. While congratulating your excellency sincerely upon this new token of recognition, I beg you to believe your good news has given me the greatest satisfaction. I have the honor to be your excellency's obedient servant. Diederichs."

Admiral Dewey replied April 16, saying: "Dear Admiral Von Diederichs:—I wish to thank you most heartily for your cordial letter of congratulations upon my promotion. It is a great pleasure to me to feel my advancement is a source of satisfaction to you and I rejoice that our differences have been of newspaper manufacture. Hoping to have the pleasure of meeting you again before leaving this station, I am sincerely, "Dewey."

RIOTS CONTINUE IN SPAIN.

POLICE OF BARCELONA IN CONSTANT CONFLICT.

Many Persons Injured—It is Now Realized That Belgium Had a Narrow Escape.

Barcelona, July 5.—There was a renewal of the disorders here last night. Bands of rioters attacked the church of Santa Matrona and the Jesuit school. The police charged and the mob pelted them with stones.

Later the police were reinforced by mounted gendarmes and infantry and finally scattered the mob.

Many conflicts took place and many people were wounded. The theaters are closed.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

New York, July 5.—A dispatch to the Herald from Brussels says: The Belgian kingdom has escaped a very strong shake-up.

The socialists who are admirably disciplined, had purchased firearms and collected stores of every kind to fight the police, the constabulary and all representatives of authority and organize a real insurrection if M. Van Den Peregboom's bill had not been withdrawn.

The danger has subsided for the present. It is thought, however, that the special committee to which the three alternative bills have been referred will fail to agree, and that a dissolution of parliament, with an appeal to the country on the question of universal suffrage, will ensue.

Should the committee agree on any bill distasteful to the socialists and liberals, an insurrection will only have been postponed a few days or weeks.

The opposition is in the greatest earnestness—ready to lose and spill blood.

Meanwhile the truce is complete, and with the assistance of a downpour of rain, Brussels is comparatively quiet tonight, although the "Marsellaise" and "O. Van Der Peregboom" are freely using under umbrellas.

REV. LIVERMORE DEAD.

Melrose, Mass., July 5.—Rev. D. H. Livermore died at his home today aged eighty-one years. Dr. Livermore's life work has been mainly along the lines in which his wife, Mary A. Livermore, has become distinguished.

THE SCHELL CASES.

Referee Chapin this morning resumed the hearing of the involuntary bankruptcy cases against the former directors of the Schell Investment company. The testimony of George W. Linden, Hiram Porter and

Mrs. Louis Geller was taken today, and the evidence is along the lines of former testimony taken.

SHOULD BE PRESIDENTS.

At least two Fort Wayne homes were gladdened yesterday by the arrival of baby boys who will hereafter share birthdays with Uncle Sam. A ten-pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Blitz, and another came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Romary, of 129 Erie street.

THE GLACIER AT COLOMBO.

Colombo, Ceylon, July 5.—The United States refrigerating ship Glacier, from New York May 17, has arrived here.

PINGREE'S LAW IS KILLED.

DETROIT STREET RAILWAY MEASURE KNOCKED OUT.

Michigan Supreme Court Declares the Commission to Be Unconstitutional.

Lansing, Mich., July 5.—The Michigan supreme court at noon today decided the case brought to test the validity of the McLeod law, which authorized the appointment of the Detroit Street railway commission, whose object was the purchase and municipal ownership and operation of street railways in Detroit. The decision is that the law is unconstitutional; that there is no such office as the "Detroit railway commission," that Governor Pingree and the other commissioners have no title thereto, and that judgment of ouster must be entered against them. The Detroit plan for municipal ownership has been temporarily blocked by the legal difficulties in the way of holding a special election on the question. By today's decision, all authority is taken from the commission.

THE FOURTH IN PORTO RICO.

San Juan de Porto Rico, July 5.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The Fourth was celebrated here yesterday with great enthusiasm, the events being a military and civic parade, a barbecue, athletic sports, fireworks and patriotic speeches. Governor General Davis gave a reception which was attended by all the prominent residents. The republican party of Porto Rico, in convention here today, adopted a platform and passed a resolution to support the government in every measure tending to Americanize the island. The convention also endorsed the work done in behalf of the island by Drs. Hena and Zeno, now in New York. The celebration of independence day and the holding of the convention brought to this city from outside towns about 40,000 visitors.

COLLEGE ATHLETES SAIL.

New York, July 5.—The Yale-Harvard athletic team, which is to compete with Oxford and Cambridge, sailed today on the American liner St. Louis for England. All of the men were in excellent condition. The men were given an enthusiastic farewell at the dock and were accompanied to England by over fifty Yale and Harvard men, who go to cheer on their team. Of the team thirteen are from Harvard and nine from Yale. All the men selected were on board.

HUNTING THE OWNERS.

Deputy Sheriff Witte is in the western part of the county today trying to locate the owner of two steers, which were stolen by Albert Fox, who is now locked up in jail. Fox brought the steers to the city Tuesday and tried to sell them at Eckert's packing house, but the price was too cheap and the sheriff was notified. Fox was arrested and admitted that he picked the steers up on the roadway near Arcola, and assisted by one Smith, drove them to the city. He did not know who owned the animals and Deputy Witte has been detailed to locate him.

TERRIBLE HAVOC.

TEXAS SUFFERS INCALCULABLY FROM THE FLOODS.

SCORES OF LIVES ARE LOST

NUMBER OF DEAD MAY REACH THREE HUNDRED.

PROPERTY LOSS IS MILLIONS

WIDESPREAD DESOLATION IN VALLEY OF BRAZOS.

Houston, Texas, July 5.—A correspondent has just returned from a voyage through the flood district. The half has not been told of the havoc wrought.

The disaster is so appalling that description is not possible. After this flood will come sickness undoubtedly. What a week ago was the fairest part of Texas, is now almost a Godforsaken wilderness.

The waters of the Brazos have for six days covered its valley to a depth of from six to thirty feet; where a week ago there were on every hand fields of cotton and corn and thousands of acres of water melons and cantaloupes, to-day there is slimy mud over all the vegetation. The carcasses of cows, mules, pigs, dogs and cats and many human beings, for many are missing, are under the mud.

Our party left Bryan at sunrise yesterday going to the Navasoto bottoms and to a point about three miles from Millican. Here we encountered everywhere an overflow from the Navasoto, which spread out fully two miles on either side of the Houston & Texas Central track.

Everything is under water from two to seventeen feet. It looked on all sides like a great lake and the water was so high that for a vast area it completely submerged the telegraph and telephone poles along the line.

In truth, portions of the Navasoto bottoms are even now a lake, extending four or five miles wide at certain points. I saw hundreds of house totally submerged and as many more were swept from their foundations and destroyed. The planters of the bottoms are still moving their help and whatever is left of their stock to places where they can be cared for. They are all nobly helping each other and taking refuge wherever they can, some of them seeking safety on house tops.

All the planters stated that the outside world has no conception of the floods or losses incurred by the destruction of crops, stocks and buildings.

Nearly every planter has built boats and sent them through the flooded districts to render assistance to the people and if possible save some of their drowning stock. The flood is a length of over 500 miles, a breadth of probably 50 miles, and in all this vast space damage incalculable has been done.

The loss of life will never be fully known perhaps; the bottoms were thinly settled, mostly with negro tenant farmers. Among these has been the greatest loss of life. To show the damage done the following estimates have been made by men who are in a position to know: Lives lost from one hundred to three hundred.

Loss to farmers, including crops as well as live stock, from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000.

Damage to railroads and country bridges and country roads, $3,000,000 to $4,000,000. These estimates are taken in the whole area. It is known that more than six people have met their death; that many bodies have been recovered. It is not believed that all of them will ever be recovered.

FLOODS IN KANSAS.

Humboldt, Kas., July 5.—The Neosho Valley is flooded by a twenty-four hour rain and is under six feet of water. Many fields of wheat are gone and the corn along the river will be damaged. G. Brady, a farmer, was drowned while trying to save some stock. It is feared the flood will exceed the one of 1885.

COUNCIL OF WOMEN ENDS.

London, July 5.—The sessions of the international council of women terminated today at the countess of Aberdeen's residence, at Watford, where there was a large gathering of delegates. The countess entertained the delegates at luncheon.

SOUGHT THE AMEER'S LIFE.

London, July 5.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Globe says that advices have been received there from Cabul, capital of Afghanistan, that an Afghan recently discharged a rifle point blank at the ameer, but missed him, the bullet lodging in the shoulder of a general standing near by. The advices also say that the ameer's brother, Isnak Khan, attempted to bribe a cook to poison the ameer and that when the plot was discovered Isnak fled into Russia and the cook was hanged.

BTG CONCERN INCORPORATED.

Trenton, N. J., July 5.—The Cumberland Coal and Coke company, with an authorized capital of $2,000,000, was incorporated here today. The company was organized to operate coal mines and to produce coal and coke, mainly in Tennessee. The incorporators are William T. Blessing, Cyrus O. Godfrey and Kenneth McLaren, all of Jersey City, N. J.

NEW CAPITAL IS GOING IN.

BERGHOFF BREWING COMPANY WILL ENLARGE.

Plans are maturing for largely increasing its capital stock and working capacity.

Thousands of dollars of new capital are going into the Berghoff Brewing company, and plans are well under way for additions and improvements which will make it one of the largest and strongest brewing concerns in the state. Mr. Hubert Berghoff stated to The Sentinel to-day that the new arrangement is likely to be consummated within the next sixty days.

Briefly stated, it may be said that Messrs. Thomas B. Shoaff, A. B. Trentman, Stephen and William Fleming and perhaps other new stockholders have acquired an interest in the company, and it means that the capital stock of the company will be increased to perhaps $250,000. With this added financial strength it is proposed to increase the working capacity of the brewery and fully equip it to meet the strongest competition of the country.

When asked if the plan was in any way connected with the Indianapolis proposition to combine the breweries of the state, Mr. Berghoff replied emphatically:

"No; in fact, it is just the reverse. The Berghoff company will be absolutely independent of any combine, and will be prepared to meet the strongest competition in that direction."

The Berghoff company has always been in the hands of able business men, and all the old stockholders will retain their interests. The new order of things means not only an augmentation of the financial strength of the company, but will add to it the business ability of other gentlemen who have successfully managed great enterprises. It is probable the company will be reorganized to conform to the additions now in prospect, but those interested are not yet prepared to say how extensively the plant will be improved at once. The Berghoff company may, however, be expected to broaden upon a notable scale.

ZAHM'S BOOK WITHDRAWN.

South Bend, Ind., July 5.—Within the last two days the Catholic scientific world has been startled by the rumor that Dr. Zahm, the author of "Evolution and Dogma," has withdrawn his book from circulation and that it has been placed on the index. Dr. Zahm is the first Catholic of note in America to propound evolution theories. He did not blindly follow in the path of Darwin and Spencer, but deduced results of his own from years spent in the laboratory. The book produced a profound sensation when it appeared. It was soon translated into the most important European languages. One of the last of the continental languages into which it was translated was the Italian. Dr. Zahm was made acquainted with the fact that the book was not meeting with the reception he had hoped it would and that the holy see was adverse to its further distribution.

BIG FIRE IN NEW YORK.

New York, July 5.—A six-story building at the corner of Chambers and Washington streets, was destroyed by fire today. The building, which was valued at $100,000, was occupied by Hill & Mansfield, produce merchants, W. H. Cummings, rubber merchant, the American Wood Decorating company and L. F. Barry, printer, whose joint loss is estimated at $100,000.

There was no police court this morning. Although yesterday was a holiday and everybody was enjoying it, not one arrest was made.

FOR THE CHURCH.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS ARE MEETING IN DETROIT.

IMMENSE GATHERING THERE

A BUSINESS MEETING HELD THIS MORNING.

PRESIDENT CLARK RE-ELECTED

CONVENTION PROPER WILL BEGIN THIS EVENING.

Detroit, Mich., July 5.—The officers of the United Society of Christian Endeavor did not arrive today in time to hold the annual business meeting of that corporation at the hour set, viz, 10 a. m., and the meeting was late in convening.

The special train from Boston was a victim of a temporary congestion of railroad traffic, caused by the large number of Christian Endeavor special trains en route to Detroit. The leaders of the Christian Endeavor movement were consequently late in arriving.

Skies which gave promise of occasional showers greeted the thousands of Endeavor delegates who flocked into the city from every direction today, but for a July day the atmosphere was reasonably cool.

The earlier arrivals, who had traveled all night, spent most of the morning seeking their temporary homes and getting settled for the week.

Street cars and steamers carried thousands of young strangers, who enjoyed the preliminary day of the convention in seeing the points of interest in and about the City of the Straits. The convention begins tonight with a grand welcoming rally in Tent Endeavor.

Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, president; Secretary John Willis Baer and Treasurer William Shaw arrived at 10:30. At 11 o'clock Dr. Clark called to order the annual meeting of the United society in the Hotel Cadillac. Dr. Clark addressed the members of the legal organization in part as follows:

"The past year of Christian Endeavor work has been a year of remarkable prosperity, a year signally marked by the favor of God. Christian Endeavor has now so largely occupied the field that the phenomenal growth recorded in the early years of the movement cannot be expected. Nevertheless, the growth has been very considerable and the accession of a hundred thousand to our ranks within the last twelve months is no small addition."

"I recently made a journey to the West Indies, which was full of encouragement and hope. I found in the island of Jamaica very deep and intelligent interest in the movement. In Cuba, too, I found the beginning of Christian Endeavor and a very hopeful outlook for the future."

"In other lands Christian Endeavor seems to be obtaining constantly a firmer foothold. Our British fellow Endeavorers are looking forward with great anticipation to next year's exodus to London. In Germany and France and Scandinavia the work has made very considerable advance."

"In Spain, in spite of the distraction of the war and the natural antipathy to the things American, the societies have held their own and have even increased in numbers. Russia, which a year ago was the only country without Christian Endeavor, has now been invaded by the movement and we hear of our efforts almost within the czar's household."

"Our efforts in behalf of universal peace and international arbitration have been a great success. It has received the hearty approval of many of the greatest men in Europe as well as America, and has called forth on two or three occasions telegrams and letters of approbation and gratitude from the American peace commissioners at The Hague."

"The spirit of brotherhood, of national and international fellowship; of seeking after God, and not the things which pertain to office and station, will, I believe, characterize this eighteenth national convention, and I pray God that His spirit may pervade every future gathering of Christian Endeavorers and the whole movement in all its phases and forms of work the world over."

The business before the United society was quickly transacted. Treasurer Shaw's report showed expenditures during the fiscal year of $9,678, and $352 now in the treasury. The report of George B. Graft, of Boston, agent of the publishing department, under whose direction the Christian Endeavor World is published, showed cash on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year, June 1, 1898, $1,110; receipts during the year, $87,956; expenditures, $66,680; cash on hand, $2,439. The western office of the publishing department, located at Chicago, reported expenditures of $12,563, and $604 now in its treasury.

In accordance with the report of the nominating committee, the following were elected trustees for four years: Rev. C. I. Brown, Mount Joy, Pa.; Prof. H. E. Willett, Chicago; Rev. Samuel McNaugher, Boston; Rev. A. C. Crews, Toronto; Rev. Hugh K. Walker, D. D., Los Angeles, Cal.; Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., New York; Rev. George E. McManiman, Steubenville, Ohio.

The foregoing were elected trustees for one year upon the reorganization of the United society a year ago.

Robert E. Speer, of New York, was elected a trustee to succeed the late Rev. J. Clement French, D. D., of Newark, N. J., and Rev. N. B. Grubb, D. D., of Philadelphia, was made an additional trustee to represent the Mennonites, which denomination has heretofore been unrepresented on the board.

The present officers of the United society were unanimously re-elected upon recommendation of the nominating committee, as follows:

President—Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark.

Secretary—John Willis Baer.

Treasurer—William Shaw.

All are of Boston.

Representatives on the board of trustees of the United society were elected from each state, territory and the provinces of Canada.

PUSHING WORK ON STREETS.

CONTRACTOR FLEMING COMENCED ON LEWIS STREET.

The Pavement on South Calhoun Street About Completed—Two Asphalt Streets.

The board of works, now that the contracts for all the street pavements to be constructed this summer have been awarded, are determined that the work shall be pushed and every street finished this season. S. B. Fleming, the contractor for the Lewis street pavement, this morning commenced work on the east end at Walton avenue and will hurry along so that he can finish as soon as possible. Contractor Harley, of Hartford City, has charge of the job for Mr. Fleming.

On South Calhoun street Moellering & Co. have about all the brick down, less than half a square being yet uncompleted. The cement and sand-filler which is being used makes the street one of the best in the city, and it is believed by the board that the south side will be satisfied when the work is once accepted. It is hoped to have the street open next week, weather permitting.

The Barber Asphalt company has a contract to pave Brackenridge and Lavinia streets, and will commence work immediately, so that Fort Wayne can be abandoned for the year, as there is no chance for more asphalt streets until another year rolls around.

Before awarding the last contracts the board had information that if Metropolitan brick were used the streets would not be completed because the brick could not be furnished. Inquiry was made by Mr. Eggenmann and he was informed that the brick would be forthcoming and the board is, therefore, confident that all the street work will be completed before fall. Moellering & Co. have all the contracts and it will be necessary for them to increase their working force.

MEETING OF THE CABINET.

Washington, July 5.—The cabinet meeting that was postponed on account of yesterday's holiday was held today. The regular meeting lasted an hour and a half, although Secretary Gage and Attorney General Griggs remained with the president an hour after the other members had gone. The new military organization was discussed, along with certain administrative problems connected with Cuba and Porto Rico. The question of apportioning officers for the new regiments was taken up. The president, it is understood, wishes to fill the higher commissions in the new regiments as far as possible with tried officers of the regular service.

STONE DENIES IT.

St. Louis, July 5.—Ex-Gov. W. J. Stone today denied the report that he had been appointed to succeed Senator Jones as chairman of the democratic national committee. He says that Chairman Jones would not resign his position.

One boy is quite badly burned.

CHILD SCALDED.

Freddie, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paul, of 109 Wall street, stumbled and fell over a boiler of hot water at its home Monday, and the child's left arm was plunged into the water. The arm was painfully, though not seriously, scalded, as the water fortunately was not at a boiling point.

The Packard Scale

The scale is the most important thing in a piano.

Every note of the whole seven and one-third octaves of a piano must be just the right note it ought to be, or the piano is all wrong. That these notes are right, depends upon the scale. The scale which the Packard scale has been drawn. The essence of the Packard scale is contained in a few simple principles.

A perfect scale is a masterpiece, and a perfect scale is what we claim for the Packard Piano.

This is one of the absolutely essential points of a piano which the Packard Piano possesses.

Come and let it for yourself!

Great is Texas. No other state is large enough to have so big a flood.

The presidential boom of Judge Van Wyck would doubtless have fared better if Croker had taken it over the water with him and touched a match to its fuse in London or some other point equally or more remote from Tammany precincts.

The fact that a federal judge has declared a Wheeling stogie must be made in Wheeling is not likely to make the fellow who smokes them any more popular with the crowd.

Whether the violation of a law is popular with any class cannot enter into any officer's contemplation of his duty. To break a law is lawlessness and officers are sworn to prevent lawlessness when they can and to bring punishment upon it when it occurs. No conscientious officer will seek to fix the boundary of his duty by a deviating line.

The Logansport Pharos observes that "the foreclosure of a mortgage on the Westminster female seminary at Fort Wayne and the closing of Coates' college at Terre Haute leaves the Presbyterian church without an institution under its patronage in Indiana in which its young women may be educated. At the same time the trustees of Wabash college refuse to supply the deficiency by admitting women as students."

TAMMANY AND BRYAN.

Judge Augustus Van Wyck, of New York, as a presidential candidate is now chiefly notable as the possessor of the remains of a boom that blew up when it was touched off. Van Wyck was the democratic candidate for governor of New York last year. He was of Croker's picking and Croker and his crowd down east have been grooming Van Wyck for entry in the great national stakes next year. But Tammany is not for Van Wyck. Tammany is for Bryan. Croker and Carroll and some of the Tammany bosses are not, but that is no longer important. Tammany's Fourth of July celebration this year was designed solely along lines intended to bring Van Wyck to the front. The speakers were selected with that end in view and their speeches were censored by Tammany's censor so that no mention of Bryan or of the Chicago platform should be made. But one speaker hurriedly put on the program to "fill in" kept his speech in his head and not in his pocket. That was Hogg—big, roaring, honest Hogg—former governor of Texas. Hogg said the last democratic platform would be again adopted and Tammany got up and yelled. Hogg said democracy under the leadership of the matchless Bryan would march to victory and Tammany uncorked a perfect pandemonium of enthusiasm for the Nebraska statesman. So much for that and it is a whole lot. Tammany may not be able to break altogether from its leaders, but the demonstration for Bryan in Tammany hall must show to the politicians identified with the down-east anti-Bryan cabal that they are butting their heads into an immovable stone wall. They may be able to go into the next convention with a squad of anti-Bryan delegates, but it will be a very small squad. The men in the ranks are for Bryan and the politicians don't count. Tammany's merciless repudiation of Van Wyck's candidacy is something of which the leaders should take counsel. Governor will fare no better when the first effort to launch his boom is made.

MR. BRYAN'S POPULARITY.

[Chicago Times-Herald.]

The same day that ex-Governor Hogg was carrying Tammany by storm with his reference to Bryan, Mr. Bryan himself was received with tremendous enthusiasm both at Atlanta and at Barnesville, Ga. Everywhere it is the same story. The man seems to have suffered not at all in the esteem of the masses of his followers because of his defeat in 1896. True, he has found in several states that the democratic party leaders consider the silver issue a disastrous one, and in those states the popular vote would certainly be hostile to his silver policy, but wherever he goes he meets with manifestations of an almost fanatical loyalty. Very few American politicians have been the object of such general or intense devotion.

What, then, will explain this extraordinary phenomenon? It may be referred to a combination of causes, each potent in its way. Mr. Bryan has character, sincerity, a winning personality, intellectual brilliancy, eloquence, and the elements are so mixed in him as to produce the best possible effect. He is, besides, the leading exponent of a principle which gives him a remarkable influence where the principle is held, while his character, gifts and attainments secure him the liking of people who regret the principle.

At one time there was a very natural disposition to ascribe his prestige to a single speech, but the speech was merely his opportunity. Since delivering it he has proved his powers as an orator many times, and he has stood the closer scrutiny of the public, which is attracted but not dominated by oratory. We have known men even more brilliant on the platform who never got beyond the part of performers in a campaign show. With all their ability they could not command respect because they did not possess those moral qualities which the American people desire in their political leaders of the presidential class.

Mr. Bryan is clean of speech and act. He has nothing to explain. He is honest in his convictions. What he lacks most is a lively humor, and this sometimes does a politician more harm than good, as S. S. Cox used to confess ruefully. Much as Americans enjoy a joke, they prefer serious men in high places.

When, therefore, all things are taken into account, it is clear why Mr. Bryan is popular, and no one should now feel disposed to grudge him the position he has won. Whether he may succeed in commending his political ideas to the voters of the country is another question.

Charles J. Rockstroh, a prominent business man of South Bend, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. He was forty-three years of age. Despondency and desperation caused by persistent efforts to blackmail him are said to have been the cause of the tragic act. He was in independent circumstances.

Henry S. Wright and Irene R. Calheart were wedded at Goshen the Fourth of July. They live in Bristol. The groom is eighty years of age and was ready to be married on the Main street band stand for the edification of the celebrators, but unfortunately a younger man was first in the race. Wright just entered upon his second matrimonial venture. The blushing bride gave her age as seventy-one years and has been on the carpet three times. She was divorced from a former husband last winter.

AN INDIANA WOMAN HONORED.

HIGH DISTINCTION FOR MRS. MAY WRIGHT SEWELL.

Has Been Elected President of the International Council of Women.

—Known in Fort Wayne.

The election of Mrs. May Wright Sewell, of Indianapolis, to the presidency of the International Council of Women is honor in which the whole state of Indiana will feel a share. Mrs. Sewell is well known to many

MRS. MAY WRIGHT SEWELL.

Fort Wayne women, who find much pleasure in the distinction that has fallen upon the talented woman.

The correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, calling his paper, says: "The great congress has left perhaps no lasting impression on London, but much experience has been gained. As Susan B. Anthony said yesterday, the movement in America is only eleven years old, and in other countries even less; it is impossible, therefore, to expect to find absolute success at the outset."

"Mrs. May Wright Sewell, of Indianapolis, was elected yesterday morning president of the International council, with Lady Aberdeen as vice-president. The election does honor to all American women, but especially to Mrs. Sewell, whose efforts have been untiring. She shows, however, no signs of fatigue and is enthusiastic over the success of the council. She felt she ought to be worn out, but reluctantly confessed to the best of health. The election of the new president meets with popular approval, although the decision was only arrived at after a stormy meeting held in private. It is believed the woman suffrage party desired a more forward policy and threatened at one time to cause a disruption, but was finally brought to acquiesce in the excellent guidance of Mrs. Sewell."

The organization over which Mrs. Sewell has been called upon to preside is a union of women's societies which band themselves together to work for the public good. The membership is problematical, but it is said to reach 100,000 and includes the most prominent philanthropic women of the countries in which national councils exist. The motto of every local council is also the motto of the international council, "Each for all and all for each." The international council is likened by some to a telephone exchange in that its function is to furnish perfect communication between all of the various societies. The organization is not for the purpose of advocating any definite policies, but for the general advancement of civilization. Consequently, while Mrs. Sewell is on equal suffragist, her friends say that it will be entirely foreign to her intentions as presiding officer and executive head to commit the organization to any policy.

REMARKABLE RESCUE.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this great discovery at Dreier & Bros.' drug store. Only 50 cents and $1.00, every bottle guaranteed.

Satisfaction Bouquet is a delightful odor of which one does not tire and the longer it is used the better it is liked. Delicacy, richness and strength are so combined as to give exquisite pleasure to those who use it. Try it.

THE MARKETS.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, July 6.—A firm feeling prevailed in all the pits on the board of trade today. Wheat bulls were encouraged by reports of too much rain in the northwest and despite the lower cables, bid the market up steadily from the opening. September started unchanged at 73½¢/73½¢, and advanced to 74½¢ before 11 o'clock.

Minneapolis and Duluth received 521 cars against 511 last week and 46 last year. Chicago received 242 cars. Trade was quite light at the opening, broadened steadily and the market became quite active towards noon.

Corn opened firm. Crop conditions generally were reported fair, but local longs showed no disposition to let go their holding and shorts were forced to cover. Local receipts were 1,120 cars.

September opened steady at 33½¢ and advanced steadily to 34½¢.

Oats ruled firm on trade. Chicago receipts were heavy 453 cars, and but few outside orders were executed. Some covering of short lines, put out of yesterday's break, hemped prices. September opened a shade higher at 20½¢/20½¢ and advanced to 21½¢.

Provisions opened dull but firm. The trade was featureless.

September pork opened 5c higher at $8.52½ and declined to $8.50.

September lard ruled steady at $5.20, while ribs sold at $4.90 to $4.92½, a shade over yesterday's close.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 6.—Opening prices of stocks reflected some profit-taking in the grangers and New York Central. Earlier gains established in London were not fully maintained, but the London favorites led in the railroad list, notably Louisville, Atchison preferred, Reading first preferred and Norfolk preferred.

Sugar showed a gain of nearly a point and Brooklyn Transit advanced a sharp fraction. The majority of changes were gains.

Realization on quite a large scale forced the prominent railroads down a sharp fraction and Brooklyn Transit lost a point. A resumption of strength in Sugar lifted it about 3 points and the entire list followed to a moderate extent. Decided strength developed in the Tobacco shares and Steel and Wire.

Failures of the railways to sympathize fully with the rise in the specialties caused renewed bear pressure against the grangers, which averaged a point down.

Sugar, Tobacco, Metropolitan Street Railway and Brooklyn Transit also showed wide reactions.

Sales to noon, 312,149 shares. Trading in bonds was light and without important price changes.

Prices continued to drop under small offerings with no active demand to support them. Lowest prices were made for the grangers and the great trunk lines. The closing was dull and easy at net losses, except for a few of the specialties.

FARM BUILDINGS.

Here's a Farm or Village Dwelling.

Costing $1,800.

A most desirable house is here described. It is cheap, considering its many advantages and its extreme beauty as an adornment of a rural landscape. It is quite large enough for a family of eight without crowding, and on a piece considerable room may be found in the attic, if it is enclosed and laid out as it may be. But in our study of this plan we have designed the whole of the attic for their part of the dwelling, for study or play, and there the toys will be kept and a baby house put together for them, and the little library of lesson and reading books will there be kept. This will be found one of the most valuable means of education for the children, and the mother or the big sister may go up and there make school and amusement for the little ones, where they will be safe, and as happy as the days are long.

The ground plan is 32x29 feet inside, not including the veranda. The sizes of the rooms are given on the floor plan, the veranda not being included. The cellar is 6 feet 6 inches in height, the first story is 9 feet and the second 8 feet 3 inches. The materials are: Cellar, stone below ground, brick or shaped stone above; first story, clapboards; second, square shingles; the hexagonal bottom of the shingle may be preferred by some, but it is really a useless expense. A large pantry is placed between the kitchen and dining-room, and saves many steps, as a slide door in the dining-room side opens into the dining-room. A large working table and sink are on the outside wall of the kitchen. Doors and a passage way lead from the kitchen to every part of the house, and by a wide, low tread stairway to the upper floor. The plan of the upper floor is not given, but it has four good-sized bedrooms, one at each corner of the house, all well lighted and aired, and provided with closets, and between the two on the kitchen side of the house there are a bathroom, water closet, and washstand. The bath is directly over the kitchen range, by which hot water from the eastern over the back porch may be lifted into the bath tub. Every bedroom has its own closet, and a large store-room may be made under the attic stairs which go up from the vestibule of the bathroom. So much in so little can only be crowded together, as in this case, with entire convenience and cheapness, by the most careful thought, great mechanical skill and a thorough architectural ability.

The pipes in the house are all collected together near the kitchen chimney, and freezing is thus avoided. A heater in the kitchen range will supply the heat for the bath room, and a cheap one in the parlor or dining-room, or both, if any Klondike family want to keep a nice warm climate in the house. Any carpenter will be able to make a bill of materials, such as will suit the farmer, who has but six hundred dollars to spend, but in time hopes to be able to finish his house as he may wish. The price mentioned includes everything for a complete house, except the heating apparatus mentioned, which itself will cost about two hundred dollars, in addition to the $1,800 estimated.

Fig. 1 shows the front and side of the house. Fig. 2 shows the rear view of it, with that part of it on the right hand side of the kitchen. The large window is that in the kitchen. The smaller ones are those shown in the floor plan, at the top and foot of the stairway, which is thus well lighted. The stairs have low easy treads and are amply wide.

DEVELOPING THE SOUDAN.

The First American Bridge to Span Egyptian Waters.

Naturally English engineers are jealous of the success that has been scored by an American firm in securing the contract for a work that is destined to become historical as an important link in the long chain of communication between Cairo and the Cape. It is, indeed, the only engineering work of magnitude on a railway that stretches 700 miles from Wady Halfa to Khartoum.

The idea of giving it a special and appropriate Egyptian design had to be abandoned when English firms wanted months to complete such a structure, while American firms offered to turn out one of their own pattern in as many weeks. Celerity was of the first importance in order that considerable portions of the bridge might be in place before the Athara floods come down at the beginning of July. Long before this the piers will be ready to receive the superstructure, which has been turned out so rapidly that seven spans, each 150 feet long, have already been landed in Egypt and sent up the Nile. The American firm not being bound down to any special design, has been able to use rollings of a stock pattern which only needed adaptation to the particular purpose of this bridge. Sections of the required length could thus be turned out by the yard, and all that remained to be done was to fit them lightly together for approval before shipment in parts. The riveting together will be done on the banks of the Athara.

Egyptian soldiers and natives have meanwhile been preparing the piers.

CONSTRUCTING THE PIERS.

which are huge cylinders of iron bedded on solid rock, and filled with concrete. This had to be finished while the river was at its lowest, and the rocks showing just above or only a little below its surface. When the waters come down in their rage at flood time even these substantial piers might be carried away without some spanning girders to give them mutual support. Hence the need for haste. Work on the railway extension beyond Athara river goes on all the while at the rate of 2,000 yards a day, and it will be carried to the Nile banks opposite Khartoum by November. Before then the great bridge with its seven spans, stretching across 1,100 feet of water, will be completed, so that the whole Soudan railway may be opened for traffic within fourteen months of the final overthrow of Dervish power.

A Black Turning White.

Two years ago an Austrian merchant, who had been on a business trip to Africa, brought back with him from Egypt a black man, a Soudanese negro, aged nineteen years. Speedily acclimated, the black immigrant soon learned the German dialect of the Viennese and surprised them by his clever manners and the elegant dress he displayed in the cafes and upon the "promenade." During the last autumn he became affected by nervous troubles, which a famous neuropathist of Vienna subjected to electrical treatment. Dual Lach's condition began to improve from day to day, and, strange to relate, in the same proportion as the disease seemed to leave him there disappeared the black dye of his skin. Paler and paler he grew, until, through the stages of Peruvian and Egyptian mummy coloration and the pallid tinge of ebullient beef, he blanched into gaining the true Caucasian complexion.

Dual's doctor explains the discoloration of his patient from a process by which the black pigment in his skin was disintegrated and finally eliminated through electricity. This chief coloring matter, melanin, of pigmentum nigrum, found in the eye, the hair and the skin, contains iron, and strongly reacts upon electric application.—Vienna Fremdenblatt.

Roller Yachting.

Save during the rainy season Lake Lefroy, in Western Australia, is quite dry. But as the water evaporates as the hot weather approaches a smooth, glassy floor of crystalline salt is deposited. Those living on the shores have found a means of utilizing this.

All boats which sail on the lake when possible are, during the dry season, fitted with four wheels, and thus are enabled to continue their travels. As Lake Lefroy has an area of over ten miles, and the surrounding country is extremely rough, this means a great saving in expense, labor and time. The speed attained by these wheeled yachts is very considerable, though not quite equal to the pace of the ice yachts so popular in Canada.

Lighting Up the Sea.

A new method of illumination on the ocean consists of using a hollow cylinder of steel tubing, charged with calcium carbide. This shell is to be shot from a gun to a distance of two miles. When it strikes the water it generates acetylene gas and gives 1,000-candle-power, which burns from the end of the floats. This light cannot be extinguished by water.

Demoralization of Madrid.

A correspondent in the Frankfurter Zeitung draws a lurid picture of the increasing demoralization of Madrid. The present population includes, he says, 20,000 professional beggars, the same number of abandoned women, 5,000 thieves and there are hundreds of gambling houses.

Havana Clerks' Pay.

Clerks in Havana receive from $35 to $65 per month, according to their value, those speaking English commanding the best wages. A suit of clothes costs from $25 to $50, a dress suit anywhere from $60 to $100.

ABOUT STRAWBERRIES.

Some Tempting Ways to Eat the Luscious Fruit of June.

"How sincerely with every returning June we pity the unfortunate among our friends who cannot eat strawberries. What can there be about so luscious a fruit or about some comestibles to make eating strawberries like coming in contact with poison ivy? One gentleman of our acquaintance bravely eats his first plate of strawberries, endures the ill effects, and when the exzomallike affliction has run its course and faded, goes on feasting off strawberries with the rest of us, finding that, once inoculated, strawberries agree with him perfectly." Whether others in his plight might safely follow his example is a question which a writer in Good Housekeeping, having stated the foregoing case, leaves each one to decide for himself. But there can be no question about following the same writer's hints on how to eat the luscious fruit:

To those who know the strawberry in its best estate it seems indisputable that strawberries are ripe and eaten from the vines and strawberries are cold and served with merely sugar and an abundance of cream are the only strawberries treated with the respect deserved. But who has not helped devour even strawberry pie and found it not bad either, if one must have pie? And where is the household in which at least one "pie eater" is not to be found, true to the traditions of his ancestors, in spite of reformers and would be benefactors and the scorn of those who insist that his pie is properly but a tart?

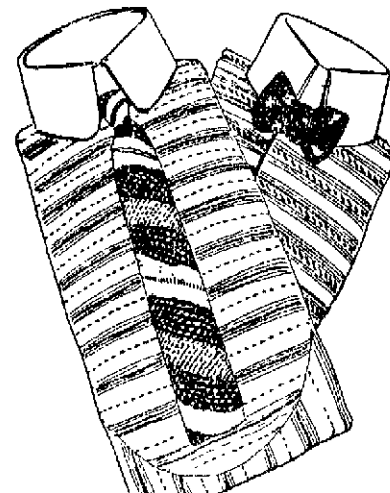

Castards and meringues are less ruinous to the strawberry than concoctions in which the fruit must be cooked. But many consider these allowable merely for the sake of variety, thinking that the housekeeper who buys a pint of cream and a fresh loaf provides a better dessert than she who attempts more elaborate serving.

Against the time honored strawberry shortcake not a word shall be said. Let its foundation be of the lightest, fondest, quick biscuit sort and not of the sweetened cake order. Let the berries be hulled and sliced with the handle of a thin old silver spoon and well coated with sugar an hour or two before needed to place in the hot, buttered cakes. Let a generous cream jug be passed with the dessert, and, as an act of precaution, let a light dinner precede it.

All sorts of ices, sherbets and jellies receive a commendable flavor from the use of strawberry juice. To make a sherbet worthy a quart of berries, sprinkle over them a pint of sugar, add the juice of a lemon and a half pint of water in which has been dissolved a tablespoonful of gelatin. Freeze as for ice cream.

Styles in Shirts.

Among smart shirts for men, some of which it illustrates, Vogue mentions patterns of lilac with pink, white and red alternate stripes, cinnamon pink with broad blue and white alternate stripes, and a very dark bottle green with pink stripes.

All these shirtings are of the same fabrics, pure woven linens, madras clothes, prints and satin surtins.

The modishly made shirt shows a round bosom with two buttonholes and an all round white collar, with rounded points about two and a half inches high. The cuffs are narrow. Shirts with stripes running across the bosom are also much in favor. When the stripes run across, they are very wide, and only two colors or two shades are used.

Figured stripes with Roman and satin effects run lengthwise. Very smart are shirts of blue, lilac or pink with white stripes. In all these shirts the stripes run around the cuffs.

Many of the new, narrow cuffs are square cornered.

For Tired and Tender Feet.

There is nothing more strengthening to the feet than salt. But bathing the feet in salt and water, however, is not enough. Put about a quart of warm (not hot) water in a basin and add a tablespoonful of salt. Having first thoroughly washed the feet with warm water and soap, place them in the salt bath for 15 or 20 minutes, then wipe dry. An occasional treatment of this kind is very restful, but continued persistently once a week at least, for several months, it will be found that the feet are not only rested, but strengthened, says The Ladies' World.

Rose Leaf Preserves.

This is said to be the way to make rose leaf preserves, those confections which are served in Turkish harems. Take a jar of which the mouth and bottom are the same size (like a Dundee marmalade jar), and in the bottom sprinkle a layer of crystallized sugar. Over that place a layer of rose leaves, then alternate with sugar till the jar is filled. Be sure that sugar is the top layer. Paste two thicknesses of paper over the top and set in a cool dark place till full. It is then fit to turn out and serve, and nothing can be more delightful for the eye or palate.

DRAWBACKS IN PHILIPPINES.

Dangerous Diseases and Parasites.

The agricultural department at Washington has received an interesting report, dated Manila, from Lieutenant A. P. Hayne, California heavy artillery, on agriculture in the Philippines. Lieutenant Hayne had been able to make no personal observations beyond the American lines, but he transmits the translation of an article prepared for him by Senor Manuel del Busto, chief of the agricultural experiment station in Manila.

The most remarkable feature of the report is the almost hopeless picture presented of the conditions prevailing in the islands. The great fertility of the soil is pointed out, and it is said that only in a few restricted areas, where three crops a year have been gathered without interruption for several centuries, is there any apparent need of fertilizers. In spite of this, all attempts at colonization have failed, either through the poor class of immigrants secured, the financial instability of the various companies or the corruption and oppression of the governors and government agents. The result is that the middle and lower classes in the islands are almost of the worst possible type.

In addition to this primary difficulty in securing reliable labor, the agriculturist is confronted at the start with the necessity for an immense amount of work in clearing new land. When this is accomplished and a luxuriant crop raised, it is at the mercy of the first typhoon. Besides the typhoon, there is to be feared in certain provinces the "dagaga," or dry land wind, which dries up and destroys vegetation. Diseases so far hardly known to European doctors result from the turning up of this virgin soil. According to competent medical authority, many of these strange disorders cause death within a few hours, while from others, even if the patient recovers, he is condemned to a wretched and lingering existence.

Another of the great difficulties in the way of agricultural development is the utter lack of roads and shipping points. The native Filipino is unable to do any large amount of work and comes to do less. He is indolent and given to gambling. All these vices have to be taken into account in any undertaking where labor is employed. The lack of credit is another serious handicap to enterprise. The minimum cost of money in the Philippines regardless of security is 13 per cent. At present the Philippines are cursed by a well organized body of the worst sort of burglars. The price of nearly all crops is steadily falling as the production retrogrades in quantity and quality.

Lieutenant Hayne in transmitting this interesting document states that he would strongly recommend special quarantine measures against Philippine plants, as there exist an immense number of very injurious parasites in the islands and many private parties are already preparing to import botanical specimens.

Prof. Osgood's Ancient Punch Bowl.

The will of the late Rev. George Osgood, a retired Unitarian clergyman of Kensington, near Exeter, N. H., gives to his nephew, William Fogg Osgood, assistant professor of mathematics at Harvard, the punch bowl used by the graduating class at Harvard in 1768, says the Boston Herald. The interesting relic descended to Mr. Osgood from his great-uncle, Major Jeremiah Fogg, a graduate of Harvard in the class named and during the Revolution a prominent officer.

Heard His Funeral Sermon.

A dispatch from La Porte, Ind., says the Rev. George D. Simons of Zanesville, O., preached the funeral sermon of an old pioneer at La Porte the other day exactly as he will preach it when the man dies, says the New York World.

The man wanted to hear his own funeral sermon, and it was thus rehearsed at his request.

Drs. Reguette and Lehrs of the Belgian Medical academy in Antwerp have discovered a serum for the cure of cancer, says the New York Sun. Experiments made upon 20 horses have proved conclusively the efficacy of the treatment.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

At a time when we are enjoying a very good business, we find invoicing time close upon us, and in order to greatly reduce our stock of Dry Goods, etc., it becomes necessary for us to announce that OUR

Will Commence SATURDAY, JULY 8th, and Continue Till AUGUST 1st.

Regardless of the fact that Dry Goods of every kind have greatly advanced in price of late, we shall, DURING THIS SALE, SELL GOODS JUST AS CHEAP as WE HAVE EVER DONE BEFORE, for the reason that we purchased the bulk of our stock previous to the rise in prices. ## NEWS OF THE RAIL

HEAVY HOLIDAY BUSINESS ON THE PITTSBURG.

DIVISION SHOWS BIG GAINS.

CARRIED 1,500 MORE PEOPLE THAN LAST YEAR.

MOBERLY'S FIRST ENGINE.

WAS BUILT ENTIRE IN THE WABASH SHOPS.

While the ticket sales at this point were light during the Fourth, the business of the western division of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road was greater than it was a year ago, the records showing a gain of over 1,500 in the number of people carried. An unusual number of people came to this city and the big celebrations at Upper Sandusky, Delphos and other places along the line attracted immense crowds.

INSPECTING THE ROADS.

Thomas Rodd, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania company, came in on the limited this morning and shortly afterwards left on a special train on an inspection of that part of the road between this city and Crestline. He was accompanied by Supt. J. B. McKim and Civil Engineer E. G. Ericson. Conductor Andy Dawson had charge of the train.

WILL GO TO PHILIPPINES.

Emil Haubold, a German who arrived in this country ten months ago and has since been employed as a section hand under Foreman James Leary, of the Pittsburg, notified his "boss" this morning of his intention to quit the position. Emil is going to Indianapolis to enlist in the United States army for service in the Philippines. He served two years in the German army and says he would much rather handle a gun in a hostile country than a pick and shovel on the railroad. He is about 22 years old and very intelligent.

MR. MUDD'S NEW ENGINE.

The first engine ever built entire in Moberly, Mo., was turned out of the Wabash shops last week. It is No. 347, which was built for heavy passenger traffic and is of the ten-wheel type, weighing, complete, 213,000 pounds. She has 19x24-inch cylinders and a 60-inch wheel, with a boiler 13 inches longer than the new engines built for the Wabash by the Richmond works. She is also equipped with the Mudd air sanding device, for which Master Mechanic Mudd has just received American patents and has applied for foreign patents. This is said to be a very simple sanding device and is causing some comment among railroad mechanics. Mr. Mudd was general foreman of the company's shops in this city a few years ago. He left Fort Wayne to take the office of master mechanic of the middle division and was transferred to the western division last December.

PREVENTING TICKET SCALPING.

Detroit brokers had expected to reap a rich harvest from traffic in Christian Endeavor tickets this week. Their plans have been frustrated, however, by the court, which has issued temporary injunctions forbidding brokers to buy or sell tickets. The case will be argued July 10th, the day upon which the Endeavor meetings close, and possibly a permanent injunction may result. The plaintiffs in the case are the Wabash, the New York Central and the Grand Trunk Railway companies.

PICNIC OF ELECTRICIANS.

The Fort Wayne Electric Relief union, which is to have an excursion to Robison park next Saturday, has issued programs of the athletic events to take place at the resort. The main features will be the races, which will begin at 2:30 o'clock on the race track recently completed. The men in charge of these sports are not in any way connected with the electric works nor the relief union. They are:

Marion Black, starter and clerk.
William Buckles, referee.
Al Alter, W. Souders, Ed. Miller, handicappers.
William Peltier, Harry Pickard, Henry Nieman, D. Wright, judges.
W. Souders, announcer.

The officers of the day will be as follows:

President—J. J. Wood.
Executive Committee—E. A. Barnes, chairman; H. Templar, Sam Elliott, John Bauer, F. J. Ganser, Louis Fryer, Elsworth Fox, W. Brennan, F. Kieharber.
Sports—F. J. Ganser, chairman; William Brennan, F. S. Hunting, Dell Davis, E. Fox, C. F. Knothe, Thomas Quinlan, William Martin, W. S. Willson, Arthur Hadley.

Program—J. J. Bauer, chairman; Gust Mayland, Peter Kindt, Rob Harding, William Wurtle, W. R. Durfee, Sam Elliott.

Transportation—H. Templar, J. J. Bauer, F. Kieharber, Louis Fryer, P. Kindt, Sam Elliott, Thomas Dacombe, P. Lardier.

The events, as published in The Sentinel a few days ago, will be of unusual interest. The park management will also have special attractions for the excursionists. Cars will leave the electric works promptly at 1:30 Saturday afternoon. A special car will be provided for those who will compete in the events.

Brakeman C. E. Stump, who fell from a caboose couple two months ago and was severely injured, resumed work on the Nickel Plate yesterday.

A. R. Ferrier, the machinist who had an arm injured in the Pittsburg shops June 17, has recovered and this morning reported for duty in that establishment.

Arthur and Clem Reid, of the Bass works, will go to Florida in a few weeks to look after some real estate they recently came into possession of in the northern part of that state.

Charles Robertson, a son of H. H. Robertson, has succeeded Frank Meyers as hammer boy at the Pittsburg blacksmith shop. The latter has been given other work in the same shop.

Passenger Engineer R. M. Germain, of the Nickel Plate, has gone to Old Orchard Beach, Maine, to spend two weeks. Engineer W. P. Morris has Mr. Germain's place in the cab.

John McCarthy, of the Pittsburg car shop, is sick. A. Burchard, of the same shop, is off duty for repairs after an experience with a cannon fire cracker on the Fourth. His face was filled with powder.

Henry Vilas, son of ex-United States Senator Vilas and son-in-law of General Passenger Agent E. A. Ford, of the Pennsylvania company, was buried at Madison, Wis., today. Mr. Vilas died last Sunday, after a year's illness. He was an attorney.

All the big roads of the country now have fully three-fifths of their rolling stock equipped with automatic couplers and brakes, as provided by law. The time for performing this work expires January 1 next. It will find most of the railway companies ready. No further extension of time is expected.

The Erie is about to promote several freight firemen to the passenger service. The men most capable—those who pass the best examination and have the best records—will be chosen. This method of promotion has a beneficial effect upon freight firemen, inasmuch as it makes them more attentive and careful in the performance of their duties.

The Lake Shore has just put into use a ticket which it thinks is iron-clad and proof against the brokers. It was introduced with special reference to baffling the scalpers, and will hereafter be constantly employed on all special occasions. It was inaugurated during the recent rush of travel to the Pacific coast to attend the National Educational association.

The men in Master Mechanic G. S. McKee's office are enjoying fragrant Havanas which are furnished by Perry Thompson, the stenographer.

A daughter arrived at the Thompson home on the Fourth and this is the occasion for the generous distribution of the smokers. The little one will doubtless be named America in honor of the nation whose birthday anniversary she will share.

AT LENOX.

In her gorgeous tennis tunic, Little guessed that for the moment more to me than she was.
Up among the Berkshire hills,
Where I went as a boy,
Seeking rest from care and ill.

She, a belle of many seasons,
Had admirers by the score,
And in time, for certain reasons,
Numbered me as just one more.
On the drive we met at midnight
In the morning, then at noon,
We would meet again, no fail, time
Did not move a whit too soon.

There were hours when I felt lonely,
Calling life a hollow thing,
Till we met again, then only—
Time flew by on too light wing.
At the high seas, on the ocean,
I was one of many more,
Who, as suppliants for her glance,
Voted all things else a bore.

And I loved her wildly, madly,
Not her heart I could not stir,
Though I felt that I would gladly
Call the world well lost for her.
Did she love me? Love's a position
Looked upon as out of date,
Thus I halted in a fashion,
Daring not to learn my fate.

While she smiled on me so kindly,
Was so dear and sweet to me,
I could see, though half blindly,
'Twas the same with other men,
Until I, the foolish fellow,
Fell within the net she spread,
And unfortunately I like
Charles the Second, lost my head.

I proposed and was rejected,
Though she said that she would be
A dear sister—I, dejected, Told her I'd always be.
All my summer's joy was ended,
All the brightness passed away,
And the hills, before so splendid
In their green, had turned to gray.

—Charles Lila

"Father," said one of that type of young men that is likened to the fly, "you have frequently advised me to emulate the busy bee."

"I shall always be grateful to the man who invented hammocks," remarked the confirmed bachelor.

"Why so?" inquired his friend.

"When I was young and foolish, I was just on the point of asking a girl to marry me when the hammock was invented."

ON THE SUMMER OUTING.

Some Luxuries and Necessities For Camp and Shore.

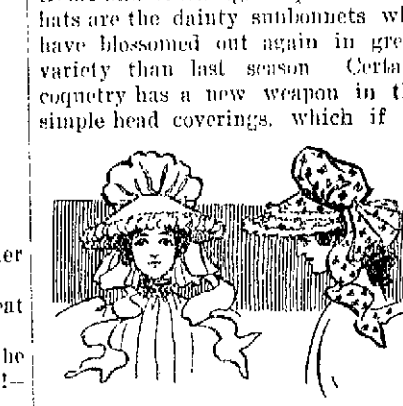

To go out of town for the sake of rest, quiet and comfort resolves itself into a burlesque if the would be sojourner goes without suitable and intelligent preparations. There are a few localities where mosquitoes are not found, but they are rare indeed, and to visit unknown and untrodden regions without a few pieces of mosquito netting or a ready made canopy among the baggage is, as a rule, to invite the attention of these annoying insects. Good quality ready made canopies, complete, may be had. They close like an umbrella and may be carried with fishing rods, canes and like articles in a package with a strap or in a large sized Stratoga trunk.

Ordinary mosquito netting costs 40 cents to 80 cents per piece, and some grades may be sent by mail. It is therefore the cheapest fully to endure the bites of hungry mosquitoes when a few strips of hickory from the nearest sapling, with a little ingenuity and wrapping twine, will make a canopy that will be proof against such marauders.

A good hammock is a luxury of the most approved sort for the tourist who has but little chance for carrying luggage. For persons of robust health there is little danger of injury or exposure from sleeping in the open air and a hammock is the most luxurious of beds if properly managed. There are always blankets that can be folded and laid on the ground and spreading sticks can be cut on short notice if it is not convenient to carry them. For children or ladies who are delicate or do not like to sleep upon the ground, while camping out, there may be the most comfortable provision made with but little trouble.

For ordinary suburban, seashore and piazza use the arranging of a hammock is a very simple affair. Very strong hooks should be driven into some portion of the woodwork if a piazza is chosen. In the orchard the hammock may be fastened to the trees, but care should be taken that the knots are securely tied. Many serious accidents have resulted from insecure fastenings. Good hammocks cost all the way from $1 to $4 and come in plain white and various colors. The sort known as the Mexican hammock is among the most durable of all hammocks.

Sunbonnets of the Season.
In pretty contrast with all the extreme and extravagant productions in hats are the dainty sunbonnets which have blossomed out again in greater variety than last season. Certainly coquetry has a new weapon in these simple head coverings, which if well chosen and cleverly manipulated can be made to cast such a pretty shadow over the eyes. They are made of organdie and dainty in plain colors or flowered patterns and finished with humped and pinked inches or falls and are altogether fetching when the face inside is young and pretty, says the New York Sun.

Every Day a Little.
Does the time ever come, some one asks with some righteous pertinence, when the replenishing of linen and the buying of books and the cleaning of closets and other preliminaries to comfort accomplished, the comfort untrammelled really begins? Is there no point at which the stocking up and the looking over and the repairs cease? And the answer is, Not that any living housekeeper knows, or has ever heard of. Like the wear and tear of the system, and of everything that uses itself up as it goes along, the domestic machinery needs constant feeding.

The logical programme to be drawn up from such a state of matters is, therefore, says The House Beautiful, one of incessant watchfulness, lest the arrears grow too big to be caught up with easily. A little every day is not half so wearing nor half so expensive as a great "hurrah, boys!" routing out of all that makes home comfortable. Many persons, tired of the anathemas of the men of the family when cleaning drives them out of doors every spring and autumn, have given up the revolutionary tactics they learned of the Puritans, who thought misery necessary to salvation, and clean a little at the time, so as to avoid a deluge of soap suds twice a year. It stands to reason that if a daily scrubbing is administered there will not be the need of a yearly turning out to be scrubbed. But it is very hard to convince the old fashioned of this fact, self evident though it be.

Artistic Matting.
The old fashioned matting users, accustomed to the plain, set patterns which were the only ones come-at-able even a few years ago, would open their eyes at the graceful designs and dainty colorings of straw matting as it is found today. A unique design has moderate sized clover leaves in maroon color or sprinkled here and there over a pale straw colored groundwork. Another has a vivid green, velvet looking spot distinguishing a dull green background. A novel pattern has leaves in autumn tints scattered over a delicate groundwork in which the slightest suggestion of blue is introduced. Some people cling to the old fashioned red and white plaids and all over white and green and white checks that the Chinese make, and really they give entire satisfaction, being unpretentious and durable.

New Use For Electricity.
Dr. W. J. Herdman of the medical faculty at Ann Arbor university has discovered a new use for electricity. It is fattening pigs. There is no joke about the experiment. He has used two cages of guinea pigs for the experiment, says the Chicago Record. The pigs in each cage were the same size. Around one cage he strung electric wires which were changed daily. The pigs in this cage gained 10 per cent more in weight in a given time than the pigs in the cage where there was no electricity.

WITH THE HUMORIST.

"The arrival of Admiral Dewey is expected to be one thing on the 'Landing business'."

"Yes; times were booming when Dewey went to the Philippines, too?"—Chicago Post.

"How do the boys find it?" asked a nation outsider.

"The boys are all right, but the ex-juniors are the ones who are the most enthusiastic about it. They'll be giving it!"—Chicago Tribune.

"There's a new idea for the boys," the telephone said to a very wealthy man, "the way to be a hero is not to talk during a war."

"Huh!" cried the telephone, "that shows how the boys know about business!"—Chicago Record.

"He wouldn't say it if men's pockets are so easy to get at, while women's are so difficult!"

"She's right," the telephone explained. "A man has no business with a woman's pocket, but a woman has with a man's."

Thought the Understood.

"Hi, there," called out the guest, who wanted to add something to his order.

The waiter, however, merely looked back, nodded and went on.

Fifteen minutes later he brought on the woodcock, done to a turn.

"Waiter," said the guest, "this is overripe!"

"Yes, sir. Didn't you boiler at me you wanted it high?"

A Feminine Inference.
"It always exasperates me to meet Josephine Jenkins, whom you used to be sweet on."

"Why, my dear?"

"She always looks at you as if she could have married you if she had wanted to."—Chicago Record.

The second game yesterday with Torreyson's alleged ball players was even easier than that of the morning, when the Fort Waynes won by a score of 12 to 5. Harper and Sample were opposed to each other and the Grand Rapids twirler had speed and curves to burn, but the support given him was simply execrable. The seven errors chalked against the "Misfits" do not register all the misplays, because there were innumerable instances where poor judgment helped the Fort Waynes along in the run getting. The only redeeming features in the play of the visitors was the batting of Collins and Bradley. Sample was not at his best and twice laid the ball over the plate just where Bradley wants the sphere to come and both times the Grand Rapids right fielder hit it over the fence. Torreyson played the same engagement once with the bases full.

The work of the home team was high class. They accepted every opportunity to score runs and had "ginger" to burn. The work of Flood at second was very fast and his batting and that of Glasscock was high class. The best story of the game is told in the following tabulated score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

The Shamrocks won from the Paynes yesterday by a score of 12 to 0 before a fair crowd. At no time did the Ohioans have a chance to win.

President Guggenheim, of the Youngstown team, has received a $1,000 check from F. DeHaas Robinson to pay for the release of Pitcher McBride.

Glasscock had another great day with the stick, hitting out four two-baggers and two singles in the two games. Good hitting is so common with the "old man" that nothing is thought of it when Jack lines out the bingles.

The Grand Rapids papers assert that Torreyson is talking of asserting berths with Tom Loftus and transferring his team to Columbus. The move might be a good one, but the Inter-State should see to it that Torreyson does not control.

Every team that played in the Inter-State and National leagues yesterday either won or lost two games. There was not one split even. Indianapolis and Columbus were the only teams in the Western league to win and lose a game. This is a record.

"Tacks" Latimer has received word from Dick Ewing to go to Cincinnati for a twenty days' trial. It is wrong for the big managers to fool Latimer as they do. He is outclassed by half a dozen back-stops in the Inter-State, but somehow he has become imbued with the idea that he is a first-class catcher.

The Maroons went to Mentone yesterday and won and lost a game. The victory was 5 to 4 and the defeat 14 to 4. Pressler saved the Maroons a shut-out in the second game by hitting the ball over the fence in the seventh inning when three men were on bases. The Fort Wayne batteries were Yates and Welch and Lutz and Welch.

Flood made a catch of a liner yesterday that is not often duplicated. It was three feet over his head. Tim went into the air, stuck up his mit, the ball hit it and the batter was out. The average second baseman could not have leaped within a foot of the flying sphere. He also made a great catch of a high fly in short center. Belden did some fine outfielding, too.

The attendance at the two games was very slim, not to exceed 1,000 people witnessing both games. The league has itself to blame by sending such an attraction to Fort Wayne as the Grand Rapids "misfits," who had lost five straight games on the Fort Wayne grounds less than two weeks ago. The "fans" simply would not be skinned by giving up their money to see such an aggregation as Torreyson has collected together.

Bergen is so quiet and unassuming that not much is heard of his catching, but to an unprejudiced observer, one who sees all the points of the game, it is his great work behind the bat that is helping the Hoosiers up the ladder. In the Inter-State there are no better catchers and he is certain to play in a bigger league before long. Manager Glasscock is not pining for any of the bigger league managers to see him at work for fear they might take him.

Umpire Colgan admits that when he called the last game at Dayton he believed that the Dayton management was telling the truth when they said the last train for Grand Rapids left at 5:15. If there was a later train Colgan says the game should be played over. Manager Glasscock has asked President Power for an immediate decision, and if the game is thrown out will play a double-header at Dayton next Saturday.

Had Dayton done its duty yesterday Toledo wouldn't have such a "hunch" on the lead.

The last game of the season on the home grounds with Grand Rapids is scheduled for this afternoon and if Reiman succeeds in throwing down the Furniture Makers they will have played ten games here without a victory. There is some good material left in the team, but Frank Torreyson has played an engagement in the Inter-State this season that should bar him out of the league hereafter. He keeps signing men right along, carries them for a few days and then lets them go. Why doesn't some enterprising Grand Rapids citizen get the team from Torreyson and give that hustling city a winner? Torreyson will never do it. He has already released Collins, the best batter on the team, and it is said will compel pitchers to play in the outfield. Good-day, Torreyson, everybody here is glad you are not coming back.

THE FOURTH OF JULY FIRES.

THE FIRE LADDIES GIVEN PLENTY TO DO.

The Thieme Block Badly Damaged and Clothing Stock Injured—

Other Blazes in the City.

About 11 o'clock last evening Aleck Martin, the liverrman, noticed smoke issuing from a window in the Thieme block, at the corner of East Columbia and Clinton streets. When the department arrived it experienced considerable difficulty in locating the blaze, which was at last found to be under a stairway between the second and third floors of the building, in the rooms recently occupied by Editor Samlhaugen, of the Staats Zeitung. The fire was soon under control, but the damage to the stock amounted to about $2,000 and $500 to the building, which is fully covered by insurance.

CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE.

A fire which originated in the residence at 45 Smith street, owned by John Bleich, gave the department a run to that vicinity yesterday. Before the department arrived the fire had gained much headway and had spread to the house at 43, owned by L. Helfer, which was damaged to the extent of $150, and to No. 47, owned by Mr. Bleich. The damage to the two houses owned by Mr. Bleich will amount to $1,500, which is covered by insurance.

INCENDIARY FIRE.

A fire at 305 East Lewis street, in the house owned by E. R. Barva, and supposed to be of incendiary origin, gave the department a run to that locality yesterday afternoon at about 2 o'clock. Damage, $100.

SKY ROCKET CAUSES BLAZE.

Sparks from a sky rocket ignited the roof of the house at 25 Baker street, owned by Mrs. Margaret Hartnett, last evening. The department was called out and extinguished the blaze after about $25 worth of damage had been done.

IMPROMPTU DISPLAY.

Philip Dondoro, who owns a fruit stand on East Main street, between Calhoun and Clinton, had quite a celebration at his place of business last evening. He had lit the fuse of a Roman candle and some sparks from it set fire to some fire crackers on a stand in front of the store. The racket that followed reminded one of the charge at San Juan hill and was highly appreciated by the small crowd that soon assembled. The fire department was called out and soon extinguished the flames. The loss will be about $50.

BLAZE AT WEIL BROS.

Watchman Barnet discovered fire in a heap of rags in the rear of the Weil Bros. warehouse, on East Columbia street, last evening. The firemen soon extinguished the blaze. Cause of the fire is supposed to be spontaneous combustion.

NO DECISION MADE.

Judge Hench this morning announced that he would decide the injunction commenced by Judge Lowry against the Allen County Loan and Savings association Thursday morning.

PIONEER IS CALLED TO REST.

MRS. FANNIE MICHAELS ANSWERS THE SUMMONS.

Had Lived in Allen County More Than Sixty Years—Other Deaths and Funerals.

At 5 o'clock Tuesday evening Mrs. Fannie Michael, one of the pioneers of Allen county, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Firestone, a mile east of the school for feeble minded. She had reached the advanced age of eighty-five before the once rugged constitution was vanquished in its battle with years.

Mrs. Michael was born in Lancaster county, Pa., in 1814 and came to Allen county in 1838, at a time when most of the territory now occupied by the city of Fort Wayne was yet a virgin forest. For more than sixty years she had lived within its borders and witnessed time's transformations upon this section. Her husband died many years ago and three children also preceded the mother to the life beyond. Two children survive—Mrs. Firestone and Philip Michael, both of whom reside east of this city. There are also seventeen grandchildren and twenty-eight great grandchildren.

The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Firestone, conducted by Rev. L. L. Henson. The interment will occur at New Haven.

HERING.

W. Frank Hering died Tuesday afternoon at Hope hospital from an abscess of the brain. Mr. Hering was a young man of excellent character, widely known among the printing fraternity and universally esteemed. He boarded at 5 Monroe street, and while his health has been poor for some time, it was only last week that his illness compelled him to take to his bed. He was removed to the hospital Sunday afternoon for treatment. Mr. Hering was twenty-nine years of age and came to Fort Wayne nine years ago. He was a printer by occupation and was employed by the Aldine Printing company until failing health compelled him to retire a short time ago.

Mr. Hering was a prominent member of the Typographical union and had a wide circle of friends. He was a devout member of Trinity English Lutheran church and was universally a favorite with his acquaintances. He was engaged to be married to Miss Minnie Cook, an estimable young lady of this city, with whom he had kept company several years. The marriage was to have been solemnized next Sunday and the severe shock caused by his untimely death has fairly prostrated his fiancée. She was with him at the time of his death. Mr. Hering's sister, Miss Amanda Hering, of Canton, Ohio, was also at his bedside. Mr. Hering's father and mother are still living and reside at Canton, Ohio. Surviving him are also three sisters and two brothers.

The remains were shipped to the home of his parents at Canton, Ohio.

Short services were held at 11 o'clock this morning at Kleehn's undertaking parlors by Rev. Samuel Wagenhals, pastor of Trinity English Lutheran church, of which the deceased was a member.

CURTIS.

Delbert Curtis, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Curtis, of 65 Boone street, died Tuesday afternoon from spinal disease, at the age of six months.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

GEISTDOERFER.

The funeral services of Catherine Geistdoerfer will occur Thursday at 2 p. m. from the residence, on the Hicksville road.

ANDREW CARNEGIE HONORED.

Aberdeen, Scotland, July 5.—The freedom of Tain, Cathness, was bestowed upon Andrew Carnegie to-day. The town was decorated with flags and bunting, the Union Jack and stars and stripes floating side by side over mottos of welcome. The provost in conferring the freedom of the town said the world had never seen a man comparable with the "great and distinguished Scotch-American in the magnitude of his liberality to public libraries and in the advancement of art and education, upon which, in Great Britain and America, he has expended $15,000,000." Mr. Carnegie made a brief reply.

DRESS FOR GIRLS.

Simple but Picturesque Creeting and Seaside Frocks.

Now is the time upon us when we may expect summer days, and the outfit for girls is a thing to be seriously considered if it has not already been provided. As the average healthy child partakes of as many athletic sports and spends her summers much as do her mother and sisters, it is only right that, like them, she should be fittingly attired.

Of course so many holidays are spent by the sea, on river or on lake that a pretty yachting or boating dress is almost a necessity. Then, too, a neat wheeling costume goes almost without saying. The two designs given may therefore supply a popular need, the more so because they are quite simple in design and do not present many difficulties to the home dressmaker.

One design, which gives a suggestion for a simple, smart little yachting frock, is carried out in the ever favorite combination of scarlet and white and might be worn suitably by a girl between 10 and 14. The skirt is in scarlet serge, and this is chosen of a fine make; the pattern is a slightly gored one, with the fullness graduated all the way round, the back being arranged in close gathers. For trimming narrow white woolen braid is employed, about a quarter of an inch in width, and this is laid on flatly in ten rows, with the space of the braid itself between each row. The vest might be replaced by a white one, if liked, for a change. For headgear a scarlet fisherman's cap would be the best or a little white sailor with a red ribbon.

The second sketch shows a useful and practical cycling costume for a girl a little older. It is carried out in a stone gray beige with a little relief in white. The slight fullness of the skirt is arranged in two flat plaits at the back. Three inches above the skirt edge is placed a narrow crossway band of white cloth.

The bodice is made with slightly gathered backs and fronts. A box plait of white conceals the fastenings in front, and this is decorated with small, round gilt buttons arranged in sets of three, as may be seen by the sketch. The turnover collar and cuffs to the plain coat sleeves are in white, while a white waistband fastened with silver buckles encircles the waist. For headgear may be suggested a white Tam O'Shanter trimmed with a twist of ribbon and white quills.

A Device Worth Considering.

A revolving cupboard is a convenience described and illustrated in the Ohio Farmer. This very handy device is constructed between the kitchen and dining room. An aperture like a doorway is cut through the wall with frame and casing 32 inches wide and 5 feet high, except that the cupboard does not reach within one foot of the floor.

A post the proper length, made from 2 inch material, occupies the center on which the shelves and partition boards are fastened or built. The partitions are made from two boards 10 inches wide, screwed to one side of the post and reach to the frame with a close fit, so as to turn without friction. The shelves are also REVOLVING CUPBOARDS, made of 16 inch boards cut in half circles and placed on either side of the partition at such distances apart as to suit the dishes and other ware to be used on them. After fastening on the shelves they will need supporting in front on both sides, with round or turned posts, set in flush with the edges of the shelves, so as to pass the frame when revolving. To make the cupboard revolve easily, a pivot should be driven into the bottom of post and then filed to a neat roundness within three-fourths inch of base of post and a socket made by drilling a hole a little larger than the pivot into an iron plate one-half inch. The top spindle only needs a plate with hole in it. The cupboard revolves when turned by hand. This arrangement does away with carrying dishes or courses for the table. While the first course is being eaten the cook fills the opposite side in kitchen, then the soiled dishes from the first are placed on the shelves and the cupboard turned with the next course into dining room.

Faded Carpets Redyed.

It may be news to some of the good housekeepers that where dyeing establishments are easily accessible carpets may be dyed, when faded and worn, just the same as many other things. This is often done, especially with hotel and apartment house floor coverings. Carpets are usually redyed in a solid color, what color will take best depending on the original hue. Through this fresh coloring the original design usually shows, not in colors, but outlined as a darker shade of the new color.

It looks as though the Spanish mobs have just learned that the war is over and Spain is licked. Such riots as those at Valencia and elsewhere go to show that the Spanish government has about as much trouble as it can tackle right at home. It did not let go of those colonies a moment too soon.

Now that Secretary Alger and Governor Pingree have both denied it the general belief that there is an alliance between the two is growing rapidly.

Admiral Dewey is said to have formally accepted an invitation to open the Ohio centennial to be held at Toledo and the New York Times in announcing the fact mentions it in the headlines to the item, and also asserts that there will be "other" exhibits. The headlines were probably written by the advertising man.

It is not a pleasant commentary on the patriotism of this city that on the day of the nation's birthday from the flagstaff in the little park which marks the site of the old fort which Gen. Anthony Wayne built when the final conquest of the savages was begun in what is now the great northwest. That place is his tomb. The flag of the republic should wave over the place every day. Some time ago The Sentinel called attention to this and urged the city government to make necessary provision for it. The matter is again urged. The expense will be but a trifle, and should have no weight. Moist Old Glory over the site of old Fort Wayne.

Sir Julian Pauncefote, British ambassador to the United States, announces that he will relinquish his diplomatic post next April. Sir Julian is a diplomat whose departure will be greatly regretted. Unlike his immediate predecessor and some other envoys sent by Great Britain to Washington, he has avoided making mistakes, his nearest approach to one being over the question of precedence at the last inauguration. He has certainly done much towards drawing the two nations closer together, and has shown himself a consistent friend of the country to which he is accredited. Let us hope that his successor will possess the same virtues.

At Montpelier George Neusbaum, a wealthy farmer, was struck by a south-bound Lake Erie and Western passenger train and seriously injured. He was trying to cross the track and the engine struck the buggy, breaking it to splinters. Mr. Neusbaum was thrown about twenty feet. The horse was not hurt.

Sunday morning Rev. Daniels, of the M. E. church at Decatur, announced that by a unanimous vote of the official board all women would be requested to remove their hats during services. The women complied with the request and hats disappeared at once, much to the glowing satisfaction of the men present.

Quite a sensation was started at Hamilton by the elopement of Delbert Ackley and Mary Houlton. Ackley is a barber whose home is at Hicksville. He was a member of company H, 157th regiment. Miss Houlton is a daughter of John Houlton, a prominent farmer living about three miles south of Hamilton, a son of the first settler of DeKalb county. Mr. Houlton has followed the runaways, but is not likely to catch them.

MONROEVILLE IS SCORCHED.*LOSS OF $2,000 FROM FOURTH OF JULY BLAZE.

William Ramsey's Residence, a Factory and Other Buildings Destroyed—Firecrackers Did It.

Two thousand dollars went up in smoke at Monroeville Tuesday afternoon, and it is presumed that the festive fire cracker is responsible for it. The fire was first discovered in a barn on the premises of Dr. Kaufman, and spread so rapidly that it could not be controlled. It quickly communicated to a barn adjoining owned by William Dickinson, then to the residence of William Ramsey, and finally to the old Redelsheimer factory, all of which were totally destroyed.

The volunteer fire department of the town worked heroically, but were unequal to the task, and a request was sent to Fort Wayne for aid. The call came at a time when the department in this city was busy with several blazes, and before attention could be given to the request the flames had burned everything in their path and were under control.

The loss falls most heavily on Mr. Ramsey. The Redelsheimer mill was not used, but there was some valuable machinery in the building. The total loss will be $2,000, and the only loser who had insurance was Dr. Kaufman, who carried $200 on his barn.

HELLER WON THEM ALL.

Lee Heller carried off all the first prizes at the bicycle races at Robison park yesterday afternoon. He has been in training for some time and was in the pink of condition for making time as his record shows. A large crowd saw the races from the grand stand and manifested great enthusiasm at the work done by the racers. Marion Black, assisted by several of the local wheelmen who acted as judges, starters and time keepers, superintended the races. The prizes for the events were all given by him. Higgins and Aldrich paced the riders on a tandem in the one mile open and Nieman and Collagen paced in the two mile open.

A summary of the races follows: Half Mile Open—Heller, won; Weber, second; Hitchcock, third. Time, 1:30.

One Mile Open—Heller, won; Misner, second; Weber, third. Time, 2:33 3-5.

Two Mile Open—Heller, won; Misner, second; Hitchcock, third. Time, 5:16 2-5.

CHINA IS EMBARRASSED.

Washington, July 5.—The sudden rise in copper is responsible for extraordinary difficulties now confronting the Chinese currency system, according to the United States consul. The result has been that the cash, or subsidiary Chinese coin, is now worth much more than its token value in silver. In fact, the Chinese government is paying 1.35 taels for the copper and zinc out of which is minted the cash to make one tael in the aggregate. The consul says that in the end the present scarcity in cash will cause the issue of silver subsidiary coinage.

STRIKE ABANDONED.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 5.—The proposed strike at the Homestead plant of the Carnegie Steel company has been abandoned. At the meeting of the local lodge at Homestead last night it was decided that the present is an inopportune time to strike. The work of strengthening the organization will be continued.

WAYNE CHIEF WON THE RACE.*TOO FAST FOR RED ELGIN IN THE FREE-FOR-ALL.

A Big Crowd Saw Some Fine Racing at Centlivre Park Between Fort Wayne Horses.

The first race meeting under the auspices of the Fort Wayne Amateur association was a big success and all lovers of the harness horse were well repaid for their attendance at Centlivre park Tuesday afternoon. The best horses in the city were entered and although the drivers were amateur each one of them demonstrated that he knew something about holding the reins over a trotter or pacer. The great interest of the hundreds of people even including most of the ladies attended, was in the free-for-all for trotters and pacers. The contestants were Red Elgin, Frank J. Gruber's fast pacer; Wayne Chief, Herman Tapp's speedy trotting stallion, and Charles Lehr's fine trotting mare, Helen K. All of the horses have participated in races and the Gruber pacer has the best record, the knowing ones all selecting him to win easily. There were some, however, who had seen Wayne Chief at work for a couple of weeks and knew that he was a wonderfully improved horse, and they were not surprised when Herman Tapp, his owner, drove him to victory in two straight heats, the first in 2:25 1/4. Red Elgin was second in both heats and Helen K. third. The owners are not satisfied and later the same racers may contest when they are all in the pink of condition.

Ab. Tausley drove two winners. Anna D. owned and driven by Tom Doyle, did not win a heat in the Class C pace, but she was the contending horse each time. Summaries: CLASS C PACE.

MAY SOON BE RELEASED.

Washington, July 5.—The war department has received from General Otis advice relative to the negotiations proceeding in Luzon between the Spanish commissioners and Aguinaldo looking to the release of the Spanish prisoners. General Otis in his report indicates that there is a fair prospect for these unfortunate being set free; if not all of them, then certainly a large number. It is not known whether the captives of the Yorktown crew are to be included in the prisoners to be released, but it is feared that owing to their different statuses, they will be held by the insurgents.

GOLD POURING INTO DAWSON.

San Francisco, July 5.—A special from Seattle says: Gold dust was pouring into Dawson when the Humboldt's passengers left. They allege that on the morning of June 20 a pack train of twenty horses, each animal carrying 200 pounds of gold dust, arrived from Eldorado Creek. There were two tons of it, worth fully $1,000,000. It is said that eleven of the horses were weighted down with dust from one claim. Another Dawson party arrived today on the Dirigo. Jos. Putra and Henry Berry had jointly 700 pounds of dust. Aside from this no one man had to exceed fifty pounds. The total on the vessel was about $150,000. The City of Topeka is close behind the Dirigo with considerable treasure.

Richard Emmons, J. Gosham and Orin W. Jackson sought to reach the Copper river section from Dawson and came near starving to death. Their Indian guide had deserted and the men were lost for ten days. Miners have reached Dawson from Porcupine river without gold. Some say they prospected all the rivers as far north as Herschel Island, in the Arctic ocean, but did not find anything. A town site has been located about twenty miles above Fort Selkirk. A copper ledge, outcroppings of which have been traced a distance of sixteen miles, has been located at Williamsport by a San Francisco syndicate.

Probably England's Oldest Soldier. The Eighteenth Hussars have lost their "old soldier"—probably the oldest soldier in the British army—Sergeant Major Trump, who died exactly forty-nine years to the day after enlistment. He was 28 years of age when he enlisted as a saddler, and therefore would be 77 years old. He kept at his work until the last.

THE MARKETS.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, July 5.—Weak cables, an increase in the English and American visible supply, together with large north-west receipts, and favorable crop reports, combined to form a weaker wheat market to-day. September opened at 74½¢ compared with 75½¢ Saturday's closing price. The market sold off steadily to 74¼¢. Shorts covered in a small way but the market only rallied ¼¢ and then became dull.

Duluth and Minneapolis receipts were 1,378 cars (four days' business) against 815 last week and 277 cars ago. Local receipts were 187 cars, seven of contract grade. This was a three days' accumulation. The visible supply showed an increase of 1,270,000 bushels.

Corn opened a shade lower at 34½¢, a decline from 34½¢ to 33½¢ followed. Traders were moderate sellers. Receipts were 2,364 cars.

Oats ruled weak with other grains. An accumulation of 863 cars at Chicago during the holidays helped depress the market. September opened unchanged at 21½¢ and declined steadily to 21¼¢.

Provisions were heavy on large receipts. September pork opened 2½¢ under Saturday's at $8.55, selling down to $8.47½. September lard opened steady at $5.20 to $5.22½.

September ribs opened unchanged at $4.90 and rallied to $4.92½.

CHICAGO CLOSING PRICES.

Chicago, July 5.—Wheat—July, 72½¢; September, 73½¢ to 75¢; December, 75½¢.

Corn—July, 33½¢; September, 33½¢; December, 33½¢; May, 34½¢ to 34½¢.

Oats—July, 23½¢; September, 20½¢; December, 21½¢ to 21½¢; May, 23¢.

Pork—July, $8.30; September, $8.57½.

Lard—July, $5.05 to $5.05½; September, $5.17½ to $5.20.

Ribs—July, $4.75; September, $4.90.

Flax—Cash N. W., $1.03½; Cash S. W., $1.01; July, $1.00.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, July 5.—Estimated receipts of hogs to-day, 42,000; to-morrow, 30,000. Market shade lower. Mixed and butchers, $3.75 to $3.97½; good heavy, $3.80 to $3.95; rough heavy, $3.60 to $3.75; light, $3.80 to $4.02½.

Cattle—Receipts, 10,000; market shade lower. Steers, $4.75 to $5.00; cows and heifers, $2.00 to $5.00; Texas steers, $4.00 to $5.10; stockers and feeders, $3.60 to $4.90.

DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 5.—Opening prices for stocks showed gains after the three days' holiday, but the taking of profits in Pennsylvania and New York Central caused some slight hesitation.

The latter stock sold off a point after a fractional rise. Brooklyn Transit rose 2½¢ on the failure of the anticipated strike to materialize.

Sugar rose a point in the railroad list. Northern Pacific and Erie first preferred were conspicuously strong, the latter rising 1¼¢.

Realizations in the trunk lines caused sympathetic recessions in the general market and the downward movement was accelerated by bear aggression in a few spots.

Losses, however, in the standard group were small outside of Northwest, which lost 2 points. American smelting preferred went off 2½¢ on liquidation and profit taking put Brooklyn Transit down a point.

An improved tone soon developed through heavy purchases of sugar, which sold up 3½¢ per cent.

While the general market showed a disposition to rise the recoveries did not exceed a small fraction.

The publication of numerous traffic statements showing exceptional increases in earnings of many of the principal lines caused prices to advance sharply. The grangers and some of the southern and southwestern railroads led. The movement reached a stop toward noon, owing to the firmness of call money.

Losses, however, were a mere fraction and business dwindled considerably on the down grade.

Sales of stocks to noon, 337,822 shares.

Railroad bonds were in fair request at higher prices.

The demand for the coalers was the feature of the last hour, prices in the group rising from 1 to 2½¢.

Tennessee coal rose a point and Atchafalaya preferred advanced above 60. Under cover of the strength there was some realizing in the specialties and grangers. New York Central and Pennsylvania receded to the lowest.

The market took the realizing well and buying orders at the lower level checked the decline. The closing was quiet and firm and showed mixed net changes.

TRULY EXASPERATING.

The Hyde Park Man Had a Right to Feel Vexed.

"By George," said a Hyde Park man who was riding down town in an early train yesterday. "I detect people who are so blamed positive about everything."

"It is a disagreeable habit," the passenger who sat next to him admitted, "and it always pleases me to see such people confronted with proofs that they are in the wrong."

"Yes, it does me too. My wife's cousin has been visiting us for several days, and he's one of those know it all fellows. You can't tell him anything. Yesterday morning he was reading about this Dreyfus trial, and I gave him a pointer on how to pronounce a French word that was used. But do you suppose he was willing to admit that I knew more about it than he did?"

"I suppose not."

"No. He sat there, right at my own table and argued with me for 20 minutes trying to show that I didn't know what I was talking about. Such people make me weary."

"Why don't you get a French dictionary and prove to him that he was wrong?"

"Oh! I looked it up yesterday and found that I was mistaken myself, but what makes me mad is the fact that he was so blamed positive about it."—Chicago Times-Herald.

An Easy Order to Fill.

The mother of the Children's home in Wichita, Kan., has received a letter from a man who wants to adopt a child.

"Send one," he says, "that is lively and will laugh and cry and get into mischief. I am 58 years old, and I would give the world for a child that will laugh and get in my way and bother me. We'll give it a good home. I have raised five children, but they are all gone now, and I can tell you there is nothing so sweet as the bother of children."—New York Tribune.

GREAT SHIP TUNNEL.

STARTLING SCHEME FOR UNITING TWO OCEANS.

German Engineering Expert Proposes to Build a Canal Across the Isthmus Between North and South America—A Hole Through a Mountain.

G. A. Karwiese, the German engineering expert, who was consulting engineer in the construction of the Suez Canal, now proposes to build a still more remarkable ship canal across the isthmus between North and South America.

His plan is to tunnel through a mountain range. By this plan full rigged ships with masts reaching up 180 feet high could sail right through the mountain range four abreast. The object of such a tunnel and unheard of undertaking as this is to make the shortest possible cut through the isthmus connecting North and South America. Some time ago this plan of Mr. Karwiese was submitted to Admiral Walker of the Nicaragua Canal Commission. The proposed Nicaragua Canal which the United States Government has had repeated surveys made for will have to be 169 miles long. Mr. Karwiese's proposed canal would be but eleven miles long. Only one and two-thirds miles of this would be a tunnel through the mountain. The other nine miles would be simply the enlarging of existing waterways leading to the Atlantic and Pacific.

The interior of the ship tunnel could be lighted by electricity, and motor energy supplied by electrical power transformed from the tides by machines especially constructed for that purpose. Such a machine already exists and has been patented by William Rowman, of Norfolk, N. Y.

A single lock at each terminus of canal construction would absolutely control the water level between the two oceans. These locks would, of course, be necessary to prevent a flood tide on one side of the isthmus from rushing through the artificial opening between the continents. By this method navigation through the isthmus in still water and on ocean level would be practically possible. No other plan ever suggested provides for an ocean level canal.

Engineer Karwiese claims that such a canal could be built in two years for $18,000,000.

The lowest estimate for the Nicaragua Canal is $188,000,000 and five years' time for construction.

So great an undertaking as boring a hole through a mountain range big enough for ships to sail through would seem impossible, were it suggested by any lesser authority than Mr. Karwiese.

Mr. Karwiese was consulting engineer in the designing and building of the canal through the Isthmus of Suez, and for a short time was engaged with De Lesseps in Panama. Almost at the start he became convinced that the Panama route would ultimately be abandoned, and says upon investigation he found that the existing isthmian surveys were inaccurate and in many instances merely a matter of guesswork.

Accordingly, in 1891 he began a systematic survey of the whole isthmus, which he has completed, and is now possessed of maps, soundings and other records, all convincing facts. He is, of course, familiar with the Nicaragua region, and condemns the course there with objections similar to those actually encountered in Panama.

The proposed new route involves some features altogether novel in canal building, but it is claimed to be not only shorter, cheaper and far more practical than any, but cheaper and far more practical than any other course ever suggested. Mr. Karwiese's experience in canal building and fame as an expert, assure its consideration by the United States Government. It is probable that Mr. Karwiese will accompany on their surveys the Isthmian Canal Commission recently appointed by the President to investigate all routes, and will personally go over the ground of his work with the officers of the Government.

According to surveys and estimates furnished by Mr. Karwiese, a ship tunnel canal can be completed through the lower Isthmus of Panama, between the Gulf of Darien and the bed of the Sania Maria River. This region is known as the Apiti Valley, and is crossed by a mountain range of the Cordillera range of ## Private Property.

According to a decision of the Court of Errors and Appeals of New Jersey, property owners need not permit telegraph poles, telephone poles and electric light poles to be placed on the high ways in front of their property without due compensation. Corporations cannot set their poles in the night time or at any other time when they can take property owners' unaware and thus secure a right of way. They must agree with the property owners as to the rate of compensation, or, if they cannot agree, they must go to court and have the issue adjudicated there.

Frog Skin Leather.

A little while ago an ingenious tanner produced some pretty leather made of frog skin. In some instances, as in the mackerel and the bonito and the red sea perch, he managed to retain very nearly the natural colors. But frog skin is the latest introduction, and while it is the blondest of all known leathers it is at the same time the toughest.

ENGLISH LIGHTHOUSE WHICH IS OFTEN MOVED.

Owing to the encroachments of the sea, the beach between Yarmouth and Harwich, England, is slowly disappearing. So threatening has this encroachment grown in the neighborhood mentioned that it has been found necessary to remove the Lighthouse Light, 250 feet further inland. As illustrating the rapid incursions which the sea is making at this place, it may be mentioned that this is the third time the lighthouse has had to be removed farther back.

The former foundation, together with a number of cottages which it owned, are now mostly under water. As the lighthouse weighs 120 tons, the undertaking is one of considerable difficulty. The light was frequently quite surrounded by water, imprisoning the keepers within. So great had the incursion become and, sometimes, positive of its growth that the Trinity Brothers finally decided to remove the structure on barge.

The light was originally a frame of woodwork, and was shifted from the Dunes to the beach in 1822, being superseded by the present more substantial structure in 1866. It stood on a small island, which is situated on the beach above. By keeping the two lights in a direct line ships are enabled to pass in safety through the Sunkard channel, which is about a quarter of a mile broad and lies between the Home and Barnard Sands.

BURNS LIKE COAL.

Kettle Point Beach One of the Most Remarkable Places in Canada.

One of the most remarkable places in Canada is Kettle point, on the southern shore of Lake Huron, about twelve miles from Forest. The beach is composed of a black, bituminous shale level and smooth, divided into sections by cleavage, like blocks of ice seen for storage. This shale is highly combustible and when broken up into fragments and set on fire may be kept burning for months. In places, indeed, it has been in fire for years, serving as an extraordinary natural beacon light to sailors far out on the lake. The great objects of interest at Kettle point, however, are the enormous "kettles," like immense cannon balls, some of which are five feet across. These enormous concretions, several of which are to be seen scattered about, are imbedded in the strata, which they push aside as they increase in size. They radiate from a center and were doubtless formed by particles attached to a nucleus by magnetic force. The kettles too will burn like soft coal, and many of them have been removed to ornament the lawns of colleges and private houses.

Carnauba a Wonder of Tree.

Nature does some wonderful things in the tropics toward supporting a population rendered lazy by her climatic moods in those regions. For example, there is a carnauba palm growing in Brazil which yields a nutritious milk from which flour is made. The same tree produces edible nuts from which a fair imitation of coffee may be extracted; its roots have medicinal properties; its palmiste is eaten as a vegetable, yields a sugar and a sago, both very nutritious, and from it wine and vinegar are produced. The stem contains a pith which can be used for cork, is covered with a straw, that is woven into hats, baskets, brooms and mats; the wood of the stem is used in the manufacture of musical instruments, for building material or ground up for paper and cloth, with the pith punched out it becomes available for pump stock and tubes. And, finally, this wonderful tree gives up a precious wax much used for making fine candles.

The carnauba tree is naturally highly prized in Brazil, since it supplies about all of man's necessities. But what additional value it would have if it could be grown in this temperate zone, where humanity has been taught by necessity to hustle for subsistence. If the carnauba could be grown by the North American farmer there would be a vast amount of surplus energy to be turned into other avenues or wasted. Nature is a wise distributor.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Men with Green Hair.

In the district surrounding the copper mines of Cornwall, Cuba, Chile and other places where the ore is abundant, a curious sight is to be seen in the shape of men with hair that is green. This is not as might be imagined, a fad, but the grave results produced by the men's surroundings. The crude ore, in order to secure a more marketable article, is roasted in enormous furnaces, and it is some strange emanation from the smelter's copper that effects this chemical change in the hair of the miners, and turns it as green as grass. Investigations have proved that the fumes from the furnaces contain a certain quantity of arsenical matter, an effluvia causes the startling change, although the texture and growth of the hair suffer no injury.

Feeding Bottles in Greek Days.

Those who believe that feeding bottles for babies are the result of modern civilization are out of date. The Greek nurses used to carry with them a sponge full of honey in a small pot to soothe the children from crying, and in the British museum are two Greek vases dating from 700 B. C. which are much like feeding bottles used by the Romans subsequently.

MAN WHO CHASED GROVER.

"No Pontifices for Johnson, No Fish for Cleveland!"

Hop Creek, in Tyringham, among the Berkshire hills, is a little trout stream that has become famous. Grover Cleveland, for a President of the United States, chose to go fishing in Hop creek. Armed in brown canvas coat and trousers and an old slouch hat, the partly ex-commander of the American army attempted to capture a few speckled beauties in that part of the brook which runs through Farmer Johnson's pasture. He did so in defiance of a sign which read, "No Fishing on These Premises Will Be Allowed."

Now, when the farmers and villagers thereabouts meet each other one of them is sure to remark, "I say, d'ye hear what happened to that fat fellow a-hunt on Frank Johnson's land?" And then they both chuckle until they have to beat each other on the back to keep from choking. For ex-President Cleveland was routed completely. He was caught out by John Farmer Johnson.

The ex-President sat on the bank of the little creek, dangling his legs comfortably over the edge, oblivious of everything but the fact that trout were biting beautifully. His revenues were interrupted by a choice voice yelling, "Get out of that slouch! Now, you, or I'll shoot you with my gun!"

Mr. Cleveland looked up. He saw a big man with a red face bearing down upon him at a lively pace. He did not stop to parley. He wasted no time in offering his card. He retreated hurriedly down to his carriage, twenty yards away.

This is how it all happened. Through his wife Mr. Cleveland is kin to the Richard Watson Gilder, the poet editor of the Century magazine. Mr. Gilder has a modest little cottage at Tyringham. He had invited Mr. Cleveland to come up from Princeton, N. J., on a fishing trip. The region around Tyringham is famous among sportsmen for its trout streams and quail and partridge woods.

The ex-President had accepted the poet's invitation. The two lovers of angling had selected Hop creek, the best trout stream in that section. Hop creek is a free stream for the most part, but a few farmers have put up signs of "No Trespassing." Among these was Farmer Johnson. Early in the morning Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Gilder drove down from the Riverside Hotel. It was agreed that the ex-President should start on Farmer Johnson's place and work down stream to meet the poet coming up. Mr. Cleveland had just landed a big trout when Johnson caught sight of him and proceeded to say things. The ex-President made no reply. He made tracks for safety.

"Did you know you were chasing Grover Cleveland?" some one asked Johnson after the incident had made him famous. "Well," he replied, "I calculate they ain't no need of talkin'. Melroe I did n't, maybe I didn't. But, anyhow, nobody, big guns or little, gets to go poachin' in my trout stream."

Farmer Johnson, it is said, has a grievance. When Cleveland was President, Farmer Johnson wanted to be put in command of the Tyringham post-office. He was kept in the ranks and never got over it.

A TORNADO'S BIRTH.

How the Big Western Twisters Come In-to Being.

Some Exploded Theories.

By Sewell Ford.

There are plenty of theories about the origin of tornadoes but none that is generally accepted. The experts do not agree and the unscientific citizen is content if he can dodge destruction. The tornado does not lend itself readily to investigation. It arrives unexpectedly, goes on its way in a brisk business like manner and shows no inclination to stick out its tongue or have its pulse felt. Even the most enthusiastic tornado investigator will abandon his pursuit and hunt the cellar when he meets a tornado face to face.

Under these conditions it is to be wondered that we really know so little about the why and wherefore of the big twisters which every year lay heavy tribute of lives and property?

But from a safe distance scientific gentlemen have watched the progress of whirling wind-forms, have inspected its debris strewn path, have interviewed dazed survivors and have deduced elaborate theories. They have also collected many interesting facts about tornadoes. These gentlemen, while not boasting intimate knowledge of tornadoes, can at least claim a nodding acquaintance.

The unscientific public has its own traditions, many of them correct and others which in the light of recent knowledge have been shown to be wholly absurd.

In the first place the terms cyclone and tornado are not synonymous, though often so used. A cyclone is a great storm attended by very high winds. It spreads over a wide area of country. A tornado is a local disturbance affecting a limited area. Cyclones are not ordinarily destructive. Tornadoes do much mischief. Tornadoes sometimes accompany cyclones and hence the confusion of the terms.

In a general way it is agreed that the evolution of a tornado begins with the meeting of large currents of hot air with similar currents of cool air under peculiar atmospheric conditions. In other words there occurs an aerial head on collision. The cold air being heavier forces the hot air to rise. As this takes place the currents assume a rotary motion. This is the storm center. The visible sign of this is the peculiar funnel shaped cloud which accompanies all tornadoes.

A popular idea is that the interior of a tornado cloud is practically a vacuum. This idea is incorrect according to most meteorologists. Inside the funnel the hot air is rushing upward to escape at an unknown speed. As the outer and colder currents revolve the air within is condensed.

A most plausible theory in explanation of the wonderful lifting power of a tornado is that the density of the air within the funnel and at its base makes the air really heavier than wood and stone. Hence the latter objects float just as a cork does in the water.

Some of the many freaks of tornadoes seem to bear out this theory. It is known that the tornado carries along with it a mass of wreckage which seems to float about in the storm center. The immense velocity of the air currents, combined with the density of the air itself, makes this possible. Thus stones, planks, trees, furniture, wagons, animals and human beings are carried off and dropped when they have made the circuit of the storm cloud from the vortex to the outer rim.

Another erroneous impression is that the western states are more frequently visited by tornadoes than the eastern sections of the country. But the west has no monopoly of the twister, taking its area into account.

In a record of tornadoes kept for seven years by the weather bureau, it appears that the United States suffered from an average of 60 a year. In the course of seven years the funnel shaped cloud was seen in 30 different states.

In those seven years New York state averaged two tornadoes a year, and so did New England. Kansas and Illinois, at first glance, seemed to be the champion tornado states in this record, with Missouri a close third. Kansas and Illinois had an average of nearly seven tornadoes a year for the seven years the record was kept, while Missouri had five. But when difference in area was taken into consideration and the percentage of tornado clouds to each 10,000 square miles of territory was worked out, it did not appear that Kansas, Illinois and Missouri were entitled to so much reputation as breeders of these peculiar storms.

During the seven years the percentage of tornadoes to area placed Massachusetts and Illinois side by side at the top of the list. Indiana in the frequency of tornadoes led Kansas, Georgia, Iowa, Missouri, New Jersey and Ohio were close behind Kansas in their percentages. Michigan, the scene of the most deadly visitation of this kind in 1896, showed for the seven years of the record a remarkably low percentage. It had ten tornadoes in seven years, and when area was taken into account it ranked below Alabama, Connecticut, Louisiana and most of the other states in the frequency of these storms.

One of the peculiar facts about the weather bureau tornado record for seven years was that it seemed to show Texas enjoyed practical exemption from these tornado clouds. But it was not long after the record was published that the town of Sherman, Tex., was destroyed by a twister, and since then Texas has had its full share.

After examining the preliminary conditions of over 600 tornadoes the weather bureau has come to the conclusion that it is generally impossible to give warnings far enough in advance to save any locality from the results of tornadoes. Currents of cold and hot air are constantly running about and docking one another. Once in awhile they meet, and then, before a forecaster can figure out just what is going to happen, lo, the twister has organized for business and is off over the country, ripping and tearing things with the fury of a crazy Titan.

But nature leaves out to the sky warning signals of her own. The best that the weather people can do is to teach people how to read these signals aright.

A sultry, oppressive condition of the atmosphere usually precedes a tornado. The more sensitive physically experience a sickly sensation under the influence of the sun's rays, a want of breath, a penitent exhaustion.

Another tornado sign is the formation of clouds in the southwest, unlike any ordinary formation. If they are light, their appearance is umbles smoke issuing from a burning building or straw stack, rolling upward in fantastic shapes to great heights, sometimes they are like a fine mist or quite white, like fog or a rain.

If the preliminary clouds are dark and present a deep greenish hue, this fairly forebodes very great evil; so also if they appear jet black from the center to circumference, or if this deep red color appears only in the center, gradually diminishing in intensity as the outer edges of the cloud or bank of clouds are approached.

Under ordinary circumstances clouds turn, move and dissipate without exciting special remark or perhaps thought from the casual observer. On the occasion of a tornado the formation and movement of the clouds strike some persons dumb with fear.

There seems to be some strange connection with the almost simultaneous appearance of the clouds in the south west and north west, as they do, such unusually chaotic forms as they assume from opposite directions they are suddenly thrown into the greatest confusion, rolling over each other in a well developed whirl.

Generally, following closely upon the existence of this condition, the funnel shaped tornado cloud appears against the western sky, moving boldly to the front from within this confined mass of flying clouds.

When you note these conditions, it is time to adjourn to the tornado pit. If one of these refugees is not handy, the next best thing is to go down into the cellar, get as close to the west wall as possible and say your prayers.

MADE A MONSTER FLAG.

Miss Mulford's Emblem Is 100 Feet Long and 65 Feet Wide.

During the war with Spain Miss Josephine Mulford of Madison, N. J., began work on the largest American flag ever made. It is almost finished now, and when popular subscriptions equal to the amount of the mortgage on her mother's home have been received she will present the monster flag to the United States government. The flag is 100 feet long and has a hoist of 65 feet. Each star measures

MISS JOSEPHINE MULFORD.

2 feet and 8 inches across, and on each of the 45 is embroidered the name of the state it represents with the date of the admission of the state into the Union.

The stripes are five feet wide. The binding is of extra wide and quality, having been manufactured expressly for this purpose.

Five of the stars were made in historic places in the states which they represent. Thus the Pennsylvania star was made partly in the house of Betsy Ross, where the first American flag was made; partly in the room where the first Continental congress met and partly in Independence hall. The flag contains 325,000 stitches.

SAILOR TURNS REPORTER.

One of Dewey's Men Enters Journalism.

From the gun deck to the sanctum is quite an unusual jump for a man of war's man to take, but that is what Louis S. Young has done. Until a short time ago he was one of the crew of the Olympia. He was rated as a yeoman of the third class and when he was not busy with regular sailor duties on the flagship he edited The Bounding Bellow and published it at intervals with the aid of the ship's printer.

As his three years' enlistment expired on May 1 and he saw no more fighting ahead Youngman Young concluded to accept an honorable discharge and leave the navy. In New York he made himself known to the editor of a great daily and was at once engaged as Dewey editor and reporter at large. His first contributions have been some interesting anecdotes about the admiral. In one of these he tells how Dewey suppressed an entire edition of The

LOUIS S. YOUNG.

Bounding Bellow because it contained an article severely criticizing the Japanese.

Here are two other Dewey anecdotes from Mr. Young's pen. "Shortly after the battle in Manila bay the admiral asked me why I didn't continue the paper. I told him we didn't have any paper to print on."

"Why," he said, "there's lots of it on shore."

"That afternoon a couple of the boys went ashore at Cavite and took all the blank paper in sight from the government buildings and offices, and our war issue, containing the account of our glorious victory and the Spanish defeat, was printed on captured paper of the defeated lions."

"One day after the publication of this paper Dewey sent for me, Young," said he, "you don't say very much about me in this issue. Look here; only ten lines."

"Well, admiral, I said, 'the big papers are saying everything they can think of, and my little paper would never hold all I'd have to say on the subject and do you full justice.'"

"Get out of here," he shouted. "You little scoundrel, get out of here!"

BIGGEST AMERICAN BATTLESHIP

Now Being Built by the Man Who Made the Oregon.

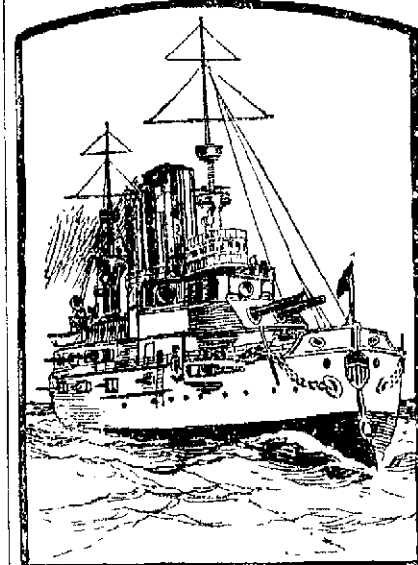

By Lieutenant H. R. Gahan.

In the same yard where the Oregon was built there was laid the other day the keel for a new battleship which will be the biggest ever constructed for the United States navy. When she is christened, some two years hence, she will be named the Ohio. She will have a length of 388 feet on the water line, which will make her 40 feet longer than the Oregon and 20 feet longer than the Iowa, today the biggest of Uncle Sam's fighting ships.

The new Ohio will cost about $2,000,000. She is being built at the Union Iron works in San Francisco, of which establishment Irving M. Scott is the head. Mr. Scott is probably the most famous builder of warships in the world, the performance of the Oregon having given him this distinction. Many of the same machinists who helped build the Oregon are at work on the new naval monster. She will not only be built just as honestly as was the Oregon but she will be faster and more formidable in many ways, as well as bigger.

With her 388 feet of water line the Ohio will have a midship width of 72 feet 5 inches, a displacement of 12,500 tons and a speed of 18 knots an hour. The Oregon's beam is 65 feet 3 inches and her displacement 10,231 tons. The Ohio will be able to carry 2,000 tons of coal in her bunkers.

Just what the actual speed of the new battleship will be no man can say, but if the record of the Oregon is taken into account it may safely be predicted that she will be the swiftest warship of her size and class afloat. The Oregon was built for a 15 knot ship, but on her trial, over a 62 knot course she went at an average speed of nearly 17 knots.

In her long race around Cape Horn during the war she made a record which will not soon be beaten by a battleship, and she turned up in Cuban waters in time to chase and overhaul Cervera's 20 knot flagship. A few months after she was sent clear around the world, and when she entered Manila bay she was still ready for duty.

The Ohio may never be given such severe tests as these, but Uncle Sam's naval experts expect that if she should be found just as ready to meet them as was the Oregon.

The blue-jackets in the navy are much interested in the building of this new battleship. Here is a conversation on the subject which I overheard at the Mate Island navy yard the other day.

"Bigger than the Iowa?" exclaimed one man of war's man. "I should say she would be. Why, mate, you could put the Iowa inside of this new one; and hang the New York from her port davits with the Baltimore swung to the starboard."

"I'd like a berth aboard of her when she's commissioned."

"If I take on again I'll have one."

The guns of the Iowa will not be as large as those of the Oregon and Iowa. Her longest rifle will be 12 inches against the 13 inch machines of the other two. She will have no 8 inch guns at all, as have the others, but her secondary battery will include sixteen 6 inch rifles. It is estimated that the smaller calibers will be more effective with smokeless powder, which is to be used exclusively in the navy of the future.

The main armor belt extends from the bow to the after turret. Amidships the steel is 12 inches thick at the top and 8 inches thick at the bottom. This thickness extends from the after to the forward turret, then tapers gradually to 1 inches at the stem. The whole side, amidships, is protected by 5 1/2 inch armor. The turrets are 12 inches thick in front.

The Ohio's engines will be of the latest design, with all the modern improvements in machinery. There will be 12 Thornycroft water tube boilers, the first of the kind to be put in any war vessel built on this coast. Scotch boilers were used in the other craft.

The Ohio will have twin propellers. On account of the boilers the smokestacks will be three in number. The Ohio will have two military masts, each having two tops. The complement of the Ohio will be 118 blue-jackets and a marine guard of 60 men. She will carry one flag officer, one commanding officer, 16 ward room officers, 12 junior officers and five warrant officers.

A FRENCH STATESMAN.

M. Poincare Has Had a Meteoric Career in Politics.

M. Poincare, the French statesman to whom President Loubet first turned after the fall of the Dupuy ministry and who made an earnest but unsuccessful attempt to organize a new cabinet, has been in politics barely a dozen years. Yet he is today one of the most able men in France, and his failure to reorganize the military reflects no discredit upon him. His rise in public affairs has been meteoric, for he is still a young man.

M. Poincare was born in Bar le Due, Meuse, in 1859. He received a legal education, but in 1887 he turned from the practice of his profession to politics. He was elected a member of the chamber of deputies, where he soon attracted attention on account of his brilliant speeches. He was re-elected for several terms and in 1891 was made minister of finance in the Dupuy cabinet. Later, when Ribot became premier, M. Poincare became minister of public instruction and of the fine arts. He served as vice president of the chamber in 1895, 1897 and 1898 and was re-elected a deputy last May.

Last November M. Poincare created something of a sensation in the chamber by declaring that while he was in the Dupuy ministry he knew nothing of the Dreyfus affair except what he read in the newspapers.

BEST WOMAN SWIMMER.

World's Champion Teaching Chicago Women How to Dive.

The members of the Chicago Woman's Athletic club are particularly fortunate. They not only have a $10,000 swimming pool, but they have for an instructor in the nautical art Mme. Marion Liljestrope, who is the champion woman swimmer of the world. She has two gold medals, one of which attests her championship, while the other was given her by the hand of King Oscar of Sweden himself at her graduation from the Royal Swimming association of Stockholm.

Mme. Liljestrope is a Swedish stunner in her aquatic feats. Diving backward from a height of 80 feet and turning a somersault before striking the water is just a little trick to be indulged in by her upon any casual occasion. From a height of 50 feet she goes through the same performance with a depth of only 6 1/2 feet of water to recover herself in. Indeed she has made successful dives from the same height into a sheet iron tank containing but 3 1/2 feet of water.

One of her prettiest feats, however, is to lie gracefully on her back, hold a Japanese parasol in one hand and fan herself with the other, while she propels herself forward with her feet. A still more difficult one is to make a dive with both hands and feet tied together in a hard knot, until they are under water and proceed on the even tenor of her way.

Mme. Liljestrope can almost say that she was born swimming. Her childhood was spent on the banks of the Weichsel, in eastern Prussia, a great flax growing country. There the river frequently overflows its banks, flooding the whole region round, so that the people are sometimes obliged to gather their flax standing up to their necks in water. She says she cannot remember when she was not as much at home in the water as on land.

After her marriage to a Swedish officer, Mme. Liljestrope became ambitious to take a degree at the Royal association and went in for the examinations. She was awarded the highest honors ever given a woman graduate.

NEBRASKA'S FIGHTING REGIMENT

Two-thirds of the Command Either Killed in Action or Disabled.

The fighting record of the First Nebraska in the Philippine campaign is an extraordinary one. When the regiment sailed for Manila it was 1,200 strong. After two months fighting barely 100 men were left on the firing line. Mouser bullets and fever had done for the rest. A large number had been killed in battle; the rest were in the hospitals.

The First Nebraskans are expected home soon and the people of the state are preparing to give the volunteers a rousing welcome. The Omaha exposition management will set aside a whole week during which the returned heroes will be feted and lauded. The broken remnant of the crack regiment will meet with such a reception as the gallant deeds to its credit warrant.

From the first gun of the Filipino revolt the Nebraska troops were in the van of the fighting. In fact it was a shot fired by a Nebraska volunteer that precipitated the war.

Nebraskans marched triumphantly into several towns at the head of the American forces; Nebraskans precipitated the flight of the Filipinos before Malolos, driving Aguinaldo and his cabinet to San Fernando, and from San Fernando farther north; Nebraskans fought in the van of the famous battle at Calumpit, and Nebraskans were on the firing line in the skirmishes which followed the wily plan for a truce by the late General Luna.

It may be remarked in passing that the Nebraska volunteers may have found inspiration in the fact that the regiment took the name of that other regiment which was enlisted during the sixties and fought so bravely at Shiloh over 30 years ago.

Along with the memory of the First and last among its martyrs will always stand the name of Colonel John M. Stotsenberg. No more pathetic incident of the Filipino war can be recalled than the death of that brave officer while leading his regiment in a victorious charge a short distance east of Malolos on April 23, 1899.

Stotsenberg had just returned from a visit to his wife and daughter at Manila. One battalion of the regiment had been sent to the relief of a detachment of the Fourth cavalry which had been surrounded. But Major Mulford found the enemy too strong. The colonel waved his sword and rode at the head of the two remaining battalions on to the trenches. A bullet pierced his heart, and the gallant officer fell lifeless from his horse, while his regiment, yelling like mad, charged on to victory.

The two companies which have most distinguished themselves are L of Omaha and J of Lincoln. The captain of Company L, the Thurston rifles, is Wallace C. Taylor, son of the collector of the port of Omaha, Cadet Taylor, who has been prominent in Nebraska for years. Taylor has recently been promoted to the rank of major for gallantry.

It was in the advance on Malolos that "Buck" Taylor outdid all his former achievements, which have not been small. His company, the Thurston rifles, was detailed to take a trench held by 100 Filipinos, whose sharpshooters were picking off our men in a fatalizing way. The rifles numbered about 40 at that time, and they tore away after Taylor like a lot of demons. They were on the trenches, and still the insurgents stuck to their position.

With guns for clubs, a hand to hand battle followed. "Buck" and his younger brother, Sergeant Herbert B. Taylor, fought side by side, each clubbing his man. When the fight was over, 70 dead Filipinos lay around the trenches, and nine of the rifles were wounded, some dying later. Captain Taylor was shot through the arm. He was taken to the hospital, where the surgeons fixed him up, so that a week or two later he resumed his command.

All of the killed in the regiment were unmarried men, and almost the entire roster is of men whose only ties at home are those of sweetheart and mother. The married men were nearly all sent home when the regiments were reduced to the minimum.

Scrofula is the most obstinate of blood troubles, and is often the result of an inherited taint in the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Scrofula; it forces out every trace of the disease, and cures the worst cases.

My son, Charlie, was afflicted from infancy with Scrofula, and he suffered so that it was impossible to dress him for three years. His head and body were a mass of sores, and his eyesight also became affected. No treatment was spared that we thought would relieve him, but he grew worse. I had almost despaired of his ever being cured, when by the advice of a friend we gave him S. S. S. (Swift's Specific). A decided improvement was the result, and after he had taken a dozen bottles, no one who knew of his former dreadful condition would have recognized him. All the sores on his body have healed, his skin is perfectly clear and smooth, and he has been restored to perfect health.

BASS WORKS GET AN ORDER FOR AN ENGINE.

TO BE PART OF AN ICE PLANT.

WILL BE FIRST AMERICAN ENGINE IN ISLANDS.

AMERICAN VEHICLES ABROAD.

EUROPEANS LIKE THEM BETTER THAN THEIR OWN.

The Bass Foundry and Machine company will soon have one of its engines in operation in Manila. The order for the machine came yesterday from the Fred W. Wolf company, of Chicago, which has the contract of installing a large ice plant in the Philippine metropolis. The engine will be a 200-horse power Corliss compound, arranged tandem, with all of the late improvements. It will be the first stationary engine of any importance shipped to Manila from America. The Bass company is also engaged in building a large engine for service in Honolulu, Hawaii Islands, and has under consideration propositions to equip steam plants in Cuba. The Bass engine is fast becoming as popular in foreign countries as is now the Bass car wheel, which can be found in almost every civilized quarter of the globe. Recently 800 of these wheels were shipped to Egypt and are probably now running across the great Sahara desert.

LIKE FORT WAYNE BEST.

There is not a city in this country superior to Fort Wayne as a home for mechanics. This statement is proven by the invariable return of men who leave the city with the intention of never coming back to reside. The latest evidence of this character is to be found in the return of Frank O'Brien and George Slater, who this morning took positions in the Pittsburgh machine shop. The former had been absent from the city five years, working during that time in Dennison, Ohio, and Garrett, Ind., and the latter left here three or four months ago to take a position in the Pennsylvania shops at Altoona. Neither was satisfied with his situation away from Fort Wayne and both return with the determination to remain here permanently.

BIG EXCURSION BUSINESS.

Yesterday the Pennsylvania company carried into Delphos over 1,000 excursionists and into Upper Sandusky over 700 excursionists. Each of these cities had old-fashioned Fourth of July celebrations and the attendance at each was simply immense. The railway company was compelled to put on special trains to carry the excursionists home last night.

LOTS OF ABSENTEES.

The absentee lists at the Pittsburgh shops contained a number of new names this morning. As no particular report was made as to the cause of absence, it is presumed that the men were so exhausted by the observances of the holiday that they were unable to report for duty. Following are some of the names: B. Volz, H. Burlage, A. Burchard, J. Junk, Richard Thiele, J. E. Clark, D. Collins, E. McLaughlin and H. Roembke.

MACHINIST INJURED.

L. R. Buckwalter, one of the oldest machinists in term of service in the Pittsburgh shops, is absent from that establishment today. Yesterday Mr. Buckwalter went to the ball game and a foul ball smashed his glasses and blackened one of his eyes. Some of the fragments of the glass were driven in the flesh, making painful wounds, also. Mr. Buckwalter's injuries are not serious, but are sufficient to keep him from work a few days.

AMERICA LEADS.

There are seventy or more factories, capitalized at $400,000,000, now building automobiles in this country. Indications are that the automobile industry is likely to eclipse in magnitude any line America has ever gone into. The vehicles manufactured in the United States are superior to those made in European countries and as a consequence automobiles are being built here for use abroad. A French firm recently placed several orders with leading American manufacturers, indicating that the French appreciate the superiority of the American automobile. The greatest field for the sale of horseless vehicles at present is Europe. Concerning this matter a gentleman who represents an American firm engaged in building automobiles writes from New York to the Pittsburgh Dispatch as follows: "The company of which I am a member and which was formed for the purpose of selling and renting automobiles in Europe, has investigated all patterns of vehicles in the three countries where the use of the wagons has attained its greatest proportions. The American vehicles are built as well as those built in France or England, and at considerable less cost. In some minor details French carriages are preferable; in other ways the American is superior. Consequently, I am placing all orders for vehicles in this country. In this country the leisure class and the number of people who can afford a self-propelling vehicle is not so large in proportion to the population as in Europe. It is a common thing there for owners of automobiles to use them constantly for touring. The roads here, except in the neighborhood of the large cities, are not so well adapted to this form of recreation as those abroad. Electricity, while in some respects preferable as a motive power, has the disadvantage that charging stations are required at intervals of twenty or thirty miles. Besides, an electric vehicle must be much heavier, because of the weight of the battery, which is generally over 1,000 pounds. The carriages propelled by steam or gasoline motors are much lighter and less expensive. The kind building for us will sell for about $500."

NEW WAGE SCHEDULE.

General Supt. H. L. Magee, of the Wabash, has issued a new schedule of wages for the trainmen and engine-men employed on the road. It took effect July 1st and does not materially differ from the schedule in effect during the past fiscal year. The most noticeable change is in the wages of the engine-men, which has been increased slightly. The new schedule is as follows, figured upon a mileage basis:

Conductors, 2.90 cents; formerly 2.85 cents.

Brakemen, 1.95 cents; formerly 1.85 cents.

Engineers, 3.35 cents; formerly 3.25 cents.

Firemen, 1.90 cents; formerly 1.85 cents.

Engineers in switching service at Fort Wayne receive twenty-three cents per hour and firemen fourteen cents per hour.

In the local freight service, conductors, $3.20 to $3.50; brakemen, $2.15 to $2.35; engineers, $4.25 to $4.50; firemen, $2.40 to $2.60 per trip.

For overtime engineers get thirty-five cents; conductors, thirty-two cents; firemen, twenty cents, and brakemen, twenty-one cents. Twelve hours is considered a day's work when men are paid by the day.

ENDEAVOR BUSINESS.

The travel to Detroit today is much greater than anticipated. Up to noon today sixty tickets had been sold by the Wabash at this point and the bulk of the business is yet to come. Tickets will be on sale all of tomorrow. The Christian Endeavor is holding a five days' convention in Detroit.

GOES TO GRAND TRUNK.

Byron A. Strong, a machinist, resigned at the Wabash shops this morning. He is going to Detroit to accept service with the Grand Trunk. It is understood that Mr. Strong has been offered a good position up there. He is a first-class workman and a good fellow and his shopmates here regret his removal.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Master Mechanic G. S. McKee went to Detroit this morning on railway business.

J. McCarthy and J. Gans, who were sick, resumed work this morning in the Pittsburgh shops.

Today the employees of the electric works received pay for services rendered the last half of June.

James E. Quinn, who suffered a severe sprain of the back a month ago, resumed his place in the Pittsburgh shop this morning.

Edward Tigges, a machinist, has resumed his place in the Wabash shops after an absence of six weeks on account of rheumatism.

Frank Fox, assistant roundhouse foreman of the Pittsburgh, is kept from his work by the serious condition of his mother, who is sick.

Frank Kelley, formerly clerk at the Harmon house, has entered the employ of the Wabash company as an apprentice in the machine shop.

William Brossard and Charles Traub are again at work in the Pittsburgh blacksmith shop. The former was sick five weeks and the latter was injured a few days ago.

H. K. Bates, master mechanic of the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis, who retired on Saturday, had been with the road twenty-nine years, dating from its construction.

Mr. Dunbar, chief clerk of the auditing department of the Pennsylvania company, is spending his summer vacation at Winona Lake. He spent a few hours in this city this morning.

Fred Wilson, formerly of the electric works, is visiting friends at Van Wert. Fred has not yet re-

burg Dispatch as follows: "The company of which I am a member and which was formed for the purpose of selling and renting automobiles in Europe, has investigated all patterns of vehicles in the three countries where the use of the wagons has attained its greatest proportions. experienced from the terrible sickness he suffered while a soldier last summer.

T. J. Hurley, John Houlihan and G. P. Beigler, Wabash machinists, have returned here. The former was at Delray and the two latter at Peru for four or five days, doing some work for the company.

Robert G. Erwin, who is to be elected president of the Plant system and the Southern Express company, is a director of the company from its beginning and is said to be a very capable railroad man.

The next event of importance at Robison park will be the annual picnic and field day of the Fort Wayne Electric Relief union next Saturday. The number of entries already made for the athletic contests indicates that there is considerable interest taken. Entries close Friday night.

It is now apparent that President A. J. Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania, will not deviate from the course followed by his predecessors—George B. Roberts and Frank Thomson—in the policy governing the business of the road. There need be no fear of a radical change in the various department officials.

The experiments made by the New York, New Haven and Hartford with electricity have demonstrated the inadequacy of that power to do the work of steam engines. Col. W. H. Stevenson, a well known railway man, states that the three-rail electric trains on that road were a disappointment to the management.

The Columbus and Hocking Valley company is placing women in charge of minor agencies and finds that they perform the work as well as the sterner sex. Miss Flora Brown has taken charge of the company's station at Monday. She will sell tickets, receive and deliver freight and attend at the telegraphic key board.

REARING TURKEYS.

An English Authority Says the American Idea Right to Start With.

Turkeys are generally considered to be the most delicate of poultry and very difficult to rear, says an English exchange, but Mr. W. B. Tegetmeier, who is a very great authority in such matters, maintains that the treatment of turkeys is generally misunderstood and that the cause of delicacy and mortality among them is generally attributed to wrong methods of rearing.

Of course the chicks are sometimes attacked by rats and other vermin, but the number of birds killed in this manner is comparatively insignificant.

The plan of rearing turkeys absolutely unprotected has been followed by Mr. Walter Gaby at Elsenham, Essex, for some years past and with the greatest success. The birds are both in plumage and in flavor, and the huge amount of meat on them is probably due to the fact that they use their wings in flying, and therefore the muscles of the breast which work the wings are properly developed. At Elsenham the turkeys are fed with the pheasants and every morning come up to the hall to receive the house scraps, with the result that they are fatter, better birds than those hatched in captivity.

Mr. Tegetmeier advised all who can do so to allow their turkeys to live in entirely natural life in the open, not shut in barnyards or even in a field near the house. Reared in the same way as pheasants they find the great part of their food for themselves, and under natural conditions they thrive far better than it is possible for them to do on ground which has been tilled, as a farmyard must be, even though an immunity of care and trouble be expended upon them.

WHEN CHICKENS THRIVE.

Some Kind of Meat as Well as Grain Must Be Fed.

Experiments by the New York agricultural experiment station show that chickens do not thrive so well on grain feeding alone as on some form of animal food. The same is true of ducks. The addition of animal nitrogen to the rations makes up for the grasshoppers and earth worms of natural poultry life. The tests demonstrated that poultry fed on animal and vegetable food gained weight and matured more rapidly than others and at a smaller cost of food. In one experiment it took the meat ration chicks 47 days to gain their first pound and 55 days to gain the second. The grain fed birds needed 61 days for their first pound and 38 days more for their second.

With the ducks the results of the tests with the contrasted rations were equally convincing. Both lots in this instance were fed with green alfalfa in addition to other foods and had plentiful supplies of sand and coarse grit. The animal meat birds soon began to develop rapidly and evenly, but the grain fed ducklings became thin and uneven in size. The latter would neglect the troughs of apparently wholesome food to chase a stray grasshopper or fly, while the meat fed ducks lay lazily and philosophically in the sun and paid no attention to bee or beetle. The meat fed ducks all lived and thrived, but one third of the others departed this life before the fifteenth week of the contrasted feeding. The survivors then were fed on the meat rations and made rapid gains, but they never overcame the disadvantage of their bad start.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Superior Eggs.

Egg raising is carried on now not only far more extensively, but far more systematically than ever before. The breeds of chickens everywhere have been improved, though more in some parts of the country than in others, and the improvement everywhere continues. There are many great chicken farms and many chicken raisers that continue themselves to special breeds. The common stock also has been improved every where more or less.

Without regard to their actual price at the moment, commercial eggs may vary in value as much as 5 cents a dozen. Handsome, large, selected, high grade eggs may be worth 5 cents a dozen more than ordinary eggs. These superior eggs may be the production of special breeds of stock, but the eggs of comparatively ordinary stock packed with care might bring half a cent or a cent more a dozen than the same eggs packed as they run. More and more egg raisers give attention to such details, nowadays, culling out eggs that are dirty or discolored and packing them by themselves to sell, though they may be as big and heavy and good as the others, at less than regular price, but more than making this good by the added price obtained for the others, due in great measure to their sightliness of appearance. More handsome eggs may be seen for sale in retail stores now than ever before.—New York Sun.

Poultry Raising Taught in College.

At the Rhode Island College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts at Kingston a special course in poultry culture began on Jan. 9 and continued for four weeks.

Nearly 40 applications for enrollment for the course were received, but, owing to limited accommodations, the class had to be kept down to about 20 in number. Several who could not take this course enrolled their names for the next one in 1900.

It is a curious fact that even poultry raising has been thought worthy of a special course in an agricultural college.—Scientific American.

Manager Frank Torreyson and his misfit gang of alleged base ball players have gone to return to Fort Wayne no more this season and for this reason the "fans" rejoice. Ten games did the "Terrors" play on the Fort Wayne grounds and every one of the games is today chalked up in the winning column for Fort Wayne. The only real first-class game of the ten was the opening game of the season when the score was 2 to 0. But they are gone and therefore let us rejoice.

The game yesterday was the easiest won of any of the season. Wolf and Reiman were pitted against each other and the curves of both were batted hard, but most of the bingles off the Grand Rapids twirler were made after chances had been made to retire the side and only two of the runs scored by Fort Wayne were earned, while the visitors were compelled to earn their runs, two of them being home run hits over the fence. The fielding of the visitors was simply awful, Bradley and Wolf being the only players who seemed to realize that they were in a ball game. Fort Wayne fielded well, none of the four errors counting in the run-getting. Hollingsworth seemed to be reincarnated and gave an exhibition of fielding at short that has not been excelled this season. He also batted in good form, as did Belden. Read this score and it is easy to determine how it happened:

New Castle, Pa., July 6.—Youngstown made it three straight from New Castle. The visitors won in the seventh, after rain caused Smith to lose control of the ball. The score: Youngstown 5 0 0 1 0 0 4 0—5

Dayton 0 0 0 0 3 0 0 1—4
Hits—Toledo, 25; Dayton, 8. Errors—Toledo, 3; Dayton, 4. Batteries—Wiltse, Arthur and Myers; Brodie, Donnelly and Reiman.

WHEELING, 11; MANSFIELD, 8.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 6.—What almost approached rioting characterized yesterday's game. In the eleventh inning the ball was batted over the fence, and it was then discovered that there was a shortage of balls. Wheeling charged the Mansfield team, or two of its members, with spitting away two balls. The visitors refused to continue the game, and got into their carriages, which were instantly surrounded by a yelling mob. A few stones were thrown, and it became necessary to call upon the sheriff to escort the team out of the park. The umpire gave the game to Mansfield, and then fled from the grounds. The score: Wheeling 14 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 13—11
Mansfield 1 0 1 0 0 1 0 3 10—8
Hits—Wheeling, 16; Mansfield, 11. Errors—Wheeling, 1; Mansfield, 9. Batteries—Pastorius and Twineham; Irwin and Belt.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Belden and Hollingsworth have on their batting clothes and will be up in the bunch of hitters within two weeks.

Bud Lally is umpiring at Wheeling and the correspondent who states that he fled from the grounds after giving yesterday's game to Mansfield is evidently "daffy." Lally never runs.

The Fort Waynes left this morning for Dayton, where they play three games. If President Power throws out the last Dayton game a double header will be played on Saturday. "Doggie" Miller made another one of his frequent home run hits over left field fence. If he keeps up the pace "Doggie" will have more home runs than all of the other Fort Wayne players put together.

"Chic" Stahl still keeps up his wonderful batting. Yesterday he lined out three singles and scored one run. He caught four flies and had one assist. Stahl is now right alongside the century mark in base hits.

In the two Fourth of July games at Toledo Beck made three home runs and Smith made two. These two players and Steve Griffin rank with the best hitters in the league and it is the batting of this trio that keeps Toledo in front.

Frank Torreyson is in Chicago and it is understood that he was to have a conference last night with Tom Loftus, manager of the Columbus team. Torreyson intends to throw down the Interstate and allow Loftus to get into Grand Rapids unless the Interstate directors head him off. He is unable to make a success in the game and seems willing to "double-cross" all the other men who have backed teams in this league. Torreyson needs watching.

societies of descendants of slaveholders to ameliorate the condition of the negro; to father many political schemes for the ushering in of the millennium by which sometimes, incidentally, my correspondents will be elected to a fat office. I have been asked to endorse the wildest of wildcat schemes to evangelize the world or to revolutionize society. We will beware of the visionary and of the political trickster, whatever moral reform he blazes on his banners, as well as of the selfish schemer who still brings his hatchet to our grindstone.

In concluding his address "Father," Clark said: "My brethren and sisters, all these things of which I have been speaking come not forth of the will of man but of God. I would, if God gives me power, pitch high the keynote of our consecration today. I would always appeal to the heroic within you. This is all the natural, legitimate outcome of the blessed Quiet Hour, which, during the past year, has so profoundly affected Christian Endeavor. This is not the ascetic's rapt vision of God that leads to folded hands and a contemplative Nirvana. It is the vision of God that arms for conflict and victory; the vision that endows and inspires the most prosaic business; the vision that sends us about doing good; the vision that carries us to sick chambers, to prison doors, to the haunt of poverty and squalor and vice and wretchedness. It is the vision that nerves to sacrifice and heroism."

Ten minutes of meditation and prayer followed the president's address. With bowed heads and closed eyes the great congregation sang softly old familiar hymns, alternating with prayers, led by Rev. Dr. Floyd W. Tomkins, of Philadelphia. A moment of silent prayer followed, closing with congregational recitation of the Lord's Prayer.

The convention sermon was eloquently preached by Rev. Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, of Chicago, from the text, "And an inscription was written and placed upon the cross, saying in letters of Greek and Hebrew and Latin, 'This is the king of the Jews.'"—St. Mark, 20:14.

Dr. Gunsaulus dwelt upon the significance of the fact that Pontius Pilate considered it necessary at the time of the crucifixion to inscribe the title of Christ in three languages. "We must exalt day by day and hour by hour," said he, "this Christ, this King of Kings and Lord of Lords, who dragged the Greek, pulled the Roman and compelled the Hebrew to write upon His cross, whether it was irony or sober fact, that He was king of the Jews. The Greek language is the language of intellect, the Hebrew is the language of the human heart, the Roman is the language of the human will. Superlative intelligence, profound emotion, resistless will—a combination of all these is necessary to express with any degree of adequacy the great fact of the atonement.

"Some of you in this audience are Romans, some are Greeks, but most of you have more of the Hebrew in your natures, more of the human heart and human emotion. It is the hour for the Christian Endeavor society to take the language of the Roman, the language of the Greek and the language of the Hebrew and write, in the name of intellect, the name of resistless will and the name of humanity, 'This is our King—the King of kings and Lord of lords.'"

"Man's imperialism and God's imperialism is not only a strong arm and a powder-cart, but it is right thinking and Christian living, making for the advancement of civilization."

Dr. Clark appointed as members of the committee to whom shall be referred all matters of business and resolutions, Secretary John Willis Baer, C. B. Holbridge, of Illinois, and Rev. Dr. Dixon, of Gault, Ont.

The afternoon was devoted to denominational rallies and to conferences upon lines of work auxiliary to Christian Endeavor. A Bible study conference was led by Prof. W. G. Moorehead, D. D., of Xenia, Ohio. A conference of Christian Endeavor personal workers was conducted by H. B. Gibboud. A numerously attended conference for junior Christian Endeavor society workers and superintendents was held under the leadership of Miss Kate H. Haus, of St. Louis, Mo.

More than thirty denominational rallies were held in as many churches and addressed by many leaders, ministerial and lay, upon a great variety of topics.

FORMAL OPENING.

Crowds surged about the great tent "Endeavor" last night when the doors were opened for the formal beginning of the Christian Endeavor convention. A tremendous struggle ensued. When it was over and every one of the 10,000 seats was filled there were still many thousands of persons on the outside. Promptly at 7:30 o'clock the chorus, "The Son of God Goes Out to War," swelled out from 10,000 throats, and the convention had begun. "It is the greatest first meeting I have ever attended," Secretary Baer remarked at its close. The foreign delegates wore costumes of the countries from which they came and the scene on the platform was novel and interesting. Cheers went up after every song and the enthusiasm was intense. President Clark's greeting was inspiring. The immense audience fairly rose at him and waved handkerchiefs for five minutes.

Besides the song service and "Father" Clark's address, there were words of welcome from W. B. Strong, chairman of the committee of '99; from Rev. Charles B. Newman, for the Detroit pastors, and from Mayor William C. Maybury. Responses were made by men from Canada, Great Britain, the United States, Australia, China, Turkey, Japan, India and Mexico. Then came an informal reception, at which the officers of the United Society of Christian Endeavor and those of the speakers who have arrived met the delegates.

ing the books. Of this money $16,000 was paid to the Hamilton bank, and the rest deposited in the White bank. Think there was no money on hands when that was borrowed."

Miss Hiron's stated that Mr. Harding was at the offices nearly all the time except when out examining land. Mr. Porter was at the office nearly every day, but occasionally went to his farm to work. Mr. Antrop was in the offices two or three times a week. Linden and Valentine did not come in regularly.

Regarding the property statements made by the company, the witness stated they were usually dictated by Mr. Schell. They were not often required by those from whom money was borrowed. The Cleveland bank had one; did not know who else had one.

On cross examination by Mr. O'Rourke, Miss Hiron's stated that she had some stock in the company, which was given her.

"The books were complicated and not in good condition," she said. "Schell had general supervision of the office and a loan was seldom closed unless he was present. Mr. Harding drew a salary for examining farms; the others for their interest in the business. Mr. Porter had no duties in particular in the office, nor had Mr. Valentine, Mr. Gruber, Mr. Antrop or Mr. Linden. Property statements were never signed in blank. Valentine and Linden signed some blank notes; did not remember the others signing them in blank. I filled out checks for salaries, which were drawn as they were needed."

On re-directed examination Miss Hiron's stated that Linden and Valentine did not come to the city regularly, and for convenience they signed notes in blank; then when the notes were used they were signed by the others. "I often told them what the notes were for," said the witness.

"The notes and mortgages taken were in the name of J. F. Schell and not as the investment company. Schell said this was for the purpose of convenience in releasing them. They were taken in his name, but were the property of the company and the money received was used by the company in its business. Witness had told Schell the books were complicated and not properly kept. The only business there was that of the company. One or two gentlemen received dividends on their stock. I believe $50 each was paid to Messrs. Harding and Porter. Don't believe the others got anything. Schell's salary was $150 per month; do not know who fixed the salary. All his expenses on business trips were charged to his account."

Miss Frances Hiron's was called and testified that she had been a clerk in the Schell offices about three years; first property statements were taken by her from dictation, but the later statements which were furnished the Cleveland bank were made by the stenographer. Miss Hiron's is a notary, and saw the statements signed and took the acknowledgements.

MAY MAKE NEW AFFIDAVITS.

MINISTERS WILL CONTINUE TO FIGHT SUNDAY BALL.

Attorneys Assert That the Old Affidavits Are Defective and Cases Will Be Quashed.

An examination of the statutes has convinced the prosecuting attorney that the affidavits filed against the Fort Wayne and Youngstown ball players for playing base ball on Sunday are defective and it is probable that the cases will be quashed before the time set for hearing next Saturday afternoon. All forms in the statute provide that the amount of the admission fee shall be stated in the affidavit, while those sworn to by Mr. Collins state only that base ball was played on Sunday for a fee.

This morning Revs. McGaw and Cissell called on the prosecuting attorney and secured the form for a new affidavit and intimated that new affidavits would probably be filed against the players. It is understood, however, that Mr. Collins will not carry the prosecution any further and if the present affidavits are declared defective and the cases quashed he will not make new affidavits. This means that it will be necessary to have some person attend the game again next Sunday and file the affidavits then. The committee representing the Good Citizens' League assert that they will not abandon the fight against Sunday base ball until a case has been tried in court and they are positive in the statement that a conviction is certain. A game is advertised for next Sunday with New Castle.

Miss Stella Gruber, of East DeWald street, was most pleasantly surprised today by a large party of her friends. The occasion was the twelfth anniversary of her birth. At 5 o'clock ices and cake were served to the guests.

WASN'T A BEGGAR.

And the Portly Old Boy Regretted His Fate.

A portly, handsome gentleman, whose blue linen coat was flung open to the breeze, walked down Gravier street at about dusk yesterday evening. As he neared the corner of Calumet a rather rough looking customer stepped suddenly out of a doorway and touched him on the arm.

"Scuse me, sir," he said, "but—" "Not tonight," interrupted the portly gentleman, shaking him off impatiently and slightly quivering his steps. "But, say, cap'n," persisted the other, walking by his side, "I just wanted—" "I tell you I've nothing for you," snapped the pedestrian, with rising annoyance.

"But if you'll just listen a minute—" "Look here," exclaimed the gentleman in blue, halting abruptly and facing his tormentor, "you're without doubt the most impudent and persistent beggar I've ever met. If you don't stop bothering me instantly, I'll turn you over to the police. Now get out!" "You can go to blazes!" replied the shabby man, and walked back to his doorway.

The badgered citizen got as far as the corner and stopped stock still. There was a strange expression on his face. He sniffed the air two or three times and then grabbed the left lapel of his wide flung coat. It was burned off half way to the collar and smoldering merrily, evidently the result of a chance coal from some cigar.

"Great Scott! I'm on fire!" he gasped, and for ten seconds or so there was a scene of wild confusion. Several people helped, and when the conflagration was extinguished the spick and span garment was a wreck.

The shabby man watched the spectacle from the doorway and chuckled grimly. He was a gashtler who had been at work in the building.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

"What did the Kaiser's representative say?" asked one native of the Caroline islands.

"He advised us to study German." "Study German! It's a plot. I'm only a guileless savage, but I know the reason that the Kaiser demands for anything which concerns him. I wouldn't even get familiar with the German language."—Washington Star.

Novel to Some.

Miss Antiqua—No. I'm not going to Mrs. Whitelair's reception.

Miss Budd—Why not? "Oh, she always talks about old times, and that makes me tired. I don't see how you can stand her."

"But, my dear, her subject is new to most of us, you know."—New York Weekly.

Short on Prominent Citizens.

"Who are your most prominent citizens here?" inquired a northern visitor in a southern hamlet.

"We ain't got no prominent citizens," responded a native of the place. "Haven't got any?"

"Nope. We ain't never lynched nobody here yet."—Ohio State Journal.

The British Doctors Having Been Unable to See All Invalids Who Called Upon Them Before July 1st Have Extended the Time for Giving Their Services Free Till August 1st.

The staff of eminent physicians and surgeons from the British Medical Institute, who have, at the urgent solicitation of a large number of patients under their treatment in this vicinity, established a permanent branch of the Institute in this city in the Fruit House block, have decided to continue giving their services entirely free for three months, (medicine excepted,) to all invalids who call upon them for treatment between now and August 1st. These services consist not only in consultation, examination and advice, but also of all minor surgical operations.

The object in pursuing this course is to become rapidly and personally acquainted with the sick and afflicted, and under no conditions will any charge whatever be made for any services rendered for three months to all who call before August 1st. Therefore the most humble in circumstances can avail themselves of the services of these eminent physicians.

The doctors treat all forms of diseases and deformities and guarantee a cure in every case they undertake. At the first interview a thorough examination is made and, if incurable, you are frankly told so, and advised against spending your money for useless treatment.

TORNADO AT MONTPELIER.
Montpelier, Ind., July 6.—Montpelier was visited by a severe storm at noon yesterday which did a great deal of damage in the east part of the city. The cloud was white and in shape of a funnel and every place it struck it tore buildings to pieces and twisted off large trees. It struck the city near the south end of Adams street, and went directly north, passing within one block of the business portion of the city. Not much damage was done until it reached the Methodist church, when a ventilator was torn off. Many outbuildings were demolished and the roofs of houses and barns were torn off. At high street it turned over a large barn and the flying timber broke many windows in that vicinity. Chimneys were torn from many houses in the same neighborhood. Chairs were picked off a veranda at the residence of Aaron Baker, and hurled into the air for several hundred feet. The rear porch of the same residence was demolished. No one was hurt. The storm was accompanied by a heavy rain. For a strip of sixty feet wide it picked up whole shocks of wheat and carried them to the river. This was the worst whirlwind that ever passed over the city.

Deputy Sheriff Witte was successful Wednesday in locating the owner of the steers stolen by Albert Fox and pal. They are the property of John Mossman, a prominent Whitley county farmer, who is a brother of W. E. Mossman, of this city. Mr. Mossman missed three of his beef cattle, but one of them returned and he was on the hunt for the two other when informed by Deputy Witte that they were probably in Fort Wayne.

Mr. Mossman is certain that Fox stole the cattle from the field in which they were grazing as the fence was not down any place where they might have gone out. Fox refused to divulge the name of his pal, although the sheriff has used every means to make him disgorge his knowledge. While the theft was committed in Whitley county Prosecutor Doughman will probably file information against the prisoner charging him with bringing stolen property into the county. Fox has served one term in prison and if tried here the punishment will be greater than if tried in Whitley. He had a preliminary hearing this morning, and was bound over to the circuit court.

Fox has served one term in prison and if tried here the punishment will be greater than if tried in Whitley. He had a preliminary hearing this morning, and was bound over to the circuit court.

Mr. Mossman is certain that Fox stole the cattle from the field in which they were grazing as the fence was not down any place where they might have gone out. Fox refused to divulge the name of his pal, although the sheriff has used every means to make him disgorge his knowledge. While the theft was committed in Whitley county Prosecutor Doughman will probably file information against the prisoner charging him with bringing stolen property into the county. ## A GOOD FEELING

BETWEEN ADMIRALS DEWEY AND VON DIEDRICHS.

THE GERMAN CONGRATULATED
DEWEY ON PROMOTION.

DEWEY GLAD AND HE SAID SO

SENSATIONAL TALES WERE MADE BY NEWSPAPERS.

Berlin, July 5.—The Neueste Nachrichten today publishes the letters exchanged between Admirals Dewey and Von Diederichs.

The latter's letter is dated March 17 and reads:
"Sir:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of March 4 informing me your excellency has been promoted admiral. While congratulating your excellency sincerely upon this new token of recognition, I beg you to believe your good news has given me the greatest satisfaction. I have the honor to be your excellency's obedient servant. Diederichs."

Admiral Dewey replied April 16, saying:
"Dear Admiral Von Diederichs:—I wish to thank you most heartily for your cordial letter of congratulation upon my promotion. It is a great pleasure to me to feel my advancement is a source of satisfaction to you and I rejoice that our differences have been of newspaper manufacture. Hoping to have the pleasure of meeting you again before leaving this station, I am sincerely,
"Dewey."

RIOTS CONTINUE IN SPAIN.

POLICE OF BARCELONA IN CONSTANT CONFLICT.

Many Persons Injured—It is Now
Believed That Belgium Had a Narrow Escape.

Barcelona, July 5.—There was a renewal of the disorders here last night. Bands of rioters attacked the church of Santa Matrona and the Jesuit school. The police charged and the mob pelted them with stones. Later the police were reinforced by mounted gendarmes and infantry and finally scattered the mob. Many conflicts took place and many people were wounded. The theaters are closed.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

New York, July 5.—A dispatch to the Herald from Brussels says: The Belgian kingdom has escaped a very strong shake-up.

The socialists who are admirably disciplined, had purchased firearms and collected stores of every kind to fight the police, the constabulary and all representatives of authority and organized a real insurrection if M. Van Der Perceboom's bill had not been withdrawn.

The danger has subsided for the present. It is thought, however, that the special committee to which the three alternative bills have been referred will fail to agree, and that a dissolution of parliament, with an appeal to the country on the question of universal suffrage, will ensue. Should the committee agree on any bill distasteful to the socialists and liberals, an insurrection will only have been postponed a few days or weeks.

The opposition is in the greatest earnestness—ready to lose and spill blood. Meanwhile the truce is complete, and with the assistance of a down-pour of rain, Brussels is comparatively quiet tonight, although the "Marschall" and "O. Van Der Perceboom" are freely sung under umbrellas.

REV. LIVERMORE DEAD.

Melrose, Mass., July 5.—Rev. D. H. Livermore died at his home today aged eighty-one years. Dr. Livermore's life work has been mainly along the lines in which his wife, Mary A. Livermore, has become distinguished.

THE SCHELL CASES.

Referee Chapin this morning resumed the hearing of the involuntary bankruptcy cases against the former directors of the Schell Investment company. The testimony of George W. Linden, Hiram Porter and Mrs. Louis Keller was taken today, and the evidence is along the lines of former testimony taken.

SHOULD BE PRESIDENTS.

At least two Fort Wayne humes were gladdened yesterday by the arrival of baby boys who will hereafter share birthdays with Uncle Sam. A ten-pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Bliz, and another came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Romary, of 129 Erie street.

THE GLACIER AT COLOMBO.

Colombo, Ceylon, July 5.—The United States refrigerating ship Glacier, from New York May 17, has arrived here.

PINGREE'S LAW IS KILLED.

DETROIT STREET RAILWAY MEASURE KNOCKED OUT.

Michigan Supreme Court Declares the Commission to Be Unconstitutional.

Lansing, Mich., July 5.—The Michigan supreme court at noon today decided the case brought to test the validity of the McLeod law, which authorized the appointment of the Detroit Street railway commission, whose object was the purchase and municipal ownership and operation of street railways in Detroit. This decision is that the law is unconstitutional; that there is no such office as the "Detroit railway commission;" that Governor Pingree and the other commissioners have no title thereto, and that judgment of ouster must be entered against them. The Detroit plan for municipal ownership has been temporarily blocked by the legal difficulties in the way of holding a special election on the question. By today's decision, all authority is taken from the commission.

THE FOURTH IN PORTO RICO.

San Juan de Porto Rico, July 5.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The Fourth was celebrated here yesterday with great enthusiasm, the events being a military and civic parade, a barbecue, athletic sports, fireworks and patriotic speeches. Governor General Davis gave a reception which was attended by all the prominent residents. The republican party of Porto Rico, in convention here today, adopted a platform and passed a resolution to support the government in every measure tending to Americanize the island. The convention also endorsed the work done in behalf of the island by Drs. Hena and Zeno, now in New York. The celebration of independence day and the holding of the convention brought to this city from outside towns about 40,000 visitors.

COLLEGE ATHLETES SAIL.

New York, July 5.—The Yale-Harvard athletic team, which is to compete with Oxford and Cambridge, sailed today on the American liner St. Louis for England. All of the men were in excellent condition. The men were given an enthusiastic farewell at the dock and were accompanied to England by over fifty Yale and Harvard men, who go to cheer on their team. Of the team thirteen are from Harvard and nine from Yale. All the men selected were on board.

HUNTING THE OWNERS.

Deputy Sheriff Witte is in the western part of the county today trying to locate the owner of two steers which were stolen by Albert Fox, who is now locked up in jail. Fox brought the steers to the city Tuesday and tried to sell them at Eckert's packing house, but the price was too cheap and the sheriff was notified. Fox was arrested and admitted that he picked the steers up on the road-way near Arcola, and assisted by one Smith, drove them to the city. He did not know who owned the animals and Deputy Witte has been detailed to locate him.

TERRIBLE HAVOC.

TEXAS SUFFERS INCALCULABLY
FROM THE FLOODS.

SCORES OF LIVES ARE LOST

NUMBER OF DEAD MAY REACH THREE HUNDRED.

PROPERTY LOSS IS MILLIONS

WIDESPREAD DESOLATION IN VALLEY OF BRAZOS.

Houston, Texas, July 5.—A correspondent has just returned from a voyage through the flood district. The half has not been told of the havoc wrought.

The disaster is so appalling that description is not possible. After this flood will come steekens undoubtedly. What a week ago was the fairest part of Texas, is now almost a Godforsaken wilderness.

The waters of the Brazos have for six days covered its valley in a depth of from six to thirty feet; where a week ago there were on every hand fields of cotton and corn and thousands of acres of water melons and cantaloupes, to-day there is slimy mud over all the vegetation. The carcasses of cows, mules, pigs, dogs and cats and many human beings, for many are missing, are under the mud.

Our party left Bryan at sunrise yesterday going to be Navasoto bottoms and to a point about three miles from Millican. Here we encountered everywhere an overflow from the Navasoto, which spread out fully two miles on either side of the Houston & Texas Central track.

Everything is under water from two to seventeen feet. It looked on all sides like a great lake and the water was so high that for a vast area it completely submerged the telegraph and telephone poles along the line.

In truth, portions of the Navasoto bottoms are even now a lake, extending four or five miles wide at certain points. I saw hundreds of house there totally submerged and as many more were swept from their foundations and destroyed. The planters of the bottoms are still moving their help and whatever is left of their stock to places where they can be cared for. They are all nobly helping each other and taking refuge wherever they can, some of them seeking safety on house tops.

All the planters stated that the outside world has no conception of the floods or losses incurred by the destruction of crops, stocks and buildings. Nearly every planter has built boats and sent them through the flooded districts to render assistance to the people and if possible save some of their drowning stock.

The flood is a length of over 500 miles, a breadth of probably 50 miles, and in all this vast space damage incalculable has been done. The loss of life will never be fully known perhaps; the bottoms were thinly settled, mostly with negro tenant farmers. Among these has been the greatest loss of life. To show the damage done the following estimates have been made by men who are in a position to know:

Lives lost from one hundred to three hundred.
Loss to farmers, including crops as well as live stock, from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000.
Damage to railroads and country bridges and country roads, $3,000,000 to $4,000,000. These estimates are taken in the whole area. It is known the more than six people have met their death; that many bodies have been recovered. It is not believed that all of them will ever be recovered.

FLOODS IN KANSAS.

Humboldt, Kas., July 5.—The Ne-sho Valley is flooded by a twenty-four hour rain and is under six feet of water. Many fields of wheat are gone and the corn along the river will be damaged. G. Brady, a farmer, was drowned while trying to save some stock. It is feared the flood will exceed the one of 1895.

COUNCIL OF WOMEN ENDS.

London, July 5.—The sessions of the international council of women terminated today at the countess of Aberdeen's residence, at Watford, where there was a large gathering of delegates. The countess entertained the delegates at luncheon.

SOUGHT THE AMER'S LIFE.

London, July 5.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Globe says that advices have been received there from Kabul, capital of Afghanistan, that an Afghan recently discharged a rifle point blank at the amer, but missed him, the bullet lodging in the shoulder of a general standing near by. The advices also say that the amer's brother, Ishak Khun, attempted to bribe a cook to poison the amer and that when the plot was discovered Ishak fled into Russia and the cook was hanged.

BTG CONCERN INCORPORATED.

Trenton, N. J., July 5.—The Cumberland Coal and Coke company, with an authorized capital of $2,000,000, was incorporated here today. The company was organized to operate coal mines and to produce coal and coke, mainly in Tennessee. The incorporators are William T. Blessing, Cyrus O. Godfrey and Kenneth McLaren, all of Jersey City, N. J.

NEW CAPITAL IS GOING IN.

BERGHOFF BREWING COMPANY WILL ENLARGE.

Plans are maturing for largely increasing its capital stock and working capacity.

Thousands of dollars of new capital are going into the Berghoff Brewing company, and plans are well under way for additions and improvements which will make it one of the largest and strongest brewing concerns in the state. Mr. Hubert Berghoff stated to The Sentinel to-day that the new arrangement is likely to be consummated within the next sixty days.

Briefly stated, it may be said that Messrs. Thomas B. Shoaff, A. B. Trentman, Stephen and William Fleming and perhaps other new stockholders have acquired an interest in the company, and it means that the capital stock of the company will be increased to perhaps $250,000. With this added financial strength it is proposed to increase the working capacity of the brewery and fully equip it to meet the strongest competition of the country.

When asked if the plan was in any way connected with the Indianapolis proposition to combine the breweries of the state, Mr. Berghoff replied emphatically:

"No; in fact, it is just the reverse. The Berghoff company will be absolutely independent of any combine, and will be prepared to meet the strongest competition in that direction."

The Berghoff company has always been in the hands of able business men, and all the old stockholders will retain their interests. The new order of things means not only an augmentation of the financial strength of the company, but will add to it the business ability of other gentlemen who have successfully managed great enterprises. It is probable the company will be reorganized to conform to the additions now in prospect, but those interested are not yet prepared to say how extensively the plant will be improved at once. The Berghoff company may, however, be expected to broaden upon a notable scale.

ZAHN'S BOOK WITHDRAWN.

South Bend, Ind., July 5.—Within the last two days the Catholic scientific world has been startled by the rumor that Dr. Zahn, the author of "Evolution and Dogma," has withdrawn his book from circulation and that it has been placed on the index. Dr. Zahn is the first Catholic of note in America to propound evolution theories. He did not blindly follow in the path of Darwin and Spencer, but deduced results of his own from years spent in the laboratory. The book produced a profound sensation when it appeared. It was soon translated into the most important European languages. One of the last of the continental languages into which it was translated was the Italian. Dr. Zahn was made acquainted with the fact that the book was not meeting with the reception he had hoped it would and that the holy see was adverse to its further distribution.

BIG FIRE IN NEW YORK.

New York, July 5.—A six-story building at the corner of Chambers and Washington streets, was destroyed by fire today. The building, which was valued at $100,000, was occupied by Hill & Mansfield, produce merchants, W. H. Cummings, rubber merchant, the American Wood Decorating company and L. E. Barry, printer, whose joint loss is estimated at $100,000.

There was no police court this morning. Although yesterday was a holiday and everybody was enjoying it, not one arrest was made.

FOR THE CHURCH.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS ARE

A BUSINESS MEETING HELD THIS MORNING.

PRESIDENT CLARK RE-ELECTED

CONVENTION PROPER WILL BE-GIN THIS EVENING.

Detroit, Mich., July 5.—The officers of the United Society of Christian Endeavor did not arrive today in time to hold the annual business meeting of that corporation at the hour set, viz, 10 a. m., and the meeting was late in convening.

The special train from Boston was a victim of a temporary congestion of railroad traffic, caused by the large number of Christian Endeavor special trains en route to Detroit. The leaders of the Christian Endeavor movement were consequently late in arriving.

Sicities which gave promise of occasional showers greeted the thousands of Endeavor delegates who flocked into the city from every direction today, but for a July day the atmosphere was reasonably cool.

The earlier arrivals, who had traveled all night, spent most of the morning seeking their temporary homes and getting settled for the week.

Street cars and steamers carried thousands of young strangers, who enjoyed the preliminary day of the convention in seeing the points of interest in and about the City of the Straits. The convention begins tonight with a grand welcoming rally in Tent Endeavor.

Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, president; Secretary John Willis Baer and Treasurer William Shaw arrived at 10:30. At 11 o'clock Dr. Clark called to order the annual meeting of the United society in the Hotel Cadillac.

Dr. Clark addressed the members of the legal organization in part as follows:

"The past year of Christian Endeavor work has been a year of remarkable prosperity, a year signally marked by the favor of God. Christian Endeavor has now so largely occupied the field that the phenomenal growth recorded in the early years of the movement cannot be expected. Nevertheless, the growth has been very considerable and the accession of a hundred thousand to our ranks within the last twelve months is no small addition."

"I recently made a journey to the West Indies, which was full of encouragement and hope. I found in the island of Jamaica very deep and intelligent interest in the movement. In Cuba, too, I found the beginning of Christian Endeavor and a very hopeful outlook for the future."

"In other lands Christian Endeavor seems to be obtaining constantly a firmer foothold. Our British fellow Endeavorers are looking forward with great anticipation to next year's exodus to London. In Germany and France and Scandinavia the work has made very considerable advance."

"In Spain, in spite of the distraction of the war and the natural antipathy to the things American, the societies have held their own and have even increased in numbers. Russia, which a year ago was the only country without Christian Endeavor, has now been invaded by the movement and we hear of our efforts almost within the czar's household."

"Our efforts in behalf of universal peace and international arbitration have been a great success. It has received the hearty approval of many of the greatest men in Europe as well as America, and has called forth on two or three occasions telegrams and letters of approbation and gratitude from the American peace commissioners at The Hague."

"The spirit of brotherhood, of national and international fellowship; of seeking after God, and not the things which pertain to office and station, will, I believe, characterize this eighteenth national convention, and I pray God that His spirit may pervade every future gathering of Christian Endeavorers and the whole movement in all its phases and forms of work the world over."

The business before the United society was quickly transacted.

Treasurer Shaw's report showed expenditures during the fiscal year of $9,678, and $352 now in the treasury. The report of George B. Graff, of Boston, agent of the publishing department, under whose direction the Christian Endeavor World is published, showed cash on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year, June 1, 1898, $1,110; receipts during the year, $97,958; expenditures, $90,620; cash on hand, $2,439. The western office of the publishing department, located at Chicago, reported expenditures of $12,503, and $404 now in its treasury.

In accordance with the report of the nominating committee, the following were elected trustees for four years: Rev. C. I. Brown, Mount Joy, Pa.; Prof. H. E. Willcutt, Chicago; Rev. Samuel McNaughton, Boston; Rev. A. C. Crews, Toronto; Rev. Hugh K. Walker, D. D., Los Angeles, Cal.; Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., New York; Rev. George E. McManis, Steubenville, Ohio.

The foregoing were elected trustees for one year upon the reorganization of the United society a year ago.

Robert E. Speer, of New York, was elected a trustee to succeed the late Rev. J. Clement French, D. D., of Newark, N. J., and Rev. M. B. Grubb, D. D., of Philadelphia, was made an additional trustee to represent the Mennonites, which denomination has heretofore been unrepresented on the board.

The present officers of the United society were unanimously re-elected upon recommendation of the nominating committee, as follows:

President—Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark.

Secretary—John Willis Baer.

Treasurer—William Shaw.

All are of Boston.

Representatives on the board of trustees of the United society were elected from each state, territory and the provinces of Canada.

PUSHING WORK ON STREETS.

CONTRACTOR FLEMING COM-MENCED ON LEWIS STREET.

The Pavement on South Calhoun Street About Completed—Two Asphalt Streets.

The board of works, now that the contracts for all the street pavements to be constructed this summer have been awarded, are determined that the work shall be pushed and every street finished this season. S. B. Fleming, the contractor for the Lewis street pavement, this morning commenced work on the east end at Walton avenue and will hurry along so that he can finish as soon as possible. Contractor Hurley, of Hartford City, has charge of the job for Mr. Fleming.

On South Calhoun street Moellering & Co. have about all the brick down, less than half a square being yet uncompleted. The cement and sand-filler which is being used makes the street one of the best in the city, and it is believed by the board that the south side will be satisfied when the work is once accepted. It is hoped to have the street open next week, weather permitting.

The Barber Asphalt company has a contract to pave Brackenridge and Lavinia streets, and will commence work immediately, so that Fort Wayne can be abandoned for the year, as there is no chance for more asphalt streets until another year rolls around.

Before awarding the last contracts the board had information that if Metropolitan brick were used the streets would not be completed because the brick could not be furnished. Inquiry was made by Mr. Eggenmann and he was informed that the brick would be forthcoming and the board is, therefore, confident that all the street work will be completed before fall. Moellering & Co. have all the contracts and it will be necessary for them to increase their working force.

MEETING OF THE CABINET.

Washington, July 5.—The cabinet meeting that was postponed on account of yesterday's holiday was held today. The regular meeting lasted an hour and a half, although Secretary Gage and Attorney General Griggs remained with the president an hour after the other members had gone. The new military organization was discussed, along with certain administrative problems connected with Cuba and Porto Rico. The question of apportioning officers for the new regiments was taken up. The president, it is understood, wishes to fill the higher commissions in the new regiments as far as possible with tried officers of the regular service.

STONE DENIES IT.

St. Louis, July 5.—Ex-Gov. W. J. Stone today denied the report that he had been appointed to succeed Senator Jones as chairman of the democratic national committee. He says that Chairman Jones would not resign his position.

READY TO BEGIN

THE WORK OF RECRUITING THE VOLUNTEER ARMY.

COLONEL OF FIRST REGIMENT

MAJOR EDMUND LEE RICE IS APPOINTED.

TEN REGIMENTS TO BE RAISED

RECRUITING WILL ACTIVELY BEGIN AT ONCE.

Washington, July 5.—The President has appointed Major Edmund Rice, Third Infantry, Colonel of the first regiment to be organized under the law calling out volunteers.

This regiment will be known as the Twenty-sixth Infantry, the President having authorized the recruiting of ten regiments of infantry numbered from Twenty-sixth to Thirty-fifth. Active recruiting probably will begin to-morrow.

FATALITY AT PAYNE.

Payne, Ohio, July 5.—A fatal explosion occurred here yesterday at the residence of ex-Mayor Gant. Mr. and Mrs. Gant were away from home and their daughter, Cora, started the fire in the kitchen with coal oil. An explosion resulted, in which she was so badly burned that she died about 9 o'clock last evening. Two brothers, Alphas and Peter, were also burned in trying to save their sister and the home. One boy is quite badly burned.

CHILD SCALDED.

Freddie, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paul, of 109 Wall street, stumbled and fell over a boiler of hot water at its home Monday, and the child's left arm was plunged into the water. The arm was painfully, though not seriously scalded, as the water fortunately was not at a boiling point.

WILL STRENGTHEN THE ROAD.

The county commissioners were examining the Spy Run road this morning and will immediately have the east embankment next the river strengthened by building a stone wall against it. The road has been unsafe for a long time.

STREET RAILWAY CASE.

The attorneys in the Consolidated Street railway litigation have not reached an agreement and the application for sale of the property has not been filed with Judge O'Rourke, although it is expected that the petition may go into court before the week ends.

RIVER STEAMERS STRANDED.

Evansville, Ind., July 5.—The steamers John K. Speed and State of Kansas and the tow boats Alice Brown and Smoky City are aground at Fort Perry, practically obstructing the channel. Captain Hyatt, of the Smoky City, says that unless the river raises the boats may stick there all summer.

FIREWORKS CAUSE A BLAZE.

Paris, Tenn., July 5.—A fire originating last night in Whitworth's stables spread to nearly twenty other buildings, causing a loss of about $175,000. The water supply was inadequate. Fireworks caused the blaze.

Frank Blood was run down by a south-bound car last evening near the corner of Columbia and Calhoun streets while attempting to board a Robinson park car. His right leg was broken and he was carried into the Dreier drug store where the limb was set. Later he was removed to the home of his father-in-law on Lake avenue.

Jacob Sprenger, of 13 Brock street, was the victim of a most painful accident yesterday. He lit the fuse of a dynamite fire cracker. Thinking it was a Roman candle, and was whirling it around in his hand when it exploded, carrying away the first joint of the forefinger of the right hand and severely lacerating that member. Dr. G. C. Stemen dressed his injuries.

The firemen of the central fire station were celebrating the Fourth with the rest of the people of the city and among other fireworks, they had purchased a number of sky rockets. One of these had been lighted and the fuse had apparently gone out so it was laid aside and another one was put in place. Suddenly with a roar and a cloud of flying sparks, the discarded rocket took a course across the street through the Ulmer livery stable and brought up against the fence at the other end of the building. Mr. Ulmer was sitting in the doorway of the stable and narrowly missed being hit. The horses in the stable were considerably frightened at the noise and several attempted to break away. There was no serious damage done, however.

Mr. Johnson left Fort Wayne nearly twenty-five years ago and this is his first visit to the city since that time. He learned the printer's trade in the office of the old Fort Wayne Times, owned by John W. Dawson, which was afterwards absorbed by The Sentinel.

YOU MISS ONE OF THE PLEASURES OF THE TABLE UNLESS YOU HAVE THE CRISP, Dainty

Ask your Grocer for the new food.

A famous woman in Chicago says: "I am so much in love with Grape-Nuts that I presume I often bore people telling them about the new food. You certainly will make an everlasting fortune from the sale of Grape-Nuts. The article is destined to become the best known cereal on the market."

It can hardly be called a cereal, for it is not like the common rolled wheat or rolled oats, but it is in the form of granules, ranging from the size of a pin head up to twice or three times that size.

It is thoroughly cooked at the factory, and requires no preparation whatever, but can be served instantly with hot milk or hot cream to make a hot mush, or cold cream can be poured in the side of the saucer and a very delicate crisp food is the result. Not only is the taste fascinating, but the nutritive value of the food is very great, as shown by the improved condition physically and mentally of those who used it ten days or two weeks.

NANA IN FORT WAYNE.

The beautiful painting, "Nana," the production of the celebrated Russian artist, Sachorowsky, will be placed on exhibition at the Fort Wayne club for a few days, commencing Saturday next, July 8th. The picture has been on exhibition for the past seventeen years throughout the large cities of Europe and America and has just concluded a most brilliant engagement of fifteen weeks in Cincinnati, where, during that time, over 75,000 ladies and gentlemen visited its reception. In speaking of "Nana," the Cincinnati Enquirer says: "The artist who painted 'Nana' is undoubtedly a master of his art. The figure, life size, is gracefully posed and the modeling of the head and limbs shows a learned acquaintance with the anatomy of the human body. The high relief which he has given to the figure is striking; the flesh painting is very true in hue; and the delicate transparency of the shadows and reflected lights which play on the surface of the body cannot but be admired. There is undoubtedly an exquisite flow of life in the figure from every point of view. The face especially has a life-like quality imparted to it. The large, dark blue eyes are soft and liquid and from the partly opened mouth one might almost expect that, Galton-like, there should issue some articulate sounds."

A perfect extract for the handkerchief and toilet and should at once be delicate and refreshing, stimulating and lasting. These qualities are combined in Satisfaction Bouquet. Try it.

$2.00 to Chicago and return by Pennsylvania Sunday, July 9th at 4:00 a. m. Returning leave Chicago at 8:00 p. m., or 11:30 p. m.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE.

The annual picnic of the Sons of St. George, held Tuesday on the farm of Luke Durnell, six miles west of the city, was an enjoyable affair. The cricket game was one of the most exciting features of the day's amusements. The teams were headed by William Geake, sr., and John T. Leach and the game resulted in a score of 30 to 10 in favor of the latter's men. Another especially pleasing feature, particularly for the ladies and children, was the grand piano operated by John Spice. The bus ride to and from the farm was also enjoyed by the party from this city.

RAISED OLD GLORY.

The boys at the new engine house No. 8, on Fairfield avenue, were not permitted to get away and shoot fire crackers with the rest of American humanity yesterday, but they manifested a patriotic spirit just the same. The firemen purchased a handsome flag, which was raised over the engine house with appropriate ceremonies.

It looks as though the Spanish mobs have just learned that the war is over and Spain is licked. Such riots as those at Valencia and elsewhere go to show that the Spanish government has about as much trouble as it can tackle right at home. It did not let go of those colonies a moment too soon.

Now that Secretary Alger and Governor Pingree have both denied it the general belief that there is an alliance between the two is growing rapidly.

Admiral Dewey is said to have formally accepted an invitation to open the Ohio centennial to be held at Toledo and the New York Times in announcing the fact mentions it in the headlines to the item, and also reports that there will be "other" exhibits. The headlines were probably written by the advertising man.

It is not a pleasant commentary on the patriotism of this city that no flag floated on the nation's birthday from the flagstaff in the little park which marks the site of the old fort which Gen. Anthony Wayne built when the final conquest of the savages was begun in what is now the great northwest. That place is historic ground. The flag of the republic should wave over the place every day. Some time ago The Sentinel called attention to this and urged the city government to make necessary provision for it. The matter is again urged. The expense will be but a trifle, and should have no weight. Hold Old Glory over the site of old Fort Wayne.

Sir Julian Pauncefote, British ambassador to the United States, announces that he will relinquish his diplomatic post next April. Sir Julian is a diplomat whose departure will be greatly regretted. Unlike his immediate predecessor and some other envoys sent by Great Britain to Washington, he has avoided making mistakes, his nearest approach to one being over the question of precedence at the last inauguration. He has certainly done much towards drawing the two nations closer together, and has shown himself a constant friend of the country to which he is accredited. Let us hope that his successor will possess the same virtues.

NORTHERN INDIANA NOTES.

Lin Wilkinson, who had been sentenced at Warsaw to serve a term of from two to fourteen years on conviction of forgery, escaped jail. Some friend on the outside kindly unlocked his cell for him.

At Montpelier George Neusbaumer, a wealthy farmer, was struck by a south-bound Lake Erie and Western passenger train and seriously injured. He was trying to cross the track and the engine struck the buggy, breaking it to splinters. Mr. Neusbaumer was thrown about twenty feet. The horse was not hurt.

Sunday morning Rev. Daniels, of the M. E. church at Decatur, announced that by a unanimous vote of the official board all women would be requested to remove their hats during services. The women complied with the request and hats disappeared at once, much to the glowing satisfaction of the men present.

Quite a sensation was started at Hamilton by the elopement of Delbert Ackley and Mary Houlton. Ackley is a barber whose home is at Jinksville. He was a member of company H, 157th regiment. Miss Houlton is a daughter of John Houlton, a prominent farmer living about three miles south of Hamilton, a son of the first settler of DeKalb county. Mr. Houlton has followed the runaways, but is not likely to catch them.

MONROEVILLE IS SCORCHED.

LOSS OF $2,000 FROM FOURTH OF JULY BLAZE.

William Ramsey's Residence, a Factory and Other Buildings Destroyed—Firecrackers Did It.

Two thousand dollars went up in smoke at Monroeville Tuesday afternoon, and it is presumed that the festive fire cracker is responsible for it. The fire was first discovered in a barn on the premises of Dr. Kaufman, and spread so rapidly that it could not be controlled. It quickly communicated to a barn adjoining owned by William Dickinson, then to the residence of William Ramsey, and finally to the old Redelsheimer factory, all of which were totally destroyed.

The volunteer fire department of the town worked heroically, but were unequal to the task, and a request was sent to Fort Wayne for aid. The call came at a time when the department in this city was busy with several blazes, and before attention could be given to the request the flames had burned everything in their path and were under control. The loss falls most heavily on Mr. Ramsey. The Redelsheimer mill was not used, but there was some valuable machinery in the building. The total loss will be $2,000, and the only loser who had insurance was Dr. Kaufman, who carried $200 on his barn.

HELLER WON THEM ALL.

Lee Heller carried off all the first prizes at the bicycle races at Robinson park yesterday afternoon. He has been in training for some time and was in the pink of condition for making time as his record shows. A large crowd saw the races from the grand stand and manifested great enthusiasm at the work done by the racers. Marion Black, assisted by several of the local wheelmen who acted as judges, starters and time keepers, superintended the race. The prizes for the events were all given by him. Higgins and Aldrich paced the riders on a tandem in the one mile open and Niemann and Cohan paced in the two mile open.

A summary of the races follows:
Half Mile Open—Heller, won; Weber, second; Hitchcock, third. Time, 1:35.
One Mile Open—Heller, won; Misenner, second; Weber, third. Time, 2:33 3-5.

Two Mile Open—Heller, won; Misenner, second; Hitchcock, third. Time, 5:16 2-5.

CHINA IS EMBARRASSED.

Washington, July 5.—The sudden rise in copper is responsible for extraordinary difficulties now confronting the Chinese currency system, according to the United States consul. The result has been that the cash, or subsidiary Chinese coin, is now worth much more than its token value in silver. In fact, the Chinese government is paying 1.35 taels for the copper and zinc out of which is minted the cash to make one tael in the aggregate. The consul says that in the end the present scarcity in cash will cause the issue of silver subsidiary coinage.

STRIKE ABANDONED.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 5.—The proposed strike at the Homestead plant of the Carnegie Steel company has been abandoned. At the meeting of the local lodge at Homestead last night it was decided that the present is an inopportune time to strike. The work of strengthening the organization will be continued.

WAYNE CHIEF WON THE RACE.

TOO FAST FOR RED ELGIN IN THE FREE-FOR-ALL.

A Big Crowd Saw Some Fine Racing at Centlivre Park Between Fort Wayne Horses.

The first race meeting under the auspices of the Fort Wayne Amateur association was a big success and all lovers of the harness horse were well repaid for their attendance at Centlivre park Tuesday afternoon. The best horses in the city were entered and although the drivers were amateur each one of them demonstrated that he knew something about holding the reins over a trotter or pacer. The great interest of the hundreds of people even including most of the ladies attended, was in the free-for-all for trotters and pacers. The contestants were Red Elgin, Frank J. Gruber's fast pacer; Wayne Chief, Herman Tapp's speedy trotting stallion, and Charles Lehr's fine trotting mare, Helen K. All of the horses have participated in races and the Gruber pacer has the best record, the knowing ones all selecting him to win easily. There were some, however, who had seen Wayne Chief at work for a couple of weeks and knew that he was a wonderfully improved horse, and they were not surprised when Herman Tapp, his owner, drove him to victory in two straight heats, the first in 2:25 1/2. Red Elgin was second in both heats and Helen K. third. The owners are not satisfied and later the same racers may contest when they are all in the pink of condition. Ah, Tonsley drove two winners. Anna D., owned and driven by Tom Doyle, did not win a heat in the Class C pace, but she was the contending horse each time. Summaries:

MAY SOON BE RELEASED.

Washington, July 5.—The war department has received from General Otis advice relative to the negotiations proceeding in Luzon between the Spanish commissioners and Aguinaldo looking to the release of the Spanish prisoners. General Otis in his report indicates that there is a fair prospect for these unfortunates being set free; if not all of them, then certainly a large number. It is not known whether the captives of the Yorktown crew are to be included in the prisoners to be released, but it is feared that owing to their different statuses, they will be held by the insurgents.

GOLD POURING INTO DAWSON.

San Francisco, July 5.—A special train from Seattle says: Gold dust was pouring into Dawson when the Humboldt's passengers left. They allege that on the morning of June 20 a pack train of twenty horses, each animal carrying 200 pounds of gold dust, arrived from Eldorado Creek. There were two tons of it, worth fully $1,000,000. It is said that eleven of the horses were weighted down with dust from one claim. Another Dawson party arrived today on the Dirigo. Jos. Putra and Henry Berry had jointly 700 pounds of dust. Aside from this no one man had to exceed fifty pounds. The total on the vessel was about $150,000. The City of Topeka is close behind the Dirigo with considerable treasure. Until the last.

Richard Emmons, J. Gossham and Orin W. Jackson sought to reach the Copper river section from Dawson and came near starving to death. Their Indian guide had deserted and the men were lost for ten days. Miners have reached Dawson from Porcupine river without gold. Some say they prospected all the rivers as far north as Herschel Island, in the Arctic ocean, but did not find anything. A town site has been located about twenty miles above Fort Selkirk. A copper ledge, outcroppings of which have been traced a distance of sixteen miles, has been located at Williamsport by a San Francisco syndicate.

Probably England's Oldest Soldier. The Eighteenth Hussars have lost their "old soldier", probably the oldest soldier in the British army—Sergeant Major Trump, who died exactly forty-nine years to the day after enlistment. He was 28 years of age when he enlisted as a soldier, and therefore would be 77 years old. He kept at his work until the last.

THE MARKETS.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, July 5.—Weak cables, an increase in the English and American visible supply, together with large northwest receipts, and favorable crop reports, combined to form a weaker wheat market to-day. September opened at 74½¢ compared with 75½¢ Saturday's closing price. The market sold off steadily to 74¼¢. Shorts covered in a small way but the market only rallied ¼¢ and then became dull.

Duluth and Minneapolis receipts were 1,378 cars (four days' business) against 815 last week and 187 a year ago. Local receipts were 277 cars, seven of contract grade. This was a three days' accumulation. The visible supply showed an increase of 1,270,000 bushels.

Corn opened a shade lower at 34½¢, a decline from 34½¢ to 33½¢ followed. Traders were moderate sellers. Receipts were 2,364 cars.

Oats ruled weak with other grains. An accumulation of 863 cars at Chicago during the holidays helped depress the market. September opened unchanged at 21½¢ and declined steadily to 21¼¢.

Provisions were heavy on large receipts. September pork opened 2½¢ under Saturday's at $8.55, selling down to $8.47½.

September lard opened steady at $3.20 and 2½¢.

September ribs opened unchanged at $4.00 and rallied to $4.02½.

DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 5.—Opening prices for stocks showed gains after the three days' holiday, but the taking of profits in Pennsylvania and New York Central caused some slight hesitation.

The latter stock sold off a point after a fractional rise. Brooklyn Transit rose 2½¢ on the failure of the anticipated strike to materialize.

Sugar rose a point in the railroad list. Northern Pacific and Erie first preferred were conspicuously strong, the latter rising 1½¢.

Realizations in the trunk lines caused sympathetic recessions in the general market and the downward movement was accelerated by bear aggression in a few spots.

Losses, however, in the standard group were small outside of Northwest, which lost 2 points. American smelting preferred went off 2½¢ on liquidation and profit taking put Brooklyn Transit down a point.

An improved tone soon developed through heavy purchases of sugar, which sold up 3½¢ per cent.

While the general market showed a disposition to rise the recoveries did not exceed a small fraction.

The publication of numerous traffic statements showing exceptional increases in earnings of many of the principal lines caused prices to advance sharply. The grangers and some of the southern and southwestern railroads led. The movement reached a step toward noon, owing to the firmness of call money.

Losses, however, were a mere fraction and business dwindled considerably on the down grade.

Sales of stocks to noon, 337,822 shares.

Railroad bonds were in fair request at higher prices.

The demand for the coalers was the feature of the last hour, prices in the group rising from 1 to 2½¢.

Tennessee coal rose a point and Atchafalaya preferred advanced above 60. Under cover of the strength there was some realizing in the specialties and grangers. New York Central and Pennsylvania receded to the lowest.

The market took the realizing well and buying orders at the lower level checked the decline. The closing was quiet and firm and showed mixed net changes.

GREAT SHIP TUNNEL.

STARTLING SCHEME FOR UNITING TWO OCEANS.

German Engineering Expert Proposes to Build a Canal Across the Isthmus Between North and South America—Aisle Through a Mountain.

G. A. Karwiese, the German engineering expert, who was consulting engineer in the construction of the Suez Canal, now proposes to build a still more remarkable ship canal across the Isthmus between North and South America.

His plan is to tunnel through a mountain range. By this plan full-sized ships with masts reaching up 180 feet high could sail right through the mountain range four abreast. The object of such a tremendous and unheard-of undertaking as this is to unite the shortest possible cut through the Isthmus connecting North and South America. Some time ago this plan of Mr. Karwiese was submitted to Admiral Walker, of the Nicaragua Canal Commission. The proposed Nicaragua Canal which the United States Government has had repeated surveys made for will have to be 160 miles long. Karwiese's proposed canal would be but eleven miles long. Only one and two-thirds miles of this would be a tunnel through the mountain. The other nine miles would be shallowly the enlarging of existing waterways leading to the Atlantic and Pacific.

The interior of the ship tunnel could be lighted by electricity, and motor energy supplied by electrical power transformed from the tides by machines especially constructed for that purpose. Such a machine already exists and has been patented by William Bowman, of Norfolk, N. Y.

A single lock at each terminus of canal construction would absolutely control the water level between the two oceans. These locks would, of course, be necessary to prevent a flood tide on one side of the Isthmus from rushing through the artificial opening between the continents. By this method navigation through the Isthmus in still water and on ocean level would be practically possible. No other plan ever suggested provides for an ocean level canal.

Engineer Karwiese claims that such a canal could be built in two years for $18,000,000. The lowest estimate for the Nicaragua Canal is $188,000,000 and five years' time for construction.

So great an undertaking as boring a hole through a mountain range big enough for ships to sail through would seem impossible, were it suggested by any lesser authority than Mr. Karwiese.

Mr. Karwiese was consulting engineer in the designing and building of the canal through the Isthmus of Suez, and for a short time was engaged with Dr. Lesseps in Panama. Almost at the start he became convinced that the Panama route would ultimately be abandoned, and says upon investigation he found that the existing Isthmian surveys were inaccurate and in many instances merely a matter of guesswork.

Accordingly, in 1891 he began a systematic survey of the whole Isthmus, which he has completed, and is now possessed of maps, soundings and other records, all convincing facts. He is, of course, familiar with the Nicaragua region, and condemns the course there with objections similar to those actually encountered in Panama.

The proposed new route involves some features altogether novel in canal building, but it is claimed to be not only shorter, cheaper and far more practical than any, but cheaper and far more practical than any other course ever suggested. Mr. Karwiese's experience in canal building and fame as an expert, usually his consideration by the United States Government. It is probable that Mr. Karwiese will accompany on his surveys the Isthmian Canal Commission recently appointed by the President to investigate all routes, and will personally go over the ground of his work with the officers of the Government.

According to surveys and estimates furnished by Mr. Karwiese, a ship tunnel cannot be completed through the lower Isthmus of Panama, between the Gulf of Darien and the bed of the San Juan River. This region is known as the Apiti Valley, and is crossed diagonally by the Cordillera range of mountains, which extends throughout the length of the Isthmus, connecting the Andes of South America with the Rocky Mountain system of the Northern continent.

At their point of intersection with the Apiti Valley the Cordillera are steep and high and almost solid rock. Mr. Karwiese is ready to demonstrate to the Canal Commission the practicality of cutting through this rock, not a canyon, but a tunnel, 180 feet high, with 58 feet added for depth of water.

This inter-oceanic ship tunnel would be 8,888 feet, or approximately, one and two-thirds miles long, and wide enough to allow four ships to pass abreast.

No such stupendous engineering feat has ever been attempted since the beginning of the world, but Mr. Karwiese is ready to undertake it; and there are many expert engineers who have long considered that the execution of such a project at a favorable point was entirely feasible and would furnish the most satisfactory solution of the whole inter-oceanic problem.

Lazy Gambling. The latest man in Atlanta has been discovered. There can be no doubt of it. He himself admits the corn. By occupation he is a clerk in a wholesale grocery store, and by natural predilection a sport.

Some days ago he invented a brand-new gambling scheme that beats anything yet. He places two tiny mounds of sugar on a box, both of the same size, then he proceeds to wager any friend who chances to drop in that the flies will eat up one mound before the other.

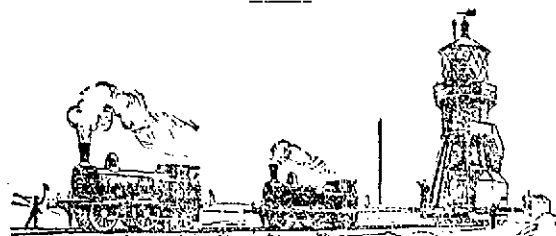

"No, there's not much profit in it," said he. "You can't tell which pile will be consumed first. I'm not personally acquainted with the sugar-eating propensities of the flies, and if I were I never know which flies were going to light on my pile. All sugar looks alike to flies. But the game is fun, and real exciting when they begin the home stretch. And then the flies do all the work, and do it so cheerfully."

And he yawned and sighed as a customer asked him the price of flour—Atlanta Constitution.

Private Property. According to a decision of the Court of Errors and Appeals of New Jersey, property owners need not permit telephone poles, telephone poles and electric light poles to be placed on the highways in front of their property without due compensation. Corporations cannot set their poles in the night time or at any other time when they can take property owners unaware and thus secure a right of way. They must agree with the property owners as to the rate of compensation, or, if they cannot agree, they must go to court and have the issue adjudicated there.

Frog Skin Leather. A little while ago an ingenious tanner produced some pretty leather made of frog skin. In some instances, as in the market and the leather and the frog skin, he managed to retain very nearly the natural color. But frog skin is the latest introduction, and while it is the thinnest of all known leathers it is at the same time the toughest.

ENGLISH LIGHTHOUSE WHICH IS OFTEN MOVED.

Owing to the encroachments of the sea, the Lighthouse between Yarmouth and Harwich, England, is slowly disappearing. So alarming has this encroachment grown in the neighborhood mentioned that it has been found necessary to remove bodily the Lowestoft Lighthouse 250 feet farther inland. As illustrating the rapid terrors which the sea is making at this place, it may be mentioned that this is the third time the lighthouse has had to be removed farther back.

The former lighthouse, together with a number of cottages which it formed, is now mostly under water. As the lighthouse weighs 120 tons, the undertaking is one of considerable difficulty. The light was frequently quite surrounded by water, impeding the keepers within. So great had the encroachment and, sometimes, positive danger grown that the Trinity Trustees finally decided to remove the structure on this date.

The low light was originally a frame of woodwork, and was shifted from the shore to the beach in 1832, being superseded by the present more substantial structure in 1834. It was paddled with the High Light, which is situated on the cliff above. By keeping the two lights in a direct line ships are enabled to pass in safety through the Stamford channel, which is about a quarter of a mile broad and lies between the Home and Barnard Sands.

No such stupendous engineering feat has ever been attempted since the beginning of the world, but Mr. Karwiese is ready to undertake it; and there are many expert engineers who have long considered that the execution of such a project at a favorable point was entirely feasible and would furnish the most satisfactory solution of the whole inter-oceanic problem.

Lazy Gambling. The latest man in Atlanta has been discovered. There can be no doubt of it. He himself admits the corn. By occupation he is a clerk in a wholesale grocery store, and by natural predilection a sport.

Some days ago he invented a brand-new gambling scheme that beats anything yet. He places two tiny mounds of sugar on a box, both of the same size, then he proceeds to wager any friend who chances to drop in that the flies will eat up one mound before the other.

"No, there's not much profit in it," said he. "You can't tell which pile will be consumed first. I'm not personally acquainted with the sugar-eating propensities of the flies, and if I were I never know which flies were going to light on my pile. All sugar looks alike to flies. But the game is fun, and real exciting when they begin the home stretch. And then the flies do all the work, and do it so cheerfully."

And he yawned and sighed as a customer asked him the price of flour—Atlanta Constitution.

Private Property. According to a decision of the Court of Errors and Appeals of New Jersey, property owners need not permit telephone poles, telephone poles and electric light poles to be placed on the highways in front of their property without due compensation. Corporations cannot set their poles in the night time or at any other time when they can take property owners unaware and thus secure a right of way. They must agree with the property owners as to the rate of compensation, or, if they cannot agree, they must go to court and have the issue adjudicated there.

Frog Skin Leather. A little while ago an ingenious tanner produced some pretty leather made of frog skin. In some instances, as in the market and the leather and the frog skin, he managed to retain very nearly the natural color. But frog skin is the latest introduction, and while it is the thinnest of all known leathers it is at the same time the toughest.

Feeding Bottles in Greek Days. Those who believe that feeding bottles for babies are the result of modern civilization are out of date. The Greek nurses used to carry with them a sponge full of honey in a small net to stop the children from crying, and in the British museum are two Greek vases dating from 700 B. C. which are much like feeding bottles used by the Romans subsequently.

You can nearly always judge a man's character by what he thinks laughable.

Men with Green Hair. In the districts surrounding the copper mines of Cornwall, Cuba, Chile and other places where the ore is abundantly found, a curious sight is to be seen in the shape of men with hair that is quite green. This is not, as might be imagined, a fact, but the green results produced by the men's surroundings.

The crane, in order to secure a more marketable article, is reared in enormous furnaces, and it is some strange emanation from the smeltered copper that effects this chemical change in the hair of the miners, and turns it as green as grass. Investigations have proved that the fumes from the furnaces contain a certain quantity of arsenical matter, an acid causes the startling change, although the texture and growth of the hair suffer no injury.

MAN WHO CHASED GROVER.

"No Postoffice for Johnson, No Fish for Cleveland."

Hop Creek, in Tyringham, among the Berkshire hills, is a little trout stream that has become famous. Grover Cleveland, former President of the United States, chose to go fishing in Hop creek. Attired in brown canvas coat and trousers and an old slouch hat, the party ex-commander of the American army attempted to capture a few speckled beauties in that part of the brook which runs through Farmer Johnson's pasture. He did so in defiance of a sign which read: "No Fishing or Tramping on These Premises Will Be Allowed."

Now, when the farmers and villagers throughout most of the country are of them is sure to remark: "I say, if you hear what happened to that fat fellow Johnson on Frank Johnson's land?" And then they both chuckle until they have to beat each other on the back to keep from choking. For ex-President Cleveland was routed completely. He was chased out by a man named Johnson.

The ex-President sat on the bank of the little creek, dangling his legs comfortably over the edge, oblivious of everything but the fact that trout were biting beautifully. His revenues were interrupted by a choleric voice, yelling: "Get out of that! Stand aside now, you old fellow! I'm after ye with my gun."

Mr. Cleveland looked up. He saw a big man with a red face bearing down upon him at a lively pace. He did not stop to parley. He wasted no time in offering his card. He retreated hurriedly down to his carriage, twenty yards away.

This is how it all happened. Through his wife Mr. Cleveland is kin-folk with Richard Watson Gilder, the post-editor of the Century magazine. Mr. Gilder has a modest little cottage at Tyringham. He had invited Mr. Cleveland to come up from Princeton, N. J., on a fishing trip. The region around Tyringham is famous among sportsmen for its trout streams and quail and partridge woods.

The ex-President had accepted the poet's invitation. The two lovers of angling had selected Hop creek, the best trout stream in that section. Hop creek is a free stream for the most part, but a few farmers have put up signs of "No trespassing." Among these was Farmer Johnson. Early in the morning Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Gilder drove down from the Riverside Hotel. It was agreed that the ex-President should start on Farmer Johnson's place and work down stream to

A TORNADO'S BIRTH.

How the Big Western Twisters Come In-to Being.

Some Exploded Theories.

By Sewell Ford.

There are plenty of theories about the origin of tornadoes but none that is generally accepted. The experts do not agree and the unscientific citizen is content if he can dodge destruction. The tornado does not lend itself readily to investigation. It arrives unexpectedly, goes on its way in a brisk business like manner and shows no inclination to stick out its tongue or have its pulse felt. Even the most enthusiastic tornado investigator will abandon his pursuit and hunt the cellar when he meets a tornado face to face.

Under these conditions it is to be wondered that we really know so little about the why and wherefore of the big twisters which every year lay heavy tribute of lives and property?

But from a safe distance scientific gentlemen have watched the progress of whirling windstorms, have inspected its debris strewn path, have interviewed dazed survivors and have deduced elaborate theories. They have also collected many interesting facts about tornadoes. These gentlemen, while not boasting intimate knowledge of tornadoes, can at least claim a modicum of acquaintance.

The unscientific public has its own traditions, many of them correct and others which in the light of recent knowledge have been shown to be wholly absurd.

In the first place the terms cyclone and tornado are not synonymous, though often so used. A cyclone is a great storm attended by very high winds. It spreads over a wide area of country. A tornado is a local disturbance affecting a limited area. Cyclones are not ordinarily destructive. Tornadoes do much mischief. Tornadoes sometimes accompany cyclones and hence the confusion of the terms.

In a general way it is agreed that the evolution of a tornado begins with the meeting of large currents of hot air with similar currents of cool air under peculiar atmospheric conditions. In other words there occurs an aerial head on collision. The cold air being heavier forces the hot air to rise. As this takes place the currents assume a rotary motion. This is the storm center. The visible sign of this is the peculiar funnel shaped cloud which accompanies all tornadoes.

A popular idea is that the interior of a tornado cloud is practically a vacuum. This idea is incorrect according to most meteorologists. Inside the funnel the hot air is rushing upward to escape at an unknown speed. As the outer and colder currents revolve the air within is condensed.

A most plausible theory in explanation of the wonderful lifting power of a tornado is that the density of the air within the funnel and at its base makes the air really heavier than wood and stone. Hence the latter objects float just as a cork does in the water.

Some of the many freaks of tornadoes seem to bear out this theory. It is known that the tornado carries along with it a mass of wreckage which seems to float about in the storm center. The immense velocity of the air currents, combined with the density of the air itself, makes this possible. Thus stones, planks, trees, furniture, wagons, animals and human beings are carried off and dropped when they have made the circuit of the storm cloud from the vortex to the outer rim.

Another erroneous impression is that the western states are more frequently visited by tornadoes than the eastern sections of the country. But the west has no monopoly of the twister, taking its area into account.

In a record of tornadoes kept for seven years by the weather bureau, it appears that the United States suffered from an average of 60 a year. In the course of seven years the funnel shaped cloud was seen in 30 different states.

In those seven years New York state averaged two tornadoes a year, and so did New England. Kansas and Illinois, at first glance, seemed to be the champion tornado states by this record, with Missouri a close third. Kansas and Illinois had an average of nearly seven tornadoes a year for the seven years the record was kept, while Missouri had five. But when difference in area was taken into consideration and the percentage of tornado clouds to each 10,000 square miles of territory was worked out, it did not appear that Kansas, Illinois and Missouri were entitled to so much reputation as breeders of these peculiar storms.

During the seven years the percent-

MADE A MONSTER FLAG.

Miss Mulford's Problem Is 100 Feet Long and 65 Feet Wide.

During the war with Spain Miss Josephine Mulford of Madison, N. J., began work on the largest American flag ever made. It is almost finished now, and when popular subscriptions equal to the amount of the mortgage on her mother's home have been received she will present the monster flag to the United States government.

The flag is 100 feet long and has a hoist of 65 feet. Each star measures

2 feet and 8 inches across, and on each of the 45 is embroidered the name of the state it represents with the date of the admission of the state into the Union.

The stripes are five feet wide. The hunting is of extra width and quality, having been manufactured expressly for this purpose.

Five of the stars were made in historic places in the states which they represent. Thus the Pennsylvania star was made partly in the house of Betsy Ross, where the first American flag was made; partly in the room where the first Continental congress met and partly in Independence hall. The flag contains 325,000 stitches.

SAILOR TURNS REPORTER.

From the gut deck to the sunken is quite an unusual jump for a man-of-war's man to take, but that is what Louis S. Young has done. Until a short time ago he was one of the crew of the Olympia. He was rated as a yeoman of the third class, and when he was not busy with regular sailor duties on the flagship he edited The Bounding Billow and published it at intervals with the aid of the ship's printer.

As his three years' enlistment expired on May 1 and he saw no more fighting about Yonkers Young concluded to accept an honorable discharge and leave the navy. In New York he made himself known to the editor of a great daily and was at once engaged as Dewey editor and reporter at large. His first contributions have been some interesting anecdotes about the admiral. In one of these he tells how Dewey suppressed an entire edition of The BOUNCE BLOW because it contained an article severely criticizing the Japanese.

Here are two other Dewey anecdotes from Mr. Young's pen:

"Shortly after the battle in Manila bay the admiral asked me why I didn't continue the paper. I told him we didn't have any paper to print on."

"Why," he said, "there's lots of it on shore."

"That afternoon a couple of the boys went ashore at Cavite and took all the blank paper in sight from the government buildings and offices, and our war home, contributing the account of our glorious victory and the Spanish defeat was printed on captured paper of the defeated Japs."

"One day after the publication of this paper Dewey sent for me. Young," said he, "you don't say very much about me in this issue. Look here; only ten lines."

"Well, admiral, I said, 'the big papers are saying everything they can think of, and my little paper would never hold all I'd have to say on the subject and you fall in line.'"

"Get out of here," he shouted. "You little scoundrel, get out of here!"

"And I got."

BIGGEST AMERICAN BATTLESHIP.

Now Being Built by the Man Who Made the Oregon.

By Lieutenant H. R. Cahan.

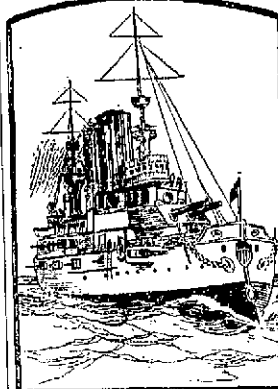

In the same yard where the Oregon was built there was laid the other day the keel for a new battleship which will be the biggest ever constructed for the United States navy. When she is christened, some two years hence, she will be named the Ohio. She will have a length of 288 feet on the water line, which will make her 40 feet longer than the Oregon and 20 feet longer than the Iowa, today the biggest of Uncle Sam's fighting ships.

The new Ohio will cost about $2,000,000. She is being built at the Union Iron works in San Francisco, of which establishment Irving M. Scott is the head. Mr. Scott is probably the most famous builder of warships in the world, the performance of the Oregon having given him this distinction.

Many of the same machinists who helped build the Oregon are at work on the new naval monster. She will not only be built just as honestly as was the Oregon but she will be faster and more formidable in many ways, as well as bigger.

With her 388 feet of water line the Ohio will have a midship width of 72 feet 5 inches, a displacement of 12,500 tons and a speed of 18 knots an hour. The Oregon's beam is 68 feet 3 inches and her displacement 10,231 tons. The Ohio will be able to carry 2,000 tons of coal in her bunkers.

Just what the actual speed of the new battleship will be no man can say, but if the record of the Oregon is taken into account it may safely be predicted that she will be the swiftest warship of her size and class afloat. The Oregon was built for a 15 knot ship, but on her trial, over a 62 knot course she went at an average speed of nearly 17 knots.

In her long race around Cape Horn during the war she made a record which will not soon be beaten by a battleship, and she turned up in Cuban waters in time to chase and overhaul Cervera's 20 knot flagship. A few months after she was sent clear around the world, and when she entered Manila bay she was still ready for duty.

The Ohio may never be given such severe tests as these, but Uncle Sam's naval experts expect that if she should be found just as ready to meet them as was the Oregon.

The bluejackets in the navy are much interested in the building of this new battleship. Here is a conversation on the subject which I overheard at the Mare Island navy yard the other day:

"Bigger than the Iowa," exclaimed one man-of-war's man. "I should say she would be. Why, mate, you could put the Iowa inside of this new one; and hang the New York from her port davits with the Baltimore swung to the starboard."

"I'd like a berth aboard of her when she's commissioned."

"If I take on again I'll have one."

The guns of the Iowa will not be as large as those of the Oregon and Iowa. Her largest rifle will be 12 inches against the 12 inch machines of the other two. She will have no 8 inch guns at all, as have the others, but her secondary battery will include sixteen 6 inch rifles. It is estimated that the smaller caliber will be more effective with smokeless powder, which is to be used exclusively in the navy of the future.

The main armor belt extends from the bow to the after turret. Amidships the steel is 12 inches thick at the top and 8 1/2 inches thick at the bottom. This thickness extends from the after to the forward turret, then tapers gradually to 4 inches at the stem. The whole side, amidships, is protected by 5 1/2 inch armor. The turrets are 12 inches thick in front.

The Ohio's engines will be of the latest design, with all the modern improvements in machinery. There will be 12 Thornycroft water tube boilers, the first of the kind to be put in any war vessel built on this coast. Scotch boilers were used in the other craft. The Ohio will have two propellers. On account of the boilers the smokestacks will be three in number. The Ohio will have two military masts, each having two tops. The complement of the Ohio will be 418 bluejackets and a marine guard of 90 men. She will carry one flag officer, one commanding officer, 16 ward room officers, 12 junior officers and five warrant officers.

A FRENCH STATESMAN.

M. Poincare Has Had a Meteoric Career in Politics.

M. Poincare, the French statesman to whom President Loubet first turned after the fall of the Dupuy ministry and who made an earnest but unsuccessful attempt to organize a new cabinet, has been in politics barely a dozen years. Yet he is today one of the most able men in France, and his failure to reorganize the ministry reflects no discredit upon him. His rise in public affairs has been meteoric, for he is still a young man.

M. Poincare was born in Bar-le-Duc, Meuse, in 1856. He received a legal education, but in 1887 he turned from the practice of his profession to politics. He was elected a member of the chamber of deputies, where he soon attracted attention on account of his brilliant speeches. He was re-elected for several terms and in 1894 was made minister of finance in the Dupuy cabinet. Later, when Ribot became premier, M. Poincare became minister of public instruction and of the fine arts. He served as vice president of the chamber in 1896, 1897 and 1898 and was re-elected a deputy last May.

Last November M. Poincare created something of a sensation in the chamber by declaring that while he was in the Dupuy ministry he knew nothing of the Dreyfus affair except what he read in the newspapers.

BEST WOMAN SWIMMER.

The members of the Chicago Women's Athletic club are particularly fortunate. They not only have a $10,000 swimming pool, but they have for an instructor in the material art Miss Marion Liljestrope, who is the champion woman swimmer of the world. She has two gold medals, one of which attests her championship, while the other was given her by the king of King Oscar of Sweden himself at her graduation from the Royal Swimming association of Stockholm.

Miss Liljestrope is a Swede, a native of her aquatic feats. Diving backward from a height of 50 feet and turning a somersault before striking the water is just a little trick to be indulged in by her upon any casual occasion. From a height of 50 feet she goes through the same performance with a depth of only 6 1/2 feet of water to recover herself in. Indeed she has made successful dives from the same height into a sheet iron tank containing but 3 1/2 feet of water.

One of her proudest feats, however, is to be gracefully on her back, hold a Japanese parasol in one hand and fan herself with the other, while she swims.

MISS MARION LILJESTROPE propels herself forward with her feet. A still more difficult one is to make a dive with both hands and feet tied together in a hard knot, while they under water and proceed on the even tenor of her way.

Miss Liljestrope can almost say that she was born swimming. Her childhood was spent on the banks of the Weichsel, in eastern Prussia, a great lake growing country. There the river frequently overflows its banks, flooding the whole region round, so that the people are sometimes obliged to gather their flocks standing up to their necks in water. She says she cannot remember when she was not as much at home in the water as on land.

After her marriage to a Swedish officer, Miss Liljestrope became ambitious to take a degree at the Royal association and went in for the examinations. She was awarded the highest honors ever given a woman graduate.

NEBRASKA'S FIGHTING REGIMENT.

Two-thirds of the Command Either Killed in Action or Disabled.

The fighting record of the First Nebraska in the Philippine campaign is an extraordinary one. When the regiment sailed for Manila it was 1,300 strong. After two months fighting barely 300 men were left on the firing line. Malaria, bullets and fever had done for the rest. A large number had been killed in battle; the rest were in the hospitals.

After two months fighting barely 300 men were left on the firing line. Malaria, bullets and fever had done for the rest. A large number had been killed in battle; the rest were in the hospitals.

The Nebraskaans are expected home soon and the people of the state are preparing to give the volunteers a rousing welcome. The Omaha exposition management will set aside a whole week during which the returned heroes will be feted and lauded. The broken remnant of the crack regiment will meet with such a reception as the gallant deeds to its credit warrant.

From the first gun of the Filipino revolt the Nebraska troops were in the van of the fighting. In fact it was a shot fired by a Nebraska volunteer that precipitated the war.

Nebraskaans marched triumphantly into several towns at the head of the American forces; Nebraskaans precipitated the flight of the Filipinos before Malolos, driving Aguinaldo and his cabinet to San Fernando, and from San Fernando farther north; Nebraskaans fought in the van of the famous battle at Calumpit, and Nebraskaans were on the firing line in the skirmishes which followed the wily plan for a truce by the late General Luna.

It may be remarked in passing that the Nebraska volunteers may have found inspiration in the fact that the regiment took the name of that other regiment which was enlisted during the sixties and fought so bravely at Shiloh over 30 years ago.

Along with the memory of the First and last among its martyrs will al-

MAJOR WALLACE C. TAYLOR ways stand the name of Colonel John M. Stoenberg. No more pathetic incident of the Philippine war can be recalled than the death of that brave officer while leading his regiment in a victorious charge a short distance east of Malolos on April 23, 1899.

Stoenberg had just returned from a visit to his wife and daughter at Manila. One battalion of the regiment had been sent to the relief of a detachment of the Fourth cavalry which had been surrounded. But Major Mulford found the enemy too strong. The colonel waved his sword and rode at the head of the two remaining battalions on to the trenches. A bullet pierced his heart, and the gallant officer fell lifeless from his horse, while his regiment, yelling like mad, charged on to victory.

The two companies which have most distinguished themselves are L of Omaha and D of Lincoln. The captain of Company L, the Thurston rifles, is Wallace C. Taylor, son of the collector of the port of Omaha, Cadet Taylor, who has been prominent in Nebraska for years. Taylor has recently been promoted to the rank of major for gallantry.

It was in the advance on Malolos that "Buck" Taylor outdid all his former achievements, which have not been small. His company, the Thurston rifles, was detailed to take a trench held by 100 Filipinos, whose sharpshooters were picking off our men in a tantalizing way. The rifles numbered about 40 at that time, and they tore away after Taylor like a lot of demons. They were on the trenches, and still the insurgents stuck to their position.

With guns for clubs, a hand to hand battle followed. "Buck" and his younger brother, Sergeant Herbert B. Taylor, fought side by side, each clubbing his man. When the fight was over, 70 dead Filipinos lay around the trenches, and nine of the rifles were wounded, some dying later. Captain Taylor was shot through the arm. He was taken to the hospital, where the surgeons fixed him up, so that a week or two later he resumed his command.

All of the killed in the regiment were unmarried men, and almost the entire roster is of men whose only ties at home are those of sweetheart and mother. The married men were nearly all sent home when the regiments were reduced to the minimum.

Scrofula, a Vile Inheritance.

Scrofula is the most obstinate of blood troubles, and is often the result of an inherited taint in the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Scrofula; it forces out every trace of the disease, and cures the worst cases.

My son, Charlie, was afflicted from infancy with Scrofula, and he suffered so that it was impossible to dress him for three years. His head and body were a mass of sores, and his eyesight also became affected. No treatment was spared that was thought would relieve him, but he grew worse until his condition was indeed pitiable. I had almost despaired of his ever being cured, when by the advice of a friend we gave him S. S. S. (Swift's Specific). A decided improvement was the result, and after he had taken a dozen bottles, no one who knew of his former dreadful condition would have recognized him. All the sores on his body have healed, his skin is perfectly clear and smooth, and he has been restored to perfect health.

For real blood troubles it is a waste of time to expect a cure from the doctors. Blood diseases are beyond their skill. Swift's Specific.

S. S. S. The Blood

reaches all deep-seated cases which other remedies have no effect upon. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no poison, mercury, or other mineral.

GOES TO MANILA.

BASS WORKS GET AN ORDER FOR AN ENGINE.

TO BE PART OF AN ICE PLANT.

WILL BE FIRST AMERICAN ENGINE IN ISLANDS.

AMERICAN VEHICLES ABROAD.

EUROPEANS LIKE THEM BETTER THAN THEIR OWN.

The Bass Foundry and Machine company will soon have one of its engines in operation in Manila. The order for the machine came yesterday from the Fred W. Wolf company, of Chicago, which has the contract of installing a large ice plant in the Philippine metropolis. The engine will be a 200-horse power Corliss compound, arranged tandem, with all of the late improvements. It will be the first stationary engine of any importance shipped to Manila from America. The Bass engine is fast becoming as popular in foreign countries as is now the Bass car wheel, which can be found in almost every civilized quarter of the globe. Recently 800 of these wheels were shipped to Egypt and are probably now running across the great Sahara desert.

LIKE FORT WAYNE BEST.

There is not a city in this country superior to Fort Wayne as a home for mechanics. This statement is proven by the invariable return of men who leave the city with the intention of never coming back to reside. The latest evidence of this character is to be found in the return of Frank O'Brien and George Slater, who this morning took positions in the Pittsburgh machine shop. The former had been absent from the city five years, working during that time in Dennison, Ohio, and Garrett, Ind., and the latter left here three or four months ago to take a position in the Pennsylvania shops at Altoona. Neither was satisfied with his situation away from Fort Wayne and both return with the determination to remain here permanently.

BIG EXCURSION BUSINESS.

Yesterday the Pennsylvania company carried into Delphos over 1,000 excursionists and into Upper Sandusky over 700 excursionists. Each of these cities had old-fashioned Fourth of July celebrations and the attendance at each was simply immense. The railway company was compelled to put on special trains to carry the excursionists home last night.

LOTS OF ABSENTEES.

The absentee lists at the Pittsburgh shops contained a number of new names this morning. As no particular report was made as to the cause of absence, it is presumed that the men were so exhausted by the observances of the holiday that they were unable to report for duty. Following are some of the names: B. Volz, H. Burlage, A. Burchard, J. Junk, Richard Thiele, J. E. Clark, D. Collins, E. McLaughlin and H. Roembke.

MACHINIST INJURED.

L. R. Buckwalter, one of the oldest machinists in term of service in the Pittsburgh shops, is absent from that establishment today. Yesterday Mr. Buckwalter went to the ball game and a foul ball smashed his glasses and blackened one of his eyes. Some of the fragments of the glass were driven in the flesh, making painful wounds, also. Mr. Buckwalter's injuries are not serious, but are sufficient to keep him from work a few days.

AMERICA LEADS.

There are seventy or more factories, capitalized at $400,000,000, now building automobiles in this country. Indications are that the automobile industry is likely to eclipse in magnitude any line America has ever gone into. The vehicles manufactured in the United States are superior to those made in European countries and as a consequence automobiles are being built here for use abroad. A French firm recently placed several orders with leading American manufacturers, indicating that the French appreciate the superiority of the American automobile. The greatest field for the sale of horseless vehicles at present is Europe. Concerning this matter a gentleman who represents an American firm engaged in building automobiles writes from New York to the Pittsburg Dispatch as follows: "The company of which I am a member and which was formed for the purpose of selling and renting automobiles in Europe, has investigated all patterns of vehicles in the three countries where the use of the wagons has attained its greatest proportions. The American vehicles are built as well as those built in France or England, and at considerable less cost. In some minor details French carriages are preferable; in other ways the American is superior. Consequently, I am placing all orders for vehicles in this country. In this country the leisure class and the number of people who can afford a self-propelling vehicle is not so large in proportion to the population as in Europe. It is a common thing there for owners of automobiles to use them constantly for touring. The roads here, except in the neighborhood of the large cities, are not so well adapted to this form of recreation as those abroad. Electricity, while in some respects preferable as a motive power, has the disadvantage that charging stations are required at intervals of twenty or thirty miles. Besides, an electric vehicle must be much heavier, because of the weight of the battery, which is generally over 1,000 pounds. The carriages propelled by steam or gasoline motors are much lighter and less expensive. The kind building for us will sell for about $500."

NEW WAGE SCHEDULE.

General Supt. H. L. Magee, of the Wabash, has issued a new schedule of wages for the trainmen and enginemen employed on the road. It took effect July 1st and does not materially differ from the schedule in effect during the past fiscal year. The most noticeable change is in the wages of the enginemen, which has been increased slightly. The new schedule is as follows, figured upon a mileage basis:

Conductors, 2.90 cents; formerly 2.85 cents.

Brakemen, 1.95 cents; formerly 1.85 cents.

Engineers, 3.35 cents; formerly 3.25 cents.

Firemen, 1.00 cents; formerly 1.85 cents.

Engineers in switching service at Fort Wayne receive twenty-three cents per hour and firemen fourteen cents per hour.

In the local freight service, conductors, $3.20 to $3.50; brakemen, $2.15 to $2.35; engineers, $4.25 to $4.50; firemen, $2.40 to $2.60 per trip.

For overtime engineers get thirty-five cents; conductors, thirty-two cents; firemen, twenty cents, and brakemen, twenty-one cents. Twelve hours is considered a day's work when men are paid by the day.

ENDEAVOR BUSINESS.

The travel to Detroit today is much greater than anticipated. Up to noon today sixty tickets had been sold by the Wabash at this point and the bulk of the business is yet to come. Tickets will be on sale all of tomorrow. The Christian Endeavor is holding a five days' convention in Detroit.

GOES TO GRAND TRUNK.

Byron A. Strong, a machinist, resigned at the Wabash shops this morning. He is going to Detroit to accept service with the Grand Trunk. It is understood that Mr. Strong has been offered a good position up there. He is a first-class workman and a good fellow and his shopmates here regret his removal.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Master Mechanic G. S. McKee went to Detroit this morning on railway business.

J. McCarthy and J. Gans, who were sick, resumed work this morning in the Pittsburgh shops.

Today the employees of the electric works received pay for services rendered the last half of June.

James E. Quinn, who suffered a severe sprain of the back a month ago, resumed his place in the Pittsburgh shop this morning.

Edward Tigges, a machinist, has resumed his place in the Wabash shops after an absence of six weeks on account of rheumatism.

Frank Fox, assistant roundhouse foreman of the Pittsburgh, is kept from his work by the serious condition of his mother, who is sick.

Frank Kelley, formerly clerk at the Harmon house, has entered the employ of the Wabash company as an apprentice in the machine shop.

William Brossard and Charles Pittsbaugh are again at work in the Pittsburgh blacksmith shop. The former was sick five weeks and the latter was injured a few days ago.

H. K. Bates, master mechanic of the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis, who retired on Saturday, had been with the road twenty-nine years, dating from its construction.

Mr. Dunbar, chief clerk of the auditing department of the Pennsylvania company, is spending his summer vacation at Winona Lake. He spent a few hours in this city this morning.

covered from the terrible sickness he experienced while a soldier last summer.

T. J. Hurley, John Houlihan and G. P. Beigler, Wabash machinists, have returned here. The former was at Delray and the two latter at Peru for four or five days, doing some work for the company.

Robert G. Erwin, who is to be elected president of the Plant system and the Southern Express company, is forty-five years of age. He has been a director of the company from its beginning and is said to be a very capable railroad man.

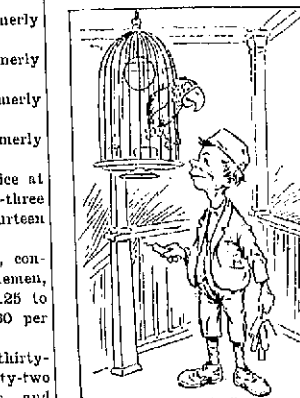

The next event of importance at Robison park will be the annual picnic and field day of the Fort Wayne Electric Relief union next Saturday. The number of entries already made for the athletic contests indicates that there is considerable interest taken. Entries close Friday night.

It is now apparent that President A. J. Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania, will not deviate from the course followed by his predecessors—George B. Roberts and Frank Thomson—in the policy governing the business of the road. There need be no fear of a radical change in the various department officials.

The experiments made by the New York, New Haven and Hartford with electricity have demonstrated the inadequacy of that power to do the work of steam engines. Col. W. H. Stevenson, a well known railway man, states that the three-rail electric trains on that road were a disappointment to the management.

The Columbus and Hocking Valley company is placing women in charge of minor agencies and finds that they perform the work as well as the sterner sex. Miss Flora Brown has taken charge of the company's station at Monday. She will sell tickets, receive and deliver freight and attend at the telegraphic key board.

REARING TURKEYS.

An English Authority Says the American Idea Right to Start With.

Turkeys are generally considered to be the most delicate of poultry and very difficult to rear, says an English exchange, but Mr. W. B. Tegenmeyer, who is a very great authority in such matters, maintains that the treatment of turkeys is generally misunderstood and that the cause of delicacy and mortality among them is generally that they are reared on the tainted ground of farmyards or in their immediate vicinity. In America, where turkeys are allowed to roam as they will and roost in trees, the hens make their own nests and generally, unless the season be exceptionally unfavorable, bring every chick to maturity.

Of course the chicks are sometimes attacked by rats and other vermin, but the number of birds killed in this manner is comparatively insignificant. The plan of rearing turkeys absolutely unprotected has been followed by Mr. Walter Gilly at Emsham, Essex, for some years past and with the greatest success. The birds excel both in plumpness and in flavor, and the huge amount of meat on them is probably due to the fact that they use their wings in flying and therefore the muscles of the breast, which work the wings, are properly developed. At Emsham the turkeys are fed with the pheasants and every morning come up to the hall to receive the house scraps, with the result that they are fatter, better birds than those fattened in captivity.

Mr. Tegenmeyer advised all who can do so to allow their turkeys to live an entirely natural life in the open, not shut in farmyards or even in a field near the house. Reared in the same way as pheasants, they find the greater part of their food for themselves, and under natural conditions they thrive far better than it is possible for them to do on ground which has become tainted, as a farmyard must be, even though an immensely rare and trouble be expended upon them.

WHEN CHICKENS THRIVE.

Some Kind of Meat as Well as Grain Must Be Fed.

Experiments by the New York agricultural experiment station show that chickens do not thrive so well on grain feeding alone as on some form of animal food. The same is true of ducks. The addition of animal nitrogen to the ration makes up for the grasshoppers and earth worms of natural poultry life. The tests demonstrated that poultry fed on animal and vegetable food gained weight and matured more rapidly than others and at a smaller cost of food. In one experiment it took the meat ration chicks 47 days to gain their first pound and 55 days to gain the second. The grain fed birds needed 61 days for their first pound and 58 days more for their second.

With the ducks the results of the tests with the concentrated rations were equally convincing. Both lots in this instance were fed with green alfalfa in addition to other foods and had plentiful supplies of sand and coarse grit. The animal meat birds soon began to develop rapidly and evenly, but the grain fed ducklings became thin and uneven in size. The latter would neglect the troughs of apparently wholesome food to chase a stray grasshopper or fly, while the meat fed ducks lay lazily and philosophically in the sun and paid no attention to lice or beetles. The meat fed ducks all lived and thrived, but one-third of the others departed this life before the fifteenth week of the concentrated feeding. The survivors then were fed on the meat rations and made rapid gains, but they never overcame the disadvantage of their bad start.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Superior Eggs.

Egg raising is carried on now not only far more extensively, but far more systematically than ever before. The breeds of chickens everywhere have been improved, though more in some parts of the country than in others, and the improvement everywhere continues. There are many great chicken farms and many chicken raisers that confine themselves to special breeds. The common stock also has been improved everywhere more or less.

Without regard to their actual price at the moment, commercial eggs may vary in value as much as 5 cents a dozen. Handsome, large, selected, high grade eggs may be worth 5 cents a dozen more than ordinary eggs. These superior eggs may be the production of special breeds of stock, but the eggs of comparatively ordinary stock packed with care might bring half a cent or a cent more a dozen than the same eggs packed as they run. More and more egg raisers give attention to such details nowadays, culling out eggs that are dirty or discolored and packing them by themselves to sell, though they may be as big and heavy and good as the others, at less than regular price, but more than making this good by the added price obtained for the others, due in great measure to their sightliness of appearance. More handsome eggs may be seen for sale in retail stores now than ever before.—New York Sun.

Poultry Raising Taught in College.

At the Rhode Island College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts at Kingston a special course in poultry culture began on Jan. 9 and continued for four weeks.

Nearly 40 applications for enrollment for the course were received, but, owing to limited accommodations, the class had to be kept down to about 20 in number. Several who could not take this course enrolled their names for the next one in 1900.

It is a curious fact that even poultry raising has been thought worthy of a special course in an agricultural college.—Scientific American.

The "lady" made several attempts to remount her wheel but was unsuccessful and her male companion failed to reappear. She sustained a severe cut in the back of the head from the fall.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

A very pretty wedding took place at 2:30 this afternoon at 21 Eliza street, the home of the bride, when Miss Eva LaMar was united in marriage to Perry Osborne, of this city. Both of the young people are well known in the city, and are highly popular among their friends. The parlors were prettily decorated with palms, carnations, ferns and daisies, and only the relatives and most intimate friends of the couple were present. The bride wore a most becoming traveling costume of tan broadcloth and carried a beautiful bride's rose in her hand. The bridesmaid, Miss Hattie LaMar, a sister of the bride, was gowned in pale blue organdie, with trimmings of blue ribbon. Rev. C. C. Gissel said the words that made them one for life, after which the guests sat down to a bridal supper served by Caterer Purcell. The happy couple received many useful and beautiful presents. They left on the afternoon train for Chicago and the upper lakes where they will spend their honeymoon and will be at home to friends after September 1st.

TWO MORE UNFORTUNATES.

Guy Longacre, a carrier boy for The Sentinel, residing at the corner of West Jefferson and Garden streets, was painfully injured last evening while firing a small cannon. The fuse did not seem to be burning and the young man stooped over to examine it. At that moment the piece was discharged and Longacre was painfully burned about the face and one eye sustained severe injury. Dr. Havice believes the sight can be saved.

George Huber, who resides on South Lafayette street, was struck in the eye by a piece of giant firecracker last evening and the missile penetrated the eyeball. The injury is a most painful one. Dr. Havice attended the unfortunate man, and says the accident is very serious.

Mr. Huber is an engineer on the Pittsburg railroad.

How'd You Like to be

..... the Iceman.

Surely any one would enjoy his job just at this time, more especially so, if all the customers on the route had one of our improved

RANNEY REFRIGERATORS.

A goodly portion of them have. And to those who are not yet so fortunate we wish to state that Ranney Refrigerators and Ice Chests are always clean and odorless. Have large ice chambers, easy of access, and readily kept in condition since they are removable. Other salient features are the adjustable shelves and self-netting spring hinges on the doors; mineral wool is used instead of charcoal in the packing; this is the greatest non-conductor known in the refrigerator construction, and always remains firmly in place, while charcoal soon crumbles and settles at the bottom, leaving the walls entirely unprotected.

We have sold this make for five seasons, and know from experience that some can be depended upon to keep all food fresh and sweet. Among other high temperature goods, we would be pleased to show you our line of Triple Motion ICE CREAM FREEZERS, which will freeze your Sherbets in one-half the time required by the ordinary freezer. We are selling the small size at $1.00.

Also WATER COOLERS in all styles, ranging in size from three to ten gallon. Call and see us.
